THE EVER-PRESENT CRITIC

A CANADIAN newspaper man has found occasion to criticize modern newspaper methods...

The university professor wants us to devote ourselves to the spread of "culture," and grows furious when we are led astray into a split infinitive or a sensational story about a vulgar murder.

The case is an illustration of that spirit of general interest and interference which is found not alone in relation to journalism, though it is conspicuous here because so many people are concerned more or less directly.

VESSEL WILL TAKE ON COAL

Norwegian Tramp Steamer Runs Short of Fuel Off Coast Today.

The Opland, a Norwegian steamer en route from old Mexico to Portland, ran short of fuel off Coos Bay today and will come in here this afternoon to take on coal for the balance of her voyage.

The vessel hailed the Nann Smith this morning and after a brief conversation, Capt. Olson sent in word for the tug Columbia to come out and bring the Opland in.

Want New Boat.

It is reported here that application has been made to the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and some of the large shipowners there to use their influence in getting a fast freight and passenger boat put on the Coos Bay-San Francisco run.

Arno Mervin, of the C. A. Smith company, was reported today to have intimated that they would be willing to put on a faster boat. When asked about the matter by The Times, Mr. Mervin said that he did not say anything of the kind.

STINGY HUSBANDS

The tightwad drives the wife and mother into the suffrage tents. Some men with anger nearly smother when asked for fifty cents. The housewife works around like blazes, and when she needs a yen, her husband springs reproachful phrases: "Great Scott! More wealth again? You'll have us in a sorry pickle—your conduct's much too fast; have you already spent the nickel I gave you Monday last? No money left, you haven't any? You need some shoestrings, Belle? Here, you may have this hard-earned penny—invest it wisely well!"

the bold uprisers, the tightwads drove them there.

IT IS EASIER FOR A SERVANT TO WASTE COAL OR WOOD THAN TO WASTE GAS. —Turning a gas burner on or off is so easy and simple that there is no incentive for wasteful methods. —With coal or wood the user of the stove must fire up in advance; sometimes it saves bother to fire up a long time in advance. —It takes less trouble to empty a scuttle by dumping than a shovelful at a time. —In the gas range any degree of heat for any purpose is obtained without labor. —It is not necessary to waste fuel heating the oven when a top burner only is required, yet baking and broiling can be done at the same time with the same set of burners. —Our co-operative payment plan enables you to distribute the cost of the range over a long period. Prices are based on actual cost. OREGON POWER CO. Telephone 178
