SENSATIONAL REPORT MADE ON SAN DIEGO I.W.W. AFFAIR

Commissioner Weinstock Announces Results of Special Investigation.

IGORES VIGILANTES FOR UNLAWFUL ACTS

Condemns Methods Used By Citizens and Business Men in Dealing With I. W. W.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 18.—

Special Harris Weinstock, the special commissioner appointed by Governor Johnson to investigate the San Diego vigilantes' fight now being waged against the Industrial Workers of the World, finds in his report, made yesterday, that the "vigilantes have been guilty of more culpable offenses than the prosecution of the Industrial Workers and recommended the prosecution of the vigilantes of San Diego, as commissioner declares the district attorney at San Diego will not do his duty.

The report, a voluminous document, indicates that while the Industrial workers of the World constitute a lawless class, growing out of European conditions and imported from Europe, the vigilantes who punished the Industrial Workers are guilty of more wrongs than they, that the use of free speech has been trampled upon and that the Industrial Workers of the World disturbances have crystallized into the growth of an anarchistic doctrine, which demands immediate and careful legislation.

Commissioner Weinstock finds in their own lips and from the literature given him by members of the Industrial Workers of the World that they teach and preach the following principles:

- 1) That workmen use any and all tactics that will get the results they desire with the least possible expenditure of time and energy.
2) Question of right or wrong is not to be considered.
3) Avenging sword is to be unsheathed with all hearts resolved on victory or death.
4) Workman is to help himself when the proper time comes.
5) No agreement with an employer of labor is to be considered by a worker as sacred or inviolable.
6) The worker is to produce inferior goods and kill time in getting them repaired and in attending to repairs—all by a silent understanding.
7) The worker is to look forward to the day when he will conquer the factories and drive out the owners.
8) The worker is to get ready to use national industrial paralysis as a view of confiscating all industries in the meantime taking forcible possession of all things he may need.
9) Strikers to disobey and treat with contempt all judicial injunctions.
10) They find they went to San Diego with the intent to break up the trades unions and deliberately disobeyed city ordinances concerning street cleaning; that the ordinance permitting street speaking within certain limits; that subsequent to the violation of the ordinance privilege of speaking was withdrawn from the Industrial Workers of the World, and the commissioner holds this was a violation of the right of free speech.
11) Commissioner finds excessive and brutal brutality was used against the workers and criticizes the police department, the vigilance committee, the various public and business organizations, the Chamber of Commerce and the newspapers of San Diego generally.
12) In one place, speaking of the alleged brutal treatment of the Industrial Workers, the commissioner tells that he has been in Russia and that during the taking of the testimony he wondered whether he were again in that country. The vigilantes, he says, "trampled upon constitutional rights of other men, proved themselves the bitter enemies of law and order."
13) At another place, speaking of the country severely denouncing I. W. W. for what they did in San Diego, the commissioner finds they used only peaceful methods to reach their extraordinary end, that although 200 of them were arrested, a pistol or weapon of any kind was not found on any one.

SAYS REPORT IS BASELESS

District Attorney Utley, of San Diego, Scores Commissioner Weinstock.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 18.—Characterizing the charges against Commissioner Weinstock as "libelous," District Attorney H. S. Utley declared today that he would hold the commissioner personally responsible.

"The statement that the district attorney of San Diego county did not do his duty absolutely is unequivocally false," declares Utley. "I know my duty, and he evidently does not know. This statement that the right of free speech was trampled upon is false, and Weinstock could have found that out if he had taken the trouble to investigate."

Utley continued that the appointment of Weinstock was an "insult to the officials who had attempted to enforce laws under intolerable conditions and which had been rendered worse by the threats of assassination, and I disregarded his official status, if he had any. The gentleman invited me to be present at his alleged investigation, which was conducted without any oath being administered and at which Weinstock received statements that my investigation and knowledge of matters referred to showed were without basis."

"To my mind the whole movement was an attempt to create political capital in favor of Governor Johnson, who was and is very much interested in advancing the candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt."

"If there has been wanton brutality by the vigilantes or others, why is it that no complaint has been made to the grand jury which has been in session for more than four months, or to me personally?"

TOM BENNETT IS ASSISTANT

He and W. U. Douglas Named As Attorneys for Receiver of Port Commission.

John D. Goss has assumed charge of the affairs of the Port of Coos Bay, qualifying as receiver under the appointment by Judge Benson. He is now getting in touch with the affairs of the former commission and when he has everything rounded into shape, will outline a policy of winding up its affairs.

He has appointed Tom Bennett, son of J. W. Bennett, and W. U. Douglas, attorneys for the receiver. He has also secured Ray Kaufman to take charge of the books of the commission and attend to the clerical duties.

At present, he has received about $12,000 of the tax money with which to carry out the old projects of the port. How much more money will be obtained, he is unable to say.

Regarding the building of the bulkhead between the State Mill and the Kinney wharf in Flat B, Mr. Goss said that L. J. Simpson had informed him this would be done. Mr. Simpson informed him that private parties would defray the expense of it. The bulkhead will be rushed to have it in readiness for the dredge Oregon.

According to reports, the Southern Pacific will pay the expense of the bulkhead as the fill which the bulkhead will permit being made will be beneficial to the railroad in building its track along the North Bend water front to Marshfield.

CONDEMNED DIVINE BREAKS DOWN

Rev. Richeson's Nerve Finally Fails Him and He Presents Pitiful Spectacle—Execution Probably Tuesday.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

BOSTON, May 18.—Deep sleep under opiates, shut out a world of anguish from the troubled mind of Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson during the early hours of today. The fortitude of the former clergyman, who awaits death by electrocution next week for the murder of Avis Linner gave way last night. The collapse came while the condemned man was alternately beseeching his counsel to have his body interred beside his mother in Virginia and hysterically raving over fancied persecution by the two guards forming the death watch. Some of those who entered the death chamber imparted the information that Richeson's father did not want the body taken to Virginia for burial. This information unnerved the condemned man and as the day wore on his nerves got more and more beyond control. Richeson was anxious to have William A. Morse, his counsel, Rev. Herbert S. Johnson, his chosen adviser, and Mr. Stebbins, prison chaplain, walk beside him to the death chair. Richeson did not eat any dinner and during the night moaned and shrieked as he lay on his cot. His arms and shoulders twitched and his face was drawn in agony. His condition became such that physicians were sent for. When one arrived, Richeson was still hysterical but apparently unconscious. Opiates were administered and he fell into a sound sleep. There will be no advance announcement of the hour of Richeson's execution. The warden can execute Richeson any day beginning next week between midnight and sunrise. It is now thought the execution will take place Tuesday morning.

Not one of the Detroit club's regular players took part in the contest. Manager Jennings was notified after his men had practiced a few minutes that they would not play as President Johnson refused their request to withdraw the suspension of Cy Cobb, who was suspended for assaulting a spectator who had abused the player.

DEMOCRATS DO NOT KNOW END

Party's Nominee for President Not Known Before Baltimore Convention.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—With more than two-thirds of the delegates to the National Convention elected, the control of the Baltimore gathering remains as much in doubt as it did several weeks ago. Claims of leads today made by the different candidates at their headquarters in Washington made it clear that none of them expect control of the convention through instructions on the first ballot, and it is believed that this condition will not be changed by the results of the conventions and primaries still to be held. The democratic convention will consist of 1094 delegates. Under the two-thirds rule applying to presidential nominations, 729 votes will be necessary for any candidate who secures the nomination. With 320 delegates still to be selected, the strength of the respective candidates as given by their headquarters today is as follows:

Clarke claimed instructed 323, and pledged 68, making a total of 391. He conceded to Wilson 89, not including South Carolina's 18, where the convention endorsed Wilson and conceded to Underwood 84, to Harmon two, to Baldwin 14, to Marshall 30, to Burke 10, and "considered doubtful 127."

Wilson claimed instructed 243, Kansas 20, to North Dakota's 10 and claimed as favorable to Wilson 30 making the total of Wilson's strength 273. He conceded to Clark 236, to Underwood 82, to Harmon 4, to Foss 36, to Baldwin 14, to Marshall 30, to Burke 10. He considered uninstructed and doubtful 138.

Underwood claimed as instructed the total delegations of Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Mississippi and six from Tennessee, making a total of 90.

At the Harmon headquarters it was said today that a statement would be made later.

FRONT STREET LOT IS SOLD

Norton & Hansen Stationery Company Purchases Home for Their Business.

The Norton & Hansen Stationery Company today closed a deal for the purchase of the property occupied by their Front Street store from John W. Butler. The price was not announced.

The property was purchased as a home for the business and to provide for the prospective development of it. The lot is 51x120 feet and is one of the most desirable pieces of property in Marshfield. Aside from the present excellent retail location, it has water frontage insuring its future enhancement.

The firm for some time has been considering the advisability of securing a permanent home for the business and today's deal brought that desire to fruition.

The Norton & Hansen company was founded twenty-six years ago by F. P. Norton as the "New Variety Store." Later Jens Hansen became identified with it and after ten years' service was taken into partnership by F. P. Norton January 1, 1906. January 1, 1908, Warner V. Ogren who started in seven years previous as a paper carrier for the firm was admitted to partnership and the three now constitute the firm which is enjoying a constantly increasing business. The many friends of the proprietors and patrons of the concern will unite in extending felicitations to them on the realization of the ambition to secure a permanent home for their business.

Brown Property Sold.

It was reported today that negotiations had been practically closed for the sale of the S. C. Brown property at the southeast corner of Third and Commercial to C. H. Marsh. Mr. Marsh is the right-of-way agent for the Southern Pacific, but it is understood that the purchase is for himself and associates and not for the railroad company.

Closing In On Main Body of Rebels Under General Orozco From All Sides.

CHIHUAHUA LIKELY TO BE LAST STAND

Communication With Interior Cities Cut Off On Both North and South.

(By Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times.)

EL PASO, Tex., May 18.—The Mexican federal government by a series of maneuvers which are expected to come to a climax in the next three days, hopes to deal a crushing blow to the insurrection movement in the north as to crush the rebel army. While General Orozco with 5000 rebels is holding strategic positions between Refugio and Jimenez, 450 miles south of here, along the Mexican Central railroad, General Huerta, having an equally strong force of federalists, is but 15 miles away, and today is pressing northward to attack the insurgents. Sharp fighting is now looked for all the way to the American border. Juarez likely will fall into the hands of the federal government again.

Communication by wire and rail south of Juarez will be served within two days by the advancing columns of federalists. Chihuahua, where there are hundreds of Americans, will be cut off from both north and south, and the federal plan to drive Orozco back into that city and force him from all directions to surrender or take to the hills. Chihuahua is likely to be the last stand of the rebels.

Slow advance of the federalists because of the burned bridges has delayed the engagement of the rival armies which was expected before this. While Orozco still is facing the federal army near Jimenez in what is expected to be the decisive battle of the revolution, it is believed he will be crippled by the unexpected appearance of the government troops from many directions.

RAILWAY NEWS OF COOS BAY

Few Developments In Situation—Revive Rumor of Smith Line East.

There were few developments in the Coos Bay railroad situation today.

It was stated that there had not been any progress in the negotiations between the Terminal Railway and the Southern Pacific about the right of way through Marshfield.

C. J. Mills, who is representing the Southern Pacific here, stated this afternoon that he would not get away tomorrow on the Nann Smith, as he expected, owing to Mrs. Mills not having recovered sufficiently to enable her to travel. He expects to leave on the Nann Smith's next trip.

Engineers Hoey, Weir and Fontaine and Contractor Twoby left this morning via Gardiner. Mr. Twoby has not definitely decided whether the Twoby Brothers will bid on the subcontracts on the last 95 miles of the Coos-Bay-Eugene line for which the MacArthur, Perks Co. has been awarded the contract. The MacArthur, Perks contract, it is stated, is for a lump sum, that is so much per mile, based on the engineers' estimates.

Rumor Smith Road.

There continues to be rumors about the possibility of the C. J. Smith companies building a line east from Coos Bay to Roseburg, although no official verification of them can be obtained.

A week or so ago, it was understood that the Smith-Powers Company and the Southern Pacific had practically reached an agreement whereby the Smith-Powers company was to build the logging road from Myrtle Point to or near Bridge and then use the local line on a wheelbasis to bring their trains of logs into Marshfield. This, however, has not materialized.

It is now understood that the Southern Pacific has been tying up these negotiations between the road and the Terminal railway, that in making the wheelbasis arrangement between here and Myrtle Point for the logging trains conditional on the Terminal railway not impeding the Southern Pacific's efforts to get the desired right of way through Marshfield. Mr. Smith, it is understood, wants the matters handled entirely separately.

It is further understood that F. A. Haines and a crew of men have been making some additional surveys for the Smith-Powers company through the railroad company.
