

IN SOCIETY

CONTRIBUTIONS concerning social happenings, intended for publication in the society department of The Times, must be submitted to the editor not later than 6 o'clock p. m., Friday of each week. (Exceptions will be allowed only in cases where events occur later than the time mentioned.)

PAPER BAG COOKERY

Have you learned to like the latest, Uncontested, up-to-datest,

Final form of fickle fashion—frying food in paper bags?

By its means the merest messes seem superlative successes.

While its bigoted believers bore their brains by blatant brags.

You will realize from reading That the process of proceeding

Is to beg a biggish bag and slickly salve its seamy side.

Chuck a chop or chicken in it For a metaphoric minute

Then produce the promised pro- vender with pardonable pride.

You can fry familiar fishes Do desserts and dainty dishes,

By preparing proper paper sacks of serviceable size.

Do your basting, baking, boiling, Braizing, brewing, or your broiling;

You can soak and simmer, steep and stew, or steam and sterilize.

While in finer fleeting flavors Or in sweet, seductive savors,

The result is rather reminiscent of a rag.

Caused by chemical condition, All the natural nutrition

Percolates the paper package. Prudent people eat the bag.

When I saw that to my sorrow I could neither beg nor borrow

Any bag whose bulk was big enough to roast a rooster raw,

I conceived a happy caper No procured a penny paper,

Wrapped him round and round and clamped the cover closely

With his claw. After rather reckless roasting

And terrific, torrid toasting, His agility assured me I had made a marked mistake; That unhealthy heat unheeding,

In his wrapper he'd been reading, And his walls of woe and want

War had worked him wide awake!

—Judge.

HOW much truth is there in the words of the poet who tells of her who exchanged her maiden gladness for a name and for a ring, says Laura Jean Libby. The woman of wealth who weds exchanges the position of petted daughter for that of humored, idolized wife, with few added cares.

It is the woman who makes her own way in the world by her own industry who should look earnestly at wedlock from every viewpoint. She has been accustomed to dress neatly and having the wherewith to treat herself to any little luxury she craved it would be only just and right to come to a clear understanding to the man she is to wed regarding the disbursement of his income after their marriage. This no man should like to discuss, declaring that it savors too much of business.

That is a wrong view of the matter on his part and should be a forewarning of future difficulties in this direction. For he is the kind of man who expects his wife to be an upper servant, as it were, doing the entire work of his house for her board and clothes. The young wedded man who would have the luxury of a home of his own knows that he must pay a capable housekeeper or maid a goodly sum if he would have her services. Why, then, should such a man grumble if his wife asked him for a modest sum to buy a new gown? The world would be shocked if it but knew how many wives of supposedly well to do men go about without the second nickel for car fare in their pockets.

PERSONAL notices of visitors in the city, or of Coos Bay people who visit in other cities, together with notices of social affairs, are gladly received in the social department. Telephone 133. Notices of club meetings will be published and secretaries are kindly requested to furnish same.

The wife does not ask money as salary or wages, but she has a right to expect a certain amount as part of the money which he promised her at the altar she would be endowed with. She does not presume that she will have to wait until he dies to have this contract carried out; but, on the contrary, that he will share with her as they go along. No matter how much a wife loves her husband, it soon becomes irksome to her to go to him for every penny she needs or to give an account to him of every cent she spends.

Even a housekeeper would resent too close an inquiry into the expenditures and consider that her judgment was competent; as to how much she should invest; that a dollar or two more than had been calculated should not be argued over.

The paid housekeeper has an advantage over the unpaid wife. She is not called upon to give up any of her earnings for sudden reverses. She can leave whenever she chooses, having no life compact on her hands. The discouragement of being penniless after working a lifetime for a husband ends in a wife's breaking down.

No man who loves his wife and can afford her a handsome income should allow her to be without it. Being a wife does not always bring its rightful reward. Most husbands mean well in this respect, but are simply thoughtless.

Mrs. Frederick E. Lee Wednesday was hostess at one of the most elaborate and delightful bridge parties of the season at her home in the O'Connell Apartments. The Lee home was converted into a veritable bower, the decoration scheme being a background of green huckleberry and ivy with pink roses and rhododendrons being used in profusion. The effect of this woodland beauty was enhanced by the softened light from a myriad of pink shaded candles. Many handsome new gowns were noticeable.

Mrs. Lee was assisted in decorating and entertaining by Mrs. Eugene O'Connell, Mrs. J. W. Bennett and Mrs. A. Ralph O'Brien. In serving, she was assisted by Mrs. R. K. Booth, Mrs. W. T. Merchant and Mrs. L. K. Ballinger and Misses Marian Horsfall and Helen Merchant were at the door.

At cards, Mrs. J. W. Bennett won first honors while the consolation went to Miss O'Brien. The prizes were handpainted china.

Among those invited were: Mesdames Wm. Horsfall, Jr., L. K. Ballinger, Herbert Lockhart, John S. Coke, J. W. Bennett, A. Ralph O'Brien, A. T. Haines, Harold S. Tower, E. K. Jones, Eugene O'Connell, Harry Nasburg, Frank G. Horton, E. E. Straw, P. A. Sandberg, Earl Downing, C. W. Tower, Colby Perry, Schuyler C. Small, D. Y. Stafford, Henry Sengstacken, R. T. Street, David Vaughan, W. T. Merchant, John T. Harrigan, J. M. Upton, Robert Kendall Booth, W. S. Nicholson, J. Albert Matson, J. H. Flanagan, Frank Parsons, Frank Hague, Charles Q. Van Duren, C. F. McKnight, W. T. McElowney, Arthur McKeown, A. B. Gidley, Cassius R. Peck, F. M. Friedberg, G. Wilson Kaufman, Eugene Paddock, G. A. Bennett, E. Mings, Francis D. Cohen, D. C. Green, E. F. Morrissey, W. F. Miller, W. A. Reid, A. H. Powers, Claud Nasburg, W. H. Kennedy, W. A. Toye, A. L. Barker, F. A. Tiedgen, A. E. Adelsperger, Esther Converse, George F. Murch, Wm. Scott, Jr., and Mrs. Stoll; and Misses Evelyn Anderson, Genevieve Sengstacken, M. S. O'Brien, Charlotte Murch, Cora Mae Montgomery, and Ada McConnell.

Among the out of town guests invited were Mrs. L. J. Simpson, Mrs.

C. M. Byler, Mrs. George Gelsendorfer and Mrs. Ira B. Bartle of North Bend; Mrs. Boyd M. Richardson and Mrs. Levi Doble of Portland; Mrs. Mattie Tozer of Minneapolis and Mrs. James E. Kelley and Mrs. Donald M. Charleston of Bandon.

The Ladies' Art Club met on Friday with Mrs. Frank Sumner, the afternoon being delightfully spent in needlework and conversation. During the business session, plans were made for a picnic to be held the first Sunday in June if the weather will permit. It was also decided that the last meeting of the season would be the last Friday of the month when the club adjourns until the first Friday in October. The club will meet Friday with Mrs. I. M. Condon. At the close of the session, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Those present were Mrs. John Blatt, Mrs. I. M. Condon, Mrs. Jas. Cowan, Mrs. W. B. Curtis, Mrs. F. M. Fyfe, Mrs. L. H. Helsner, Mrs. Hoagland, Mrs. Houseworth, Mrs. Hildenbrand, Mrs. Kinney, Mrs. Lydia Lang, Mrs. McArthur, Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, Mrs. June Schroeder, Mrs. H. O. Blatt of Montreal, Canada, was a guest of the club.

Last Tuesday evening, the members of Doric Chapter, O. E. S., enjoyed a delightful little social following the regular business meeting. Music and games were followed by refreshments. Mrs. Frances George-Evertsen was the guest of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. John Proctor of San Francisco arrived yesterday after a trip to Portland and Idaho points to spend a few days at the home of Mr. Proctor's sister, Mrs. J. H. Flanagan.

Thursday evening, a party of Marshfield young folks enjoyed a moonlight picnic at Jordan's Cove. An immense bonfire was made the center of the evening's pleasure which was concluded with a sumptuous picnic spread. Among those in the party were Messrs. Joe Dodge, Lee Byerly, Walter Jensen, John Motley, Rollie Barrie, Noble Pitman, Guy Torrey, Ronald McGeorge and Will Horton, and Misses Edna Hansen, Edith Pendergrass, Ida Downer, Myrtle Downer, Cora Dye, Luella Graham, Kittle Zeigler, Edna McIntosh, Desiree Wyatt and Mrs. Tope.

Last Sunday a party of Marshfield young folks enjoyed a launch ride to the hatchery on South Coos River where the day was spent picnicking. The weather was delightful and the outing proved a most enjoyable one. Among those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Keating, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hildenbrand, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Kinney, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. Switzer, Mr. and Mrs. Lemieux, Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Christanson, Misses Ruth Matthews, Hallie Davis, Ellen Rud-nas, Selma Holm, Beatrice Smith and Edith Hildenbrand, and Messrs. George Hollingsworth, Chester Duncan, Ferd Painter, Wm. Longstaff and Ray Ollivant.

Miss Helen Rees entertained the "Little Band of Sunbeams" at the home of her parents last Saturday afternoon. During the business session, Kathryn Nicholson was admitted to membership. Dainty refreshments were served and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent by all.

Mrs. F. H. Dresser was hostess at a delightful little tea party at her home in South Marshfield Wednesday afternoon. Among her guests were Mrs. Nagle, Mrs. Alva Doll, Mrs. R. P. Harrington, Mrs. Henry Black, Mrs. H. Baldwin, Mrs. A. Z. Downs, Mrs. A. J. Carlson, Mrs. Herman Smithgall and Miss Alpha Mauzey.

The C. I. E. Club Thursday evening tendered a surprise shower at the home of Miss Bessie Ayre complimentary to Miss Mary Hansen whose marriage will take place in early June. Linen and silver predominated in the shower. The club will be entertained next Monday evening by Miss Bessie Fyfe. Among those present Thursday evening were Misses Beatrice Smith, Bessie Fyfe, Hallie Davis, Ruth Matthews, Ella McLaurin, Eva Hansen, Eliza Ayre, Bessie Ayre, Mary Hansen and Mrs. Hansen.

May 15 marked the fifteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Forty of Bay Park. In the afternoon, a number of Mrs. Forty's friends dropped in and extended congratulations and enjoyed a social hour of music and conversation. Mr. and Mrs. Forty received a number of nice presents. Among those present in the afternoon were Mrs. J. W. Flanagan and children, Mrs. Thomas Howard, Mrs. F. S. Dow, Mrs. Jas. H. Cox, Mrs. Gamill, Mrs. Steen, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Matson, Mrs. Bargelt, and Mrs. Elijah Kelly.

Mrs. A. E. Pollexfen who was expected here next month from San Francisco to visit relatives and friends has written that she will have to postpone her visit and may not be able to come this season.

The North Bend Bridge Club will shortly resume their meetings, all of the members being back in town again. The members of the club are L. J. Simpson and wife, R. A. Wernich and wife, Warren Painter and wife, W. S. Turpen and wife, C. M. Byler and wife, T. W. Rennie and wife and W. E. Best and wife.

C. R. Peck and wife left this week for Vermont where they will visit relatives. First they will visit at the home of Mrs. Peck's parents in Bennington and then will visit Mr. Peck's folks at Burlington, Vt. At the latter place, they will attend the commencement exercises of the University of Vermont and the annual reunion of Mr. Peck's class. Mr. Peck will return about July 1, but Mrs. Peck will remain in the east until fall.

Mrs. T. W. Rennie of North Bend expects to leave early in June for Medford where she will spend a few weeks as the guest of Mrs. R. C. Gale, who formerly resided on the Bay. Mrs. Gale will visit on the Bay later in the summer.

Raynor Gelsendorfer, who recently arrived on the Bay to spend his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Gelsendorfer at North Bend, expects a couple of his school friends here soon to visit him. They are Messrs. Dudley and Loo and came from Burlingame, Calif.

Mrs. Frank Rogers of South Coos river is expected home soon from Southern California where she has been spending a few months for the benefit of her health and raising their daughter, Mrs. Nell Hansen, near Los Angeles.

Mrs. A. H. Powers and daughter Miss Margaret, left this week for a short visit at their old home in Minneapolis.

Mrs. J. C. Swinford was hostess to the Social Sewing Club Thursday afternoon. Needle work and conversation were followed by a delicious luncheon. Among those present were Mrs. Geo. Ayre, Mrs. Swinford, Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Rees and Mrs. Rhodes. Next Thursday, the club will meet with Mrs. Rees.

Miss May Stauff and her mother who have been in Riverside, Calif. this last winter will leave soon for Oakland in hopes that the change of climate will be beneficial to Miss Stauff's health. She has recently been very ill. Mrs. J. T. Hall's daughter, Miss Elsie, expect to leave about July 1, to spend a month or so with relatives at various points in California, and will visit with Mr. Stauff and Miss May Stauff awhile.

Mrs. W. S. Turpen will entertain the Bridge Club on next Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Nasburg entertained informally on Wednesday evening. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Turpen.

Mrs. G. A. Bennett and Mrs. R. Booth returned this week from San Francisco where they went to visit Miss May Bennett who has been very ill. Miss Bennett is expected to leave early in June for month's vacation and visit with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reid entertained at dinner Thursday evening.

(Continued on page 2.)

Great Opportunity for Housewives

Closing Out Sale of English Blue and Gold and White and Gold

Semi-Porcelain and Crockery At Factory Prices

We are changing patterns and this is a rare opportunity to secure bargains in dishes. See our window.

GOING & HARVEY CO.

Complete House Furnishers