Class Finishes.—The Bunker Hill school will close Wednesday, June 5, for the year. Alice Mathison, Ralph Christanson and Abraham Dubay will finish the eighth grade work there this year.

To Initiate Seven.—Col. R. H. Ross arrived here last evening from Bandon to direct the Hoo-Hoo Consecration Friday night. He expects that a class of seven will be ready for initiation.

Deliver Address.—D. A. Jones today received a telegram from President Campbell of Oregon University saying that Mr. Campbell would be pleased to deliver the Memorial Day address in Marshfield.

Install Private Water System.—Charles D. Baldwin is installing a private water system on his place on Roosevelt Heights and Andrew McClelland, who is visiting here, is acting as chief consulting engineer on the work.

Meet Friday Night.—A general meeting has been called to be held at the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce Friday evening when the proposition to fill Mill Slough will come up for consideration again. Nothing new has developed in the matter.

Marshfield Minister Ill.—Rev. Robert E. Browning, who went to Portland to attend the diocesan convention has been ill there for several days with an acute attack of tonsillitis and gripe and is being treated at the Good Samaritan Hospital. He hopes to be able to leave the hospital in order to take the next Breakwater for Marshfield.

New Sidewalk.—The old sidewalk around the Chandler Hotel is being torn out and a new one will be put in at once. The street around the building settled considerably, making the sidewalk slanting and dangerous.

To Sell Property.—S. C. Brown has about closed a deal for the sale of two lots and houses on South Second street, north of Elrod for $5,500. The property was formerly owned by Geo. Thomason and the residences are occupied by Dan Keating and Carl F. Johnson. It is understood that C. H. Marsh is also buying this property.

Forestry Men Here.—Asher Ireland, and G. F. Mead, of the United States Forestry Department, and L. Underwood of the Department of the Interior, arrived here today. Mr. Ireland is a brother of Cell Ireland of Marshfield and has been in the forestry service for some years with headquarters at Roseburg. They are on a tour of inspection and came via Drain. They report that a severe storm has been prevailing in the valley north of Roseburg.

HAVE YOU HAD NEW DISEASE?

Strange Malady Resembling Ptomaine Poisoning or Tonsillitis Prevalent.

That there is some new strange epidemic disease this section is evidenced by the large number who have been ill recently. Most of them believed that they were suffering from ptomaine poisoning. However, Portland physicians who have had a similar slight of cases claim that it is tonsillitis and not ptomaine poisoning. Marshfield parties who have been afflicted maintain that it is not tonsillitis. In addition to the large number here who have been afflicted, Rev. R. E. Browning, who has been attending Episcopal meetings in Portland, is now ill at a hospital there of the disease.

That is an epidemic and that conditions at Portland are similar to those on Coos Bay is shown by the following from a Portland paper: Tonsillitis is not ptomaine poison. If you are touched with the epidemic now sweeping the city, do not rush to your doctor charged with apprehension about something you have eaten.

A large number of prominent people in Portland have made this mistake within the past few days. One of the most remarkable coincidences reported is the fact that nearly every person stricken thought it was ptomaine. Another remarkable feature of the epidemic is the fact that a very heavy proportion of persons in a single gathering got the disease, if one did. This strengthened the belief that ptomaine was the cause of illness.

One party of society women who visited Latourelle Falls last week on a picnic were taken sick, and three of the members are still in bed suffering from tonsillitis. When the entire party, which was headed by Mrs. Guy W. Talbot, showed such universal and rapid symptoms, no other thought could possess their minds than that they had been poisoned by the ice cream. As soon as physicians could diagnose the trouble every case proved to be tonsillitis.

Some were afflicted in a most aggravated form, and are still in bed, although without showing any serious condition whatever. The hostess escaped lightly, but all her guests have reported more unpleasant experiences. Many of the young people got wet around the falls, and this was thought to be the source of their affliction, until it became known that a tonsillitis epidemic was sweeping over the city.

The several clergymen attending the Episcopal convention who were stricken, believed they had been attacked by ptomaine. Many other victims have thought the same. So virulent is the epidemic that it seems nearly every one exposed gets the tonsillitis, and several cases have been reported to the hospitals, and a large number are being attended at home.

NORTH BEND NEWS

M. J. ANDERSON, of Grants Pass, who is interested in a big water power project at Eden Valley, is in Marshfield on business. He expects to see activity on a railway from that direction to Coos Bay soon. Mr. Anderson has been negotiating with H. M. Byllesby for developing the water power.

FRANK CARY of Kalamazoo, Michigan, factory representative of the Michigan automobile of which J. T. Harrigan is Coos Bay agent is in the city on a brief business and pleasure visit. Incidentally he is showing John a few stunts with the auto that surprise him. He says the machine can climb straight up Coos Head and loop the loop coming down without a scratch.

BRIDEGROOM'S WEDDING CLOTHES ARE STOLEN

ALBANY, Or., May 21.—The loss of his wedding suit did not deter Oscar Powell, of Albany, from appearing at the appointed hour to marry Miss Ruth Dorothy Rankin, of this city.

When Powell went to his room in a boarding house about two hours before the time set for the wedding, he discovered that some friends had hidden his wedding suit. Hasty arrangements with a local clothing house produced another suit which answered the purpose.

COMPANY MUST PAY ITS TAX

Southern Oregon Company Loses Action In Federal Court at Portland.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 23.—One of the side issues in the land grant forfeiture suit of the United States against the Southern Oregon company was decided by Judge Wolverton in the United States District court but the question involved in the main case was not passed upon. A number of years ago Congress made a land grant in Douglas and Coos Counties as a subsidy for the building of a military road for Coos Bay to Roseburg, and one condition was that this land should be disposed of only to actual settlers in small tracts at $2.50 an acre. Eventually the Southern Oregon company obtained these grant lands and recently a suit was filed by the Government for forfeiture of the land because the terms of the grant had not been complied with.

Prior to the suit the Southern Oregon company had been paying taxes on these lands, but ceased when the forfeiture suit was instituted. Tax collectors, however, continued to assess the property and in default of payment the land was advertised for sale. Then the Southern Oregon Co. sought an injunction against this tax sale until the suit was settled. To this the sheriff demurred and Judge Wolverton sustained the demurrer and denied the application for the injunction, for the reason that the defendant claimed title to the land and did not recognize the government's claim. This decision, it is said, will cloud titles to the land whichever way the main suit may be decided. If the government wins, all money paid for taxes or the money paid for tax titles will be lost, and if the Southern Oregon company wins, it will have to redeem the tax titles.

Under Judge Wolverton's decision, the sheriffs of Douglas and Coos counties will now proceed to sell the Southern Oregon company's lands for delinquent taxes unless it redeems the property. During the three years that the suit has been pending the company, uncertain of its title, refused to pay its taxes in either county. It owes Douglas county nearly $10,000 although in taxes, penalty and interest.

AMONG THE SICK

D. J. Rees has been confined at his home the last few days with a severe attack of pleurisy.

R. H. Olson, who has been quite sick at his home in Empire, is now improving.

The Washington sailed last evening from San Francisco for Coos Bay and will arrive here late tomorrow or early Saturday. She will bring a big cargo of bitumen and cement for the Coos Bay Paving and Construction Company.

Just as the Chinese read from right to left, instead of left to right and do many things just the reverse of the way they are done by the Caucasian race, so when a disaster occurs at sea, instead of the order being women and children first, it is, save the men first, then the children and last the women. The Chinese theory being that men are most valuable to the state, that adoption can be found for children and that women without husbands are destitute.
