MEMORIAL DAY

"There is no death; the stars go down To rise upon some fairer shore, And bright in heaven's jeweled crown They shine forever more. There is no death; the dust we tread Shall change beneath the summer showers To golden grain or mellow fruit, Or rainbow-tinted flowers."

TIME, after all, is the Great Commoner. It assuages grief, it removes bitterness and acrimony; smooths the hard spots and eliminates controversy. It tempers sorrow to a condition of sympathy wherein one has a thing in common with all others. A half century has come and gone since the Civil War; nearly that span of years since the great roll call at the close of strife between North and South. Then, acute suffering and bitterness—now, a united nation. Then, a South devastated by the ravages of cruel war, and a North weighted equally with losses of life and treasure—now, a solidarity of purpose following a magnificent record of national achievement which has permanently placed the United States in the front ranks of the nations of the earth. Thus our country has successfully passed through various epochs of its history, beginning with its colonial days of Jamestown and Plymouth Rock. The sturdy pioneers had their place in making that fiber which eventually put to rout the forces of George III, resulting in the federation of the 13 original states and the constitution. Then came the decades of occupying the land, of development, of further pioneering, pushing out into our Golden West. The differences of the '50s and early '60s came in swift succession, to be followed by the period of reconstruction and national development. This in a thousand ways has brought us to a time where a happily united country has taken its place in peaceful, commercial conquest the world around, in securing the oppressed at our doors, in standing shoulder to shoulder with other leading nations, insisting on wholesome and helpful arbitration of differences, advocating world peace, international comity, and all really worth-while effort looking toward the human weal.

How fitting, therefore, that once a year, in the season of waving grain fields and blossoming flowers, we momentarily pause for grateful tribute to those brave men who served to keep this country united in a compact whole; and equally to recognize the honest hearts and sincere purposes of those other brave men who lived and died for their ideals.

The line of demarcation 'twixt Blue and Gray is each year less distinct; veterans of Petersburg now fraternize with veterans of Massachusetts; north and south indulge in common camp-fire reminiscence. The armies of '61-'65 are decreasing in numbers each year. Their friends, with sympathetic interest, recognize the enlarging numbers of those who have gone before.

The observance should be greater this year than ever before. The action of the United Societies, including the Spanish War Veterans, promises this felicitous outcome on Coos Bay.

COOS TAX ROLL

Assessor Tabulating County Assessments for This Year. Assessor Thrift on Tuesday last began writing up the tax rolls for the year and has for his assistants Miss Belle Thrift and Archie Collier. Ten volumes of 250 pages each will be required for the tax rolls and it will take about two months to complete the work. There are approximately 60,000 town lots to be recorded, many of which are subdivided from four to eight times and no less than 100,000 descriptions for lots alone will be required.

In 1911 there were 894,813 acres of land subject to taxation in Coos county. Since the 1911 roll was completed, 98 final proofs have been made before the land office at Roseburg and by these transactions Uncle Sam has relinquished 12,560 acres of land by patent and thus swelled the taxable area that amount. The land taken by settlers was chosen largely in the north end of the county.—Coquille Herald.

WALT MASON

THE POET PHILOSOPHER

THE HELPFUL PACKAGE
The man who has a bundle finds homage in the air; the knowledge of his fund'll precede him everywhere, and every blooming maiden will always treat him nice, the man with golders laden. The man who has the price. And moralists may thunder about our lust for gold, and say it is a blunder the rich man to uphold; our slavish adoration of gold and silver yen is threatening the nation, demoralizing men. Though he's abused in sonnets and cussed from pole to pole, we always doff our bonnets to him who has the roll. I rather like the kicker who often deftly swears at sinful get-rich-quickers and multimillionaires; for wealth, that is a blessing when moderate it seems becomes a thing distressing when carried to extremes. Oh, we are surely wiser when we our lids uplift, not to the sordid miser, but to the man of thrift; and like a silly farce'll seem ugly things we say of him who has a parcel of boodle put away.

GERMANS STILL SORE

Will Not Give Funds to Entertain English Physicians.
(By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)
BERLIN, May 25.—The depths of the persistency of the anti-English feeling in Germany resulting from the past summer's crisis in the Anglo-German relations, were demonstrated today by the refusal of the Potsdam Board of Aldermen to vote funds for the entertainment of British physicians who will attend a convention here in July.

BIG BALOON RUINED

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY NEWS

PICNIC OUTING

Mr. and Mrs. George Kepler and daughter, Thelma, of Dayton, Ohio, were guests of honor at an afternoon picnic at the Beach Wednesday. The trip was made by auto, and a fine picnic dinner was enjoyed. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Kepler and wife, Dorsey Kreitzer and wife and son, William, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bargelt, and Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Houseworth.

The Wesleyan Bible Class of the North Bend Methodist church is planning to picnic at Charleston Bay Decoration Day.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bargelt, Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Matson and son, Julius, and Miss Grace Kruse enjoyed an auto trip to Bridge last Sunday.

Miss Myrtle Cowan will be hostess tomorrow, if the weather permits, to a picnic lunch-party up Coos River, entertaining Mrs. H. McLain, Mrs. E. G. Flanagan, Mrs. J. E. Cowan, Mrs. Jas. Cowan, Misses Lucy Powers, Hazel Powers, Ruth Horton, Evelyn Flanagan, Mary Kruse, Grace Williams, Elsie Hill, Bessie Douglas, Alice McLain, May Myren, Evelyn Langworthy, Ruth Cowan and Florence Powers; Messrs. Albert Powers, Edgar Cason, John Ferguson, Max Reigard, Lee Byerly, Will Horton, Noble Pitman, Ralph Kruse, Allan Nichols, J. Hebert, Sydney Clarke, Tom Patterson and Ed Smith. If the weather is bad, the trip will be postponed.

Captain Frank Smith of the launch Alice H, was host to the High School crowd on an evening picnic to Jordan's Cove and the Sandhills Friday evening. The trip was far from moonlight, although everyone had a jolly time with bonfires on the beach and "eats" in a big empty barn when it rained. A large crowd from the High School went along and several of the grade teachers.

Miss Grace Kruse is planning to entertain a number of friends at a week-end house party at "The Nook", the J. Albert Matson summer home on South Coos River.

The Junior Society of the Marshfield Baptist church will hold their annual outing and picnic at Eastside Saturday, June 1. They plan to leave on the 9:30 ferry and under the guidance of their teacher, Mrs. G. LeRoy Hall, will spend the day in picnic frolics and festivities. There are about forty members now. The picnic is the fruit of a membership contest between the two teams into which the society was divided, the Blues being captained by Hirschfeld Clausen and the Whites by Whitford Hall, the Blues winning. The Whites will, as a result, have all the planning and work of the picnic to do. Tomorrow will mark the last regular meeting of the Junior Society, adjournment being taken until September.

Mrs. F. K. Gettins was hostess to a number of friends Thursday afternoon, May 23, at a picnic party in the woods near the High School in celebration of her birthday. Hammocks were slung under the trees and the dozen guests spent a merry afternoon at cards in the open. A delicious picnic lunch was served at noon about the round table. The woods make an ideal picnic spot for walking parties and simple outings. Among Mrs. Gettins' guests were Mrs. C. A. Sehlbrede, Mrs. A. L. Houseworth, Mrs. Kepler, Miss Thelma Kepler, Mrs. Dorsey Kreitzer, Mrs. A. R. O'Brien, Miss O'Brien, Mrs. A. T. Haines, Mrs. T. C. Russell of Beaver Hill, Mrs. J. C. Sullivan of Bandon and Mrs. W. A. Reid.

The faculty and pupils of the North Bend High School are to be guests Saturday of the Junior class at a picnic to Charleston Bay.

DANCES

The I. O. U. Club of North Bend is planning to give another dancing party in the near future, the exact date having not yet been determined.

The Coos Bay Concert Band is planning to give another dance Saturday night, June 1, at the Eagles' Hall, at which the usual large attendance is anticipated.

The Marshfield dancing club gives its fourth dance Friday June 7 at the Eagles' Hall. The membership list is swelled by the addition of several new names.

The patronesses are Mrs. J. W. Bennett, Mrs. J. S. Cole, Mrs. J. H. Flanagan, Mrs. Wm. Horsfall, Jr., Mrs. J. Albert Matson, Mrs. W. T. Mowcham, Mrs. E. G. Perham, Mrs. W. A. Tove, Mrs. H. S. Tower and Mrs. W. S. Turpen.

The benefit dance given May 28 by the Baseball Club was very successful and enjoyable and netted a good sum for the treasury. The managers are very well satisfied with the outcome of their second venture.

TRACK TEAM BANQUET

The boys of the North Bend track team were guests of honor at a banquet given Tuesday evening by Dr. Bird B. Clark at her home in North Bend. Besides the members of the team about twenty other guests were present. Dr. Clark's home was beautifully decorated with pink roses and rhododendron, the dining room being particularly lovely with masses of cream roses and lilies. Miss Esther Imhoff and Miss Bessie Bain were receiving hostesses. Following the eight o'clock sumptuous banquet, games and music were enjoyed to a late hour. Among the guests were Professor Grubbs and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Mandigo, Professor Honka, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Everitt, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Geisendorfer, Rev. D. A. MacLeod, Rev. T. S. Brown, Dr. Burmester, Mrs. A. H. Imhoff, Miss Watters, Misses Mildred Rood, Esther Imhoff, Bessie Bain, Ruby Watkins, Lola Ritchie, Ada Hunt, Anna Truman, Edith Horn, Gertrude Newkirk, Josephine Imhoff, Clara Waters, Fay Hunt, and Lillian McCann; Messrs. Joe Winsor, Chas. Van Zile, Geo. Dewey, Joe Barber, Fremont Hodson, Harry Conro, Glen Grout, John Hanson, Robert Clark, Chas. Watters, Lyle Chapelle, Fred Reynolds and Captain George Smith.

JUNIOR BANQUET

The Junior Class of the Marshfield High School are making big preparations for a banquet to be given the Seniors and faculty in honor of the graduating class. The banquet is to be held at the High School building Commencement evening, May 29, under the management of the Junior committee, Misses Ruth Horton, Ruth Allen and Frances Williams.
