Want Hotel.—Parties from North Bend today stated that it was likely that something definite would be done there soon about a big new hotel. They stated that an endeavor was being made to interest W. S. Chandler in the project.

Repeat Programs.—Mrs. Rebecca Luse-Stump announced today that the Marshfield boys who recently gave a Demorest medal contest in Marshfield will repeat the program at Eastside next Tuesday evening. The following week they will go to Coquille and present the program there.

To Pay Claim.—John D. Goss, receiver of the Port of Coos Bay, has been authorized by Judge Coke to pay the old claims against the Port Commission. These will have to be filed and approved by the court. Bills for current expenses in carrying out the Port Commission's projects can be paid promptly by Mr. Goss.

Undergo Operation.—Dan Conlogue, of Lampa, who passed through here today en route to Portland in response to a telegram stating that his father had been seriously injured in an accident there, this morning received a message stating that an operation would be necessary. His father, John Conlogue, is quite advanced in years.

In Northwest League.—"Happy" Smith, formerly a star in the Coquille team in the Coos county league but who has been playing with the Brooklyn National League club the last few seasons, has been farmed out to the Portland Northwest League. He played his first game with Portland last Sunday when two of his timely hits won the game for the Portland aggregation.

Report Two Lost.—According to a report received here from Curry county, a small gasoline launch was carried out over the Chetco river bar and two men drowned in the breakers. One of the victims was said to be a rancher named W. W. Hatfield. The other was unknown. The engine's breaking down caused them to drift out, according to the report. The Chetco river is near the California line.

MAGCENX ON ROOSEVELT

Captain Laps His Choice for President in Verse.

Capt. Magcenn of the Breakwater is an enthusiastic Roosevelt man. If you don't believe it just read the following verse that he composed after he read the returns from New Jersey yesterday:

We were with you in the jungle, We were glad when you came home; And we gave you a reception Like the victors' got at Rome. Modern Caesar of Democracy, First progressive of today, Scholar! Soldier! Statesman! Teddy; the man from Oyster Bay.

Capt. Magcenn has been a strong advocate of Roosevelt from the start and declared when the Colonel first announced himself that he was certain to win. He says he can't be beat if the people just get a chance to express their preference.

HAS NEVER SEEN

A RAILROAD TRAIN

PRINEVILLE, Ore., May 30. —Frank Barnes, of Prineville, who is 58 years old, has never seen a railroad or a train of cars. He is a brother of Geo. Barnes, a well-known criminal lawyer of this county in earlier days, who was shot and killed last year at Canyon City, Grant County, as the result of a feud.

Mr. Barnes came here from Lane County in 1869. He has not been outside of Central Oregon since 1880, when he journeyed to The Dalles with a bunch of cattle. At that time, however, the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company's line had not been built.

The railroad is only 50 minutes' ride by automobile from Prineville, the auto goes to and fro at all times of day and night, but Mr. Barnes says he has no curiosity to see the new, modern-trunk line.

BIG SHIPMENT OF MACHINERY

THIRTY CARLOADS OF MATERIAL FOR C. A. SMITH COMPANY'S ELECTRICAL PLANT COMING—NO RAILROAD SHIPMENTS YET.

The first consignment of a shipment of over thirty carloads of material and machinery for the new electrical plant of the C. A. Smith company is expected to reach here shortly. The material will be brought here by the Redondo and Nann Smith.

Following this there will be big shipments of material and machinery for the new pulp mill of the company.

It is stated that within another year or so, when the new electrical plant and the new pulp mill are completed, the C. A. Smith companies will have on Coos Bay by far the largest investment of any industrial corporation on the coast, that is the value of the combined plants will exceed the value of the combined plants of any other industry owned by any one concern on the coast. Not even the big sugar refinery plants in California will rival it. The nearest to it is understood to be the iron works which Millionaire Moore and others installed on Puget Sound and which recently went into bankruptcy.

Agent Fliske of the Inter-Ocean Transportation company arrived here late last evening on the Nann Smith. He did not have any news concerning the shipment here of supplies and equipment for railroad contractors.

The Nann Smith will go on drydock at San Francisco next Monday for her semi-annual overhauling. It is not expected that it will delay her more than a few days.

HAS BAD FALL

Otto Prey, who has been working in Aasen's logging camp the past winter is enjoying a forced layoff. He says he enjoys it because he escaped with his life last Friday. He and one of the Aasen boys were at work on a pole shute across a canyon near the camp, and the engine was started before the boys had gotten to a point of safety, with the result that the line struck Otto on the legs and he lost his balance and went head first to the ground twenty-five feet below. It required eight stitches to dress the gash on his head, and the gentleman was "lucky he didn't break his neck."—Myrtle Point Enterprise.
