 decided hit for the Senior Class and the members of the Faculty and High School who aided them in producing it. The action of the play was well sustained throughout, the climaxes were good and the acting creditable. The play itself was stronger than the usual run of comedy-dramas adapted to amateur theatricals and furnished a good background for the well-known histrionic ability of the Seniors. Miss Nora Tower in the leading role as the bewitching French-Puritan maid "Rose", carried the audience with her, and her acting was a delight throughout all four acts. Chauncey Clarke was an able second as Garratt Foster, and his pleasing appearance won much commendation. Miss May Preuss and Miss Mary Price were typical Puritan dame and maid of the time. The work of Ernest Harrington, A. L. Barker and George Johnson was excellent, their carrying voices, good action and picturesque costuming adding greatly to the success of the play. Miss Esther Silverman as "Aunt Resolute Story" was irresistible and brought more than one laugh and wave of applause from the audience. Except for the untrained voices that made it difficult for the audience always to hear there was not a feature of the play that did not give pleasure by its value and presentation.

ALUMNI PLANS
 The plans of the seven new Alumni for the summer and coming winter are various, one or two of them, Ernest Harrington and Chauncey Clarke are undecided about their plans for next year. Bartlett Flanagan is thinking of going to O. A. C. to continue his school course. Milton Carlson has already left for Annapolis to enter the Naval Academy there and to spend several years. Miss Mary Price who left yesterday after the Commencement Exercises for her home near Bridge may possibly teach next winter. Miss May Preuss and Miss Nora Tower will spend the summer in preparing for Berkeley next year. Miss Nora Tower will be accompanied south by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Tower, in July or early August, while Miss May Preuss will leave in time to reach Berkeley before the fall term commences.

FOR JUNE '12
 The Alumni of the Marshfield High School tendered a banquet at the Chandler Thursday night to the Senior Class and their teachers. The grill room was decorated for the occasion and the table was beautified with vases of cut flowers, while cut roses of every shade were strewn the entire length of the table. Delicate hand-painted place-cards, done by Miss Ellen Holms, indicated the arrangement of guests. A seven-course dinner was served, followed by toasts. John Ferguson, alumnus and toastmaster, called for responses from Professor Tiedgen, Mr. Barker and Mr. Grannis of the Faculty, and Ernest Harrington, president of the Senior Class. Among those seated were Miss Mary Price, Miss May Preuss, Miss Nora Tower, Miss Alpha Mauzey, Miss Nellie Tribbey, Miss Bessie Coke, Miss Signa Holm, F. A. Tiedgen, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Barker, Messrs. The June '12 Class were guests of the Junior Class at a banquet at the school building after the Commencement exercises Wednesday evening. The banquet room was hung with huckleberry and grape, the tables were laid from corner to corner and were decorated with red candles and vases of vivid red roses. The place-cards, painted by Miss Ruth Horton, were tumbled baskets of red roses. Thirty-one guests were seated. President P. L. Campbell, of Oregon University, was guest of honor. A program of toasts followed the banquet, presided over by Leslie Isaacson of the Juniors. Toasts were given as follows:

 "The High School as a Business Proposition", Dr. J. T. McCormac
 Remarks in General, F. A. Tiedgen
 "Recollections of the Past", Chauncey Clarke
 "Visions of the Future" Mary Price
 "The Senior Study Room—Hopes" Ralph Kruse
 "Aims of a College Education" P. L. Campbell
 "The Relation of an Instructor to His Classes" A. L. Barker
