LAND TAX MEANS PROGRESS
 From the Saturday Evening post:
 "After 1914 there shall be no taxes on personal property, no poll tax, no license tax on merchants, manufacturers or upon any occupation that does not require police regulation. In 1914 improvements upon land shall be exempt from taxation to the extent of one-fourth of their value and an additional one-fourth each two years thereafter until, in 1920, all improvements upon land shall be exempt from taxation."
 Such is the proposal which the Equitable Tax League lays before the people of Missouri in the form of a constitutional amendment, to be voted upon next November. The argument is simple: Personal property and improvements upon real estate are the result of individual effort. The possessor acquires them through his personal exertions—or, if he inherited them, somebody else acquired them through personal exertion. Missouri wants people to exert themselves. It wants them to lay by money, put up better dwellings, barns, factories, office buildings, warehouses. It should encourage them to add as much as possible to the state's total wealth through their own efforts. Hence it should not tax the fruit of such exertions.
 And revenue—when these things are exempt from taxation? Why, it will be raised by levying all taxes upon land values, exclusive of improvements. Nobody made the land. Bountiful Nature provided it. And land values, exclusive of improvements, result from the increase of population rather than from anybody's individual effort. A certain plot of ground, vacant and unproductive, is worth a million dollars in the market simply because half a million people live close to it.
 That is what the sponsors of Missouri's constitutional amendment propose to tax.
 The taxation league's proposal involves something of a revolution, and the time allowed for carrying it into effect may be rather short. A very big and complex vested interest has been built up on the "unearned increment" in city real estate. To unbuild it without disaster needs much care and patience.

NEW YORK DOG NOVEL PACKAGE IN MAIL BOX
 NEW YORK, June 8—Miss Harriet Eberly was about to drop a package into the large mailing box at One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street and Fifth avenue when a weak yelp from within the box caused her to jump back in fright.
 Summoning new courage, she essayed again, and this time, following another yelp, a moist tongue touched her fingers as she trust the package into the box.
 Miss Eberly ran to Policeman Hayes, across the street, and after he had joggled the mail box around enough to produce several more squeals from within, he summoned a clerk from the post office station at Lexington avenue.
 The clerk opened the box and a tiny black and tan dog bounded out. There was a tag attached to its collar, but it did not wait to let anybody read the address.

HERBINE
For the Bowels
A Cure for Chronic Constipation, Torpid Liver and Irregular Bowel Movements.
 Constipation is the most common disorder of the bowels. It affects both sexes and all ages but is more prevalent among women because their duties in the household require less physical exercise than the occupations of men; therefore women suffer most from its baneful effect.
 A constipated person is an easy victim when exposed to any serious disease—Pneumonia, Typhoid Fever, Malaria, Rheumatism, Small Pox, Yellow Fever and Bright's Disease gather their annual harvest of death among those who are habitually constipated. Even though they escape these diseases, such persons are always ailing more or less. They have headaches, bad digestion, dizziness, vertigo (blind staggers), sallow complexion, flatulence, loss of strength; and no energy at all. Herbine has a most admirable effect in the bowels; it is cooling, purifying and regulating. It puts a prompt check on biliousness, wind in the bowels, nervousness, heartburn, bad breath, low spirits, drowsiness in the daytime and nervous wakefulness at night.
Price 50c per Bottle.
