NEW POWER LIFE BOAT

Bandon Crew Now Able to Give the Best of Service. BANDON, Ore., June 18.—The new power lifeboat which has been furnished the lifesaving station at Bandon will prove a great aid to the crew, according to Captain Johnson, who is in charge of the station.

The new boat is a self-haling, self-righting, hull and centerboard power propelled lifeboat of the 1911 model. It is the only one of the kind west of Cleveland, Ohio, where a similar boat is used on the lake station at this place.

Captain Johnson of the Bandon station is making a design for what he believes will be an improvement on the boat of the power lifeboats now in use. The boat being planned, among other features, will have twin screw arrangement as an emergency so if one engine breaks down another engine is ready to propel the boat.

PLAN STATE FOREST

Government Gives Idaho Tract to Replace Forest Reserve Area. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18.—To permit the State of Idaho to obtain land in lieu of 99,000 acres of school lands included in National Forests prior to survey, President Taft has eliminated about four and one-half townships from the St. Joe National Forest. These lands will be held and managed as a permanent State forest.

The lands eliminated are: T. 41 N., Rs. 4 and 5 E., T. 42 N., R. 3 E., and 4 E., and Sections 4 to 8, 16 to 22, and 26 to 36 in T. 42 N., R. 3 E. This action by the President carries out an understanding which was reached with him by Governor Hawley and other representatives of the State of Idaho about a year ago. The State had tried to make indemnity sections for various school sections lost to it through the creation of National Forests, but before the acceptance of the State's filing the intended indemnity sections also included in National Forests. To learn what relief could be obtained Governor Hawley decided to go to Washington and take the whole matter to the White House.

After hearing the arguments of the Idaho representatives President Taft held that the State should be allowed to secure the equivalent in value of the indemnity selection for which it had applied, particularly since the land would be for the benefit of the schools; but he also held that it would be detrimental to the public interest if timberlands which had been included in National Forests for the protection of stream flow as well as perpetuation of timber supply should be cut without regard for the effects of forest destruction, especially the effect upon navigable streams. He therefore suggested a way out, along the line of an agreement which has since been perfected in detail by the state authorities and the Forest Service.

Under this agreement the State has undertaken to retain a designated body of land permanently for forest purposes, provided the government would permit title to be acquired. The area designated comprises largely though not entirely the lands for which the State made its original application. This 99,000 acre tract will, under the agreement reached, be protected by the State against fire and other destructive agencies, and administered similarly to the National Forests. Timber will be sold only under such stipulations as will insure reproduction of the forest, and favorable stream flow conditions will be maintained through preservation of the necessary forest cover. The elimination now made by President Taft permits the carrying out of the arrangement, so far as concerns acquisition of title by the State.

NOVEL RACE PICTURE

IN OLD AGE

When I have reached three score and ten I hope I will not be like sundry sad and ancient men that every day I see. I hope I'll never be so old, so broken down and gray, that I will lift my voice and scold when children round me play. I hope I'll never be so sore, so close to muffled drums, that I can't waltz around and cheer whene'er the circus comes. I hope I'll never wither up or yet so foundered be, that I won't gambol with a pup when it would play with me. I hope I'll not, while yet alive, be so much like a corpse, that I won't seize a chance to drive a good high-stepping horse. Though I must hobble on a crutch to help my feeble shins, I'll always yell to beat the Dutch whene'er the home team wins. Perhaps I'll live a thousand years—I sometimes fear I will, for something whispers in my ear I am too tough to kill—I may out last the modern thrones and all the kings thereon, but while I navigate my bones I'll try, so help me John, to be as young in mind and heart as any springald near, and when for Jordan I depart, go like a gay roan steer. WALT MASON.

You judge a man not by what he promises to do, but by what he has done. That is the only true test. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judged by this standard has no superior. The People everywhere speak of it in the highest terms of praise. For sale by all dealers.

NO STAR ROUTE TO SCOTTSBURG

Post Office Turns Down Request for Service From Allegany.

Dr. J. T. McCormac, president of the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce, and Capt. C. E. Edwards of Allegany have just received the following self-explanatory letter from Congressman W. C. Hawley relative to a proposed mail service between Allegany and Scottsburg:

Washington, D. C., June 10, 1912. My Dear Friends: I have just received the following letter from the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General:

"With further reference to your letter of the 3rd ultimo, with which you transmitted a petition for the establishment of a star route between Allegany and Scottsburg, Oregon, I beg to advise you that the matter has been given careful consideration."

"It was found that it would not be practicable to perform service on such a route, except during the summer period of each year, and it is not apparent that the postal benefits to be derived therefrom, which should be entirely for the advancement of mail and not for the supply of any post office, would warrant the establishment of the route. Therefore it does not seem advisable to take further action in the matter at this time."

I regret this unfavorable determination of the Department, but will be glad to have your advice relative to further action, if you desire that I again take the matter up.

SCOW CHRISTENED BY DANCE.

BANDON, Ore., June 18.—A novel christening was given a new scow which was built at the Nelson shipyard at Prosper, on the Coquille River, for N. Fay, of Sacramento, Calif. The scow is quite a large affair, and after having been launched was towed down the river to Bandon, where it was decorated and used as the place for holding a big dance by the Bandon young people. The scow will be taken to San Francisco Bay in tow of the steamer Fifield.
