

ONE trouble you find with some ready made clothes is that often they don't keep their shape.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

clothes are made of all-wool fabrics, thoroughly shrunk; the tailoring in them is highest grade; the "insides" are of best quality.

That's what gives shape-keeping quality; and makes style that stays stylish.

Suits $20 to $35.

BORN.

ROGERS—To Mr. and Mrs. Anson Rogers at their home on Coos River today, June 26, a nine-pound son. Mother and child are doing nicely and the proud father would not trade places with the favorite sons in the National political conventions. The grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Anson Rogers, and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Larson, are also overjoyed. This is the first son bearing the name of Rogers in the third generation of the Rogers family here. Congratulations are being showered upon the happy families by their scores of friends today.

Camps to Close.—The logging camps around Coos Bay will work next Sunday and close down next Tuesday evening for the balance of the week to let the employees have a complete Fourth of July celebration.

Rain Does Damage.—Coos River ranchers in the city today report that the rain has done much damage to the hay and small fruit crops.

Entertain Last Evening.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parsons entertained last evening for Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Green and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Young and Miss Isabel Young, of Albany.

Clear Right of Way.—J. H. Pinkerton of North Inlet who was a Marshfield business visitor today reports that he has been informed that the contractors for the Southern Pacific line will soon have crews busy clearing the right of way for the road.

A Delightful Dancing Party.—Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Smeaton entertained last evening at one of the most charming dancing parties of the season. A full account of the event will appear in the social department of The Times Saturday.

Drill Friday.—Prof. Beggs announces that the "Human Rosebud Parade" rehearsal will be held Friday at 2 and the Maypole drill at the same time. All the children in the county are invited to march in the parade. Fifty more girls wanted on Friday.

Use Blocks.—The cedar blocks for paving Anderson avenue between Broadway and Third street are now being cut at the Smith mill. Special blocks are also being cut for lining the rails along Front street, it being impractical to put the hard paving up against the rails.

North Bend Team Fast.—The North Bend Fire Department's hose team is training hard for the races here on the Fourth and expects to carry off the honors. While they have not given out their time it is reported by the wise ones that they have a good fast bunch and will make Marshfield hustle.

Hot House Cucumbers.—J. J. Clinkbeard of Daniels Creek brought down the first hot house cucumbers ever produced on Coos Bay to Marshfield markets. They are products of his newly constructed greenhouse and in appearance and flavor excell the imported variety. Next season Mr. Clinkbeard hopes to be first in the market with these succulent vegetables.

Use Old Road.—Road Supervisor Norton urges that the old road between Coos Bay and Coquille, that is via Libby, be used until he completes the work he now has underway on the road via Bunker Hill. Owing to the deep cuts on the Bunker Hill road, the heavy rains are causing slides that interfere seriously with rigs and autos. He hopes to get the new road in good shape soon.

Growing Fast.—George Ross was down from Catching Inlet today on business. He is chancellor commander of Myrtle Lodge No. 3 of Marshfield and reports that the lodge is enjoying an unusual growth. So many new members have been joining recently that he finds it necessary to call some special meetings to dispose of the business. The first of the special meetings will be held next Saturday night.

Brings Octopus In.—Peter Scott brought in an octopus today which measured about eight feet spread. Several of these deep sea fish are brought in every year by Coos Bay fishermen. They mature best in southern waters where they reach their greatest size. A man stands little chance when the octopus gets one of its arms around him and starts sucking his blood with its thousands of suckers.

Company is Held.—Justice C. L. Pennock heard the case of Thayer Grimes vs. Roy Abbott this morning. Grimes attached Abbott's wages from the Smith Powers Logging Co., his claim amounting to $25.80. Abbott cashed his time check while his wages were garnished, and the Smith-Powers Co. allowed the check when turned in by the bank. Justice lice Pennock held that the Smith-Powers Co. is still responsible for the bill.

Wed in Coquille.—Will Abel and Miss Ellen Sneddon, two well known Marshfield young people went to Coquille yesterday afternoon where they were quietly married. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Ellen Sneddon and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Abel. The bride was until recently employed as cashier of the Coos Bay Bakery. A host of friends of the young couple will unite in wishing them a long and happy voyage over the seas of life. They will make their home in Marshfield.

Romantic Marriage.—The marriage of R. R. Pinkerton of North Inlet in Portland this week to Miss Ethel Stiles, who came from Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, to meet her promised husband marks the culmination of a college romance. Mr. Pinkerton and Miss Stiles graduated in the same class from the Kingsville, Ohio, Academy some fifteen years ago and the affection of their school days finds its fruition this week in the Rose City. Mr. Pinkerton owns a fine homestead on North Inlet and recently added a swarm of bees to his possession. When he left for Portland his father, J. H. Pinkerton, said he had gone to get a queen. So he has but she will be queen of the ranch instead of queen of the hive.
