ONE very important thing you should take account of in buying clothes is the way you'll look in them when you are away from home, as well as when you're here around town.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

styles are not local; they're international; the best models of English tailors are illustrated in the designs of these makers; anywhere in the world you'll be well-dressed in these clothes.

Do you want to see some of the new late fashions? In imported and American weaves; grays, blues, tans, browns; chevots, serges, homespuns, fine worsteds.

There are no other clothes made so satisfactory as these of Hart Schaffner & Marx. We can fit you any day in a fine suit at $18, $20, $25, $30, $35.

Bowery Dance.—Prof. Raymond is erecting a dancing pavilion on the corner of Broadway and Central and expects to have it completed for next week's festivities.

Road Repaired.—Road Supervisor Norton announced that the slide in the Bay Park road, near the James Forty home, will be removed today so that the thoroughfare will be open for auto traffic tomorrow.

Lay Men Off.—The Terminal Co. has laid off its men until after the Fourth, having completed their front street track today. The planking between the tracks is only temporary and will be replaced later by blocks.

Form Branch.—S. A. Brewer of Portland is here organizing a branch of the Western Merchants' Protective Association. The organization is aimed to protect merchants against "deadbeats" and aid in collecting bad debts.

No Particulars Received.—Coroner Wilson has been unable to receive any details concerning the accidental killing of a man in the Conlogue logging camp at Lampa yesterday. The undertaker at Bandon said that he understood the name of the victim was Anderson instead of Johnson as was first given.

Has Old Paper.—Mrs. Chas. H. Murr of North Bend has discovered among her possessions a copy of one of the oldest newspapers in the county. It is a copy of the Impartial Herald of Newburyport, Conn., and is dated April 19, 1796. It is browned by age and almost worn in several parts where folded but the printing is clearly legible.

Wins Success.—The American Lumberman gives an account of the life of Charles L. Trabert who has been connected with the C. A. Smith interests for a large number of years and who is located at Oakland at the time. Mr. Trabert started to work for the Smith interests when a boy and gradually worked himself up to one of the highest positions in the company. He is expected here for a visit next month with A. H. Powers and the other officials of the Smith company here.

Show Troupe Coming.—Manager Vince Pratt, of the Masonic Opera House, has billed the National Stock company for a four-night stand commencing July 3. The company will arrive on the next Breakwater from Portland and is reported to be a very good one, having played for several years in Willamette Valley towns. Plays such as "The Wolf" and "The Lion and the Mouse" will be put on. The company carries a very elaborate wardrobe. The Coquille Valley towns will also be played.

For Sale at a Bargain

WE SOLD THE FARM

Which we advertised last Saturday. Next week we are going to offer an equally good
Bargain in Inside Property
It is a corner, 100 x 100, situated right in the line of business growth, about midway between Elrod and Central, the two main East and West streets of Marshfield.
THE PRICE IS ONLY $2500, and we can show by recent sales that it is very much under the market. We predict that property in this vicinity will be very active this summer and fall, and are not afraid to stake our reputation on the assurance that this particular parcel will prove an unusually profitable investment.
Let us tell you about it fully at our office, and then draw your own conclusions.
