

DEMOCRACY OF THE DEAD.

FROM Pueblo, Colo., comes an interesting story of a reform that is being instituted in the cemetery there. The Leader tells of it as a beautiful ideal that is being worked out at Roselawn cemetery. Nothing less is being sought than a democracy of the dead. The ideal is to abolish, so far as possible, all artificial distinctions. All are to sleep under the same overarching trees, under the same beautiful flowers.

LAST NIGHT'S VOTING TAME

Democratic Convention Almost Monotonous—Clark There—Wilson on Decline.

LITTLE BOY BILL. The once Peerless Leader is covered with dust, and vocally weak he stands; for the voice so accustomed to shouting "Thou Must!" Is downed by the negative bands. Time was when the Peerless One's voice was strong. And his voice was austere and bold— When he had caroled his eloquent song Of the menacing "cross of gold."

The once Peerless Leader went out of the hall. For the leader found now he had peers; The Commoner came by a commoner fall. And a worrying volley of jeers. The men who had followed him thrice in defeat. Were tired of W. Bryan; And marked all their votes with a cross so discreet— With the golden cross of Ryan.

BALTIMORE, July 2.—The deadlock in the National Democratic Convention seemed more complicated than ever when the adjournment was taken at 12:43 a. m. until noon today. Wilson made steady gains during Monday's balloting until he reached the highwater mark of 501 1/2 votes on the 39th ballot. He remained stationary on the 40th and then began to lose ground. The last ballot was the 42nd when Wilson polled 494 votes. Clark reached the lowest ebb of his candidacy on the ballot where Wilson reached the crest. He went down to 422 votes at that time but immediately began to pick up and had gone to 430 when adjournment was taken.

WILSON NAMED FOR PRESIDENT

But I think the time has come to recognize that he cannot be nominated by this convention nor can he be used to defeat any other candidate." Bankhead proceeded.

"Vice-president?" queried a delegate from the floor. "No!" shouted Bankhead. "He will not turn from the important duties he is performing to take up such an office as vice-president." He expressed the hope that no one would urge Underwood for vice-president. "Mr. Underwood directs me to withdraw his name from this convention," said Bankhead, amid an impressive silence, adding a tribute of thanks from Underwood for the sincere loyal support given him.

Senator Reed, of Missouri, interposed an objection for unanimous consent to make Wilson's nomination by acclamation and the roll call was ordered because of his objections.

SOME OF WILSON'S GAINS New Jersey Governor Took Lead on Start Today. (By Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times.) BALTIMORE, July 2.—The National Democratic convention was called to order today at 12:09 and the balloting was resumed after a brief preliminary. Chairman James announced that disorderly demonstrations would not be tolerated and that the galleries would be cleared if necessary.

The forty-third ballot showed unusual gains for Wilson. Some of the states giving him a large vote were: Idaho, Wilson 7; Clark 1; Illinois, Clark 18; Wilson 40; but under the unit rule all were cast for Wilson; Indiana, Clark 1; Wilson 28; Kern 1; Montana, Wilson 7; Clark 1; Oregon, Wilson 10; Washington, Clark 14.

On the 43rd ballot, Clark lost one to Bryan in Arizona, Connecticut took two from Clark for Wilson, in Idaho Wilson gained 1 1/2, Illinois cast eighteen for Clark and forty for Wilson and under the unit rule all were cast for Wilson. A great uproar followed the announcement.

Illinois' fifty-eight delegates propelled the Wilson movement and gains were made from Connecticut, Idaho, Iowa, Louisiana, Maryland, Michigan, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, Wisconsin and Hawaii. Wilson's vote was 602, a majority of the convention. It was the highest vote he had received and the vote of 323 for Clark was the lowest he had got during the prolonged balloting.

Maryland gave Wilson a gain of 1 1/2 and Ohio gave him one more. Pennsylvania gave Wilson her solid seventy-six. In Tennessee, Wilson gained one and Utah cast eight for him, a gain of 1 1/2 votes. This put Wilson 98 1/2 away from the nomination.
