HE LOVES THEM ALL

I'm stuck on Ted, you bet, you bet. I hope he'll punch 'em harder yet. And smash 'em all along the line—Ah, Teddy's doing work that's fine. I like Bill Taft, indeed I do; He's pretty good at pounding too. He's got a good and level head—I like the way he goes for Ted. And La Follette is not so slow; Both Bill and Ted, he tries to show Are not one bit fit for the place—That both of them should quit the race.

I raise my hat to Ted, I do; I take it off to William, too. To La Follette I tip the same—Oh, don't they play a corking game. What's that you say? "How can it be That I admire all of the three?" The answer's easy, sir, to that—Because I am a Democrat.
