IMPEACHMENT COMMITTEE CENSURES JUDGE ARCHBALD

Judicial Ermine Stained by Actions Unbecoming Member of Bench. THE ARRAIGNMENT IS A MOST SEVERE ONE. Prosecutors Are Named and Arrangements for Trial Perfected.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Chairman Henry D. Clayton of the Committee on Judiciary of the House of Representatives presented the House today the articles of impeachment against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the United States Court of Commerce. Clayton's report is unanimous.

"The conduct of this judge has been exceedingly reprehensible and is in marked contrast to the high sense of judicial ethics and probity that usually characterizes the federal judge," says the committee in summing up the findings of the misbehavior in office of Judge Archbald.

"Your committee is of the opinion that Judge Archbald's sense of moral responsibility has been degraded," says the report. "He has prostituted his high office for personal gain. He has attempted by various transactions to commercialize his potentiality as judge."

"He has forfeited the condition upon which he holds his commission and should be removed from office by impeachment. A judge should be the personification of integrity, of honor, of uprightness in his daily work and conversation. He should hold his exalted office and the administration of justice above the sordid desire to accumulate wealth by trading or trafficking with actual or probable litigants in his court."

With Clayton's report was a resolution providing for the management of the trial before the Senate. The full committee designated Chairman Clayton and Representatives Floyd of Arkansas, Davis of West Virginia, Webb of North Carolina, democrats, and Representatives Norris of Nebraska, Sterling of Illinois, Howland of Ohio, republicans, as managers to prosecute the Archbald trial before the senate.

COOS BAY GIRL DISAPPEARS

Margaret Foulkes Leaves Friend's Home to Escape Strain of Situation.

The following articles give the latest developments in the romantic and mysterious case of Miss Margaret Foulkes of Marshfield who was disappointed in the disappearance of her affianced husband, the particulars of which were published in The Times last Saturday:

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—The Call says:

"Following the disappearance of Charles H. Laurier, who professed to be the nephew of the former Premier of Canada, Monday, the day that he was to have married Miss Margaret Foulkes of Seattle, the girl announced yesterday afternoon that she was going on a trip down town and has not been seen since."

"Shortly after noon she told Mrs. E. F. Rodgers, of 3222 Sixteenth street, a family friend, with whom she has been stopping since her arrival in San Francisco, that she could not stand the strain of the situation and that she was going to leave for the afternoon. Miss Foulkes had told Mrs. Rodgers several times of a brother near San Francisco whom she intended to visit, and it is thought that she may have gone to him. She gave Mrs. Rodgers no intimation of returning to her home in the north."

"Roy M. Cunningham, Laurier's friend and sponsor and a schoolmate of Sir Wilfred Laurier, evaded interviews yesterday. It is known, however, that Tuesday morning after young Laurier's failure to be present at the wedding he wrote to the former Premier telling him of the situation. His associates yesterday said that he still believed in the young man. Cunningham stated, through his daughter, that he had no idea that Laurier had met with foul play, or he had no funds. He scouted the theory that the young man had committed suicide."

"Cunningham lent Laurier $25 without request on hearing of his having been robbed on the Barbary Coast. His hotel bill at the Argonaut, together with amounts advanced by persons at the Argonaut, amount of $60. His checks have been returned, marked "no funds."

"Laurier's effects left at the Argonaut are estimated at several hundred dollars in value, including jewelry, alligator grips and clothes."

SAYS SHE IS GLAD

Miss Margaret Foulkes Expresses Pleasure at Her Narrow Escape.

Helen Dare, special writer on the San Francisco Chronicle, publishes the following article in reference to the shattered romance of Coos Bay's deserted bride, now in San Francisco:

"If a test case had been wanted—a warning made to order, an absolute-ly convincing object lesson—to demonstrate to girls how dangerous it is for them to make chance acquaintances, and how urgent and imperative it is for them to know all about a man before marrying him, a better one could not have been provided than the experience of Madge Foulkes, who just missed marrying the beguiling young man who represented himself as the nephew of Sir Wilfred Laurier."

"As a test case and an object lesson, it is particularly satisfactory because it is convincing without being tragic. Its redeeming feature—the one thing the deserted little bride-elect is thankful for—is that she just missed marrying a man who may turn out to be a clever bunco artist and conscienceless criminal."

"An indignant little bride-elect is Madge Foulkes—a sadder and wiser little, plump, rosy-cheeked girl is she, keeping down the shades in the parlor at 3222 Sixteenth street, and ready to bite any reporter that pokes an inquiring nose through the door to put her name in the paper."

"How can I ever go back to Seattle, where I worked? And what will my mother and sister say about this—Oh-h-h!"

"It's Her Pride That's Hurt. And she sets her teeth and snaps her eyes at the way she's been deceived."

"She's a pretty, little, brown-eyed, chestnut-haired, pink and white pointer-pigeon of a girl, and she's a good deal more upset by her wounded pride than her broken heart."

"Hi!" she says. "I wouldn't marry that man now if he came back and begged me to, and turned out to be all he claimed he was. Not after this!"

"Why, do you know, he told a tale"

LUMBER LABOR WAR IN SOUTH

Four Killed in a Battle Between Non-Union and Union Men at Grabow, Louisiana, Yesterday.

(By Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times).

NEW ORLEANS, July 8.—The bitterness between the Louisiana Lumber operators and the non-union workers on one side and the Union men on the other which resulted in a battle death toll of four yesterday at Grabow, was reflected today in the activity of the socialist leaders who have played prominent parts in the labor war. William Haywood of Denver acting with the local socialists has called a meeting for tonight to protest against the sending of troops to Grabow, where it is admitted more trouble is feared. It is claimed the only contention at Grabow was the Union's demand for a semi-monthly pay day. Yesterday's battle however was precipitated when the Union men from Deridder attempted to hold a meeting in Grabow.

CHECK RAISER IS ARRESTED

Leo Huff Taken Into Custody at Bay City for Swindling.

On Saturday Sheriff Gage arrested Leo Huff at Bay City on the charge of forgery, the complaint being sworn out by Henry Ploeger, who conducts a general merchandise store at Myrtle Point. Huff had been working near Myrtle Point and had been paid off by check to the amount of $6.00. He raised the amount to $60.00 and Ploeger cashed the check for him. Huff immediately left Myrtle Point and coming to Marshfield secured work at the Smith mill at Bay City. Sheriff Gage accompanied by Chief of Police Carter took him into custody Saturday evening.

Guilty of Another Crime.

Chief Carter recognized Huff as the man for whom he was looking last year who took a bicycle from E. M. Barry, superintendent of the mill at Bay City and sold it in town for $5.00. Mr. Barry redeemed the wheel and reported the affair to Chief Carter. The name given by the young man at that time was Lasswell and it is supposed he changed it to avoid apprehension. Huff or Lasswell is about nineteen years old, and is 5 feet, 11 inches tall. He gives his home as Weiser, Idaho, where he says his parents reside. Sheriff Gage left with his prisoner on the train for Coquille Sunday morning.

BUILDING BOOM ON SOUTH SIDE

Work to Be Commenced on Four Large New Residences on Fifth Street.

An incipient real estate and building boom is in progress on South Fifth street. Half a score of lots have changed owners in that section in the last few weeks and all are going into the hands of parties who will erect residences thereon.

The latest transfer was made this afternoon when Fred Weaver sold two lots in the block south of the Pat Hennessey residence to Dennis McCarthy, the well known timber cruiser, who will begin the erection of a handsome seven room residence immediately.

Among the others who have purchased lots in that section for the purpose of building new homes are Messrs. R. and N. Njerdum, of the new pulp mill who have acquired five lots and will immediately commence the erection of two new residences. The Messrs. Njerdum are now in Portland awaiting the arrival of their families from Finland.

C. M. Anderson, a brother-in-law of J. E. Oren, has also purchased lots there and will erect a residence at once. Mr. Anderson left on the Breakwater Saturday for Minneapolis to bring his family to Coos Bay to make their future home.

WHITTY STORE IS DESTROYED

Eastside Suffers Its First Serious Fire Loss Last Night.

The store of R. T. Whitty of Eastside was totally destroyed last night by fire. The blaze was first noticed about 10:30 o'clock and had made such headway that it was impossible to do anything. Eastside has no fire protection and the flames consumed the last vestige of building and contents. A few sacks of flour, some scales and the cash register were all that were saved. There was no insurance carried and the entire loss will fall heavily on Mr. Whitty.

The store was located across the street from the new school house and there were no other buildings located in the immediate vicinity. It was thought that there was little danger of fire on this account.

The cause of the fire is not definitely known but the supposition is that some boys smoking cigarettes might have caused the blaze, dropping a match near the oil tanks. Several people saw the boys near the building about fifteen minutes before the fire started. Another theory is that it was started by sparks from a fire getting near the tanks and igniting them. There was no chance to save anything as there was no water near and the progress of the flames was too fast to get anything from the building.

The fire lit up the bay and all of Eastside and several Marshfield people went over. Nothing remained, however, but a bed of coals when they arrived.

The loss was about $2,000. General sympathy is expressed for Mr. Whitty in the serious loss which he has sustained.

(By Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times).

CHICAGO, July 8.—Several hundred delegates and members of the National Educational Association were in attendance today when the fiftieth annual convention of that organization opened at the auditorium this afternoon. There is unusual interest in several matters in connection with the officials' roster, notably the election of a new president and a fight is to be made for the removal of Secretary Irwin Sheppard who two years ago was elected in Boston for a four year term. The progressive delegates decided at a caucus to present the name of E. T. Fairchild, State Superintendent of Public Instruction of Kansas, to make the race for president against Miss Grace C. Strachan, president of the Interborough Womens Teachers Association of New York.
