

SOCIETY AND WOMAN'S WORLD

CONTRIBUTIONS concerning social happenings, intended for publication in the society department of The Times, must be submitted to the editor not later than 6 o'clock p. m., Friday of each week. (Exceptions will be allowed only in cases where events occur later than the time mentioned.)

Oh, Fashion's a whimsical lady,
She changes her mind every day.
One day she brings out a new hobby,
And the next day she puts it away.
She's always in search of the novel,
And she doesn't care what it may cost,
And the queerest of all things about it
Is the whole world submits to be bossed.

Oh, Fashion's a terrible tyrant,
She issues her changeable decrees,
And although we protest we don't like it,
Still we all of us drop on our knees
We worship her while we're protesting.
And her whimsical rules we obey,
Till the question all others transcend,
Is: What's the most stylish today?

"I do not see why he married her.
He is a very brainy man, and she is not an educated woman."

Which was the comment of a friend of mine, respecting a mutual friend recently married, writes Edwin A. Nye.

I joined issue.
I said: "You are mistaken, I think. My friend's wife is not a college educated woman, but she is educated. She is a fine housekeeper, as I happen to know, and she is a very capable woman in many respects."

Education is more than mere book learning.
All true education is a process of drawing out of one the best that is in one. Education is expression of self.

Now—
My friend's wife is admirably fitted for wifehood and motherhood, education sadly neglected by many well schooled women of our day.

And she has, in addition to her good looks and vivacity, health, poise and patience and a sweet disposition. And, moreover, she is much in love with her husband and is determined to make his home a happy one.

What would you?
But her critic says, she is not a "brainy" woman.

And in that also she is mistaken. Mentally she is as strong as her clever husband, but along different lines. And I am greatly mistaken if she does not succeed in managing her husband as well as her household. He will not feel the harness, but she will hold the lines just the same.

Brainy?
Intellectuality is not confined to a certain sort of culture. As much brain tissue is required for successful home management as for storekeeping or for practicing law.

The world, indeed, could get along fairly well without lawyers and editors and architects, but could it get along without mothers?

Educated?
There are other educated people than those that are college trained. And as between mere mental gifts and intellectuality of the heart the latter is infinitely to be preferred.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES

Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Kretzer were hosts last night to the Tuesday night Club at their home on Flanagan avenue. Prizes were captured by Mrs. E. S. Bargolt and Mr. W. F. Miller. The members present were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Grimes, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Morrissey, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Q. Van Duyn, Mr. and Mrs. E. Crothwait, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Haines, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McKnight, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bargolt, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Houseworth, Mrs. Farringer and Miss Painter.

The Jolly Dozen were entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Laura Dubay, at Bunker Hill. A short business meeting was held, the club deciding to adjourn until the last Wednesday in September when they will open with a social to which the husbands will be invited. The following officers for the ensuing year were elected:

President—Mrs. George Rourke.
Vice-president—Mrs. G. Stoen.
Secretary—Mrs. Bush.
Treasurer—Mrs. J. Brockmuller.

Last Saturday evening Mrs. C. H. Walter was hostess to the members and friends of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Marshfield Presbyterian Church. The rooms were artistically decorated with roses and greens. Many games were played, among which was a whittling contest for the girls and a sewing contest for the boys. Miss Mildred Coke revealing a lemon and Charlie Lowrey a pickle, as rewards of merit.

At the close of a pleasant evening of fun and music, delicious refreshments were served. The guest of the society was Miss Standish of Hume, Missouri. The invited guests were as follows: Misses Eliza Ayre, Mildred Coke, Bessie Coke, Elizabeth Cox, Alice Cox, Merle Cox, Lucy Horton, Ruth Horton, Dorothy Horton,

The Social Sewing Club enjoyed a picnic Thursday to Mrs. Adams' Cottage on Coos River. An informal good time was had and a most delicious picnic.

THE WISE OLD OWL

Said little Johnnie to the owl.
"I've heard you're wonderful wise
And so I'd like to question you,
Now, please don't tell me lies."

"The first thing, then, I'd have you tell
My empty mind to fill,
Pray was it that explosive beef
That made Chicago ill?"

"I've heard it said, yet do not know,
In fact, it may be bosh,
Then tell me, is it lots of dirt
That made Seattle Wash?"

"When certain things will not go straight
To right them we should try;
So, maybe, you can say what 'tis
Fets Providence R. I.?"

"Another thing I wish I could
Inform my waiting class
Is just how many priests it takes
To say the Boston Mass?"

"This is the time of running debts,
As you must surely know;
This secret then impart to me,
How much does Cleveland O'?"

"In ages, too, you must be learned,
More so than many men,
So tell me in a whisper, please,
When was Miss Nashville Tenn?"

"It takes great heat the gold to melt,
And iron takes much more;
Then is it true that here out West
The rain melts Portland Ore?"

"Some voices are so strong and full
And some so still and small,
Pray tell me, Mr. Wise Old Owl,
How loud could Denver Col'?"

"Some people loudly rave and roar
And others wildly slam;
Pray tell me, Mr. Wise Old Owl,
Why should be Beaver Dam?"

The owl he scratched his fathered head;
"I'm sorry little man;
Ask someone else—I cannot tell—
Perhaps Topeka Kan?"

"But I can tell you straight and sure
That drugs pure to the core
Are at the Owl Prescription Store."

Among her guests will be the Misses Grace and Evelyn Turney of Hood River who are guests of their cousin, Mair Dano, Miss Mamie Mahoney, Walter Butler and Mr. Dano. The Misses Turney will leave overland for their home at Hood River Monday after a most delightful stay on the Bay. Part of the past week they were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bachman in Ferndale and the latter part of the week, they were guests of Miss Laura Kruse at her outing party at Beal Lake.

ALUMNI PICNIC

A moonlight picnic, minus the moonlight, was given by the Four-Year High School Alumni Association to Jordan's Cove last Saturday night. A very delightful time was enjoyed by those present. Some could not attend, some on account of sickness and some for other reasons, but the crowd was a congenial one.
