LESS MEN FOR THE GUNS.

FRANCE is exceedingly gloomy over the figures, which show that her population decreased 34,869 during the past year, while that of her enemy, Germany, greatly increased. Considering men merely as meat for powder, France's figures may well startle her, for the decrease in population in 1911 very likely means a decrease of a dozen regiments 20 years hence, when the boys would be ripe for slaughter.

But God renews, and it is possible that by 1931 civilized, Christianized man will have abolished war. Maybe the civilized, Christian women of France are already refusing to bear children for army purposes.

THE JAY DRIVER

He drives his apoplectic steed with voice and reins and goad; no regulations does he heed, no laws that rule the road. Of all his faculties bereft, he is a trying sight; he never fails to take the left, when he should take the right. He swings his ancient caravan across the street or lane, and the anathemas of man fall on his head in vain. He stops to talk with neighbor Zinn, another hopeless Jay; they hold their teams and argue in the middle of the way; they prove the government is wrong, and roast the idle rich; and travelers who come along must see them in the ditch. Along the village street he reels, the heedless Jay, by heck, and breaks off fifty-seven wheels and makes ten rags a wreck. From left to right and back he pulls, and takes up far more space than would a herd of Durham bulls if they were in a race. In all the country out of doors the Jay is causing grief; of all the grievous rubes and bores he's easily the chief, and yet our statesmen rant and rave until the welkin busts, and weapons of destruction wave before the harmless trusts. And what our country needs, I say, is less of this turmoil; the law should gather in the Jay, and have him boiled in oil.

REAPER TRUST MAKES DENIAL

International Harvester Company Answers Government Suit Today.

(By Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times.)

ST. PAUL, Aug. 5.—The answer of the International Harvester company to a bill filed by the United States under the Sherman anti-trust law was filed in the United States district court at St. Paul today. The answer denies specifically all charges of restraint of trade, monopoly of unfair business practices. It alleges that prior to the formation of the company in 1902, the harvester business had been conducted in a wasteful manner and that only two manufacturers had a profitable business, while the business was decreasing and had become hazardous and unprofitable. The new company was organized to increase the efficiency and secure large economies and for expanding the foreign trade.

KILBURN ON FIRE

Passenger Steamer Has Narrow Escape Near Eureka.

EUREKA, Aug. 5.—Aflame from bed plates to cabin, dripping with oil and severed from the world by the failure of her wireless, the steamer F. A. Kilburn was saved from destruction last week by the heroic efforts of her crew. Two girls narrowly escaped suffocation. An oiler fell and broke his leg. Chief Engineer E. G. Clough and Sidney Aston, steward, who rescued the girls fell heavy on the oil drenched decks and were badly bruised.

The Kilburn, which left here early returned the following day under her own power. The ship caught fire off Point Arena at 10 o'clock. Fire broke out in the engine room as oil was being removed from one fuel tank to another. The flames were sucked up through the ventilating shaft to the staterooms, as through a chimney. Stifling, greasy black smoke filled the corridors. To add to the confusion the oil tanks were emptied and oil drenched the decks, making them like greased slides, in which the passengers and crew floundered about, slipping and falling at every lift and dip. After two hours of hard fight, the flames were placed under control and were finally extinguished.

A Wonderful Tonic That Aids Digestion

Thousands are unable to digest certain kinds of food. In most cases it is not the fault of the food, nor the stomach. It is probable that the stomach has been abused. Many resort to pre-digested foods and various kinds of medicines to get relief from dyspepsia, indigestion and heartburn, but without permanent benefit.

If your stomach was in perfect condition, you would not need medicine to digest the foods you eat. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is a stomach regulator. It gets the stomach in such a condition that it will digest food without other assistance. It overcomes the acidity and stimulates the coating of the stomach and intestines so that they will properly absorb and assimilate the nutriment from the food eaten. Sufferers from dyspepsia and indigestion will find permanent relief in a short time after beginning the use of the tonic. For children, the addition of a little sugar will make it most palatable.

Many forms of supposed indigestion are the result of intestinal parasites, for which Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is unsurpassed. Insist upon Jayne's; accept no other. Millions have praised it for more than eighty years. Sold by druggists everywhere. Dr. D. Jayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa.
