COL. ROOSEVELT IS PLACED IN NOMINATION IN CHICAGO

Named for Progressive Party's Nominee for Presidency This Afternoon.

WIDELY LAUDED IN NOMINATING SPEECH

Platform Committee Finishes Draft to Submit to Convention Late Today.

ROOSEVELT NOMINATED (By Associated Press.) CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 7.—Theodore Roosevelt was nominated for the presidency by the National Progressive Party this afternoon without opposition.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—The first floor debate of the National Progressive Party's convention was precipitated today while waiting for the completion of the platform when it was proposed to take a recess of an hour. Many of the delegates objected. They wanted to go ahead with the nomination speeches.

Henry J. Allen of Kansas led the opposition and was seconded by Wm. Woodruff of New York, former Governor of New Jersey and several others stood by the leaders in favor of the recess. The motion carried.

Medell McCormick, chairman of the committee on rules today presented the code governing the new organization. The report designated the new party "The Progressive Party." There was objection by some in dropping the word "National." The final adoption of the rules was not until the committee could consider the point anew.

A rule forbidding federal officers from sitting as national committee-men provoked a storm of applause which was renewed when the rule requiring states to have presidential primaries which read, providing that delegates to the Progressive conventions in the future should be selected under state laws whether they be optional or mandatory. Provisions were made that where state laws came into conflict with the rules of the convention the state law should prevail. Contested delegates are to be barred from taking part in the convention until their right to a seat is determined.

The rules were amended after the convention recessed. The name "The Progressive Party," was not changed, the provision being added however to recognize delegates from states where the party had been pre-empted by opponents of the new party. This situation exists in Pennsylvania, where Roosevelt followers were compelled to adopt the name "Washington Party." One amendment to the rules added four women to the national committee as members-at-large. The basis of representation was changed to provide one delegate for each congressional district and each 5000 votes cast for the party at the previous election, providing no state should have less than one delegate for each congressman and United States senator.

Praise for Roosevelt. At 1:50 this afternoon Colonel Roosevelt was placed in nomination for the presidency by W. A. Prendergast of New York.

In his speech nominating Colonel Roosevelt, Prendergast reviewed the conditions that led to the formation of the new party and his hopes for the future and declared "my candidate is more than a citizen, he is a national asset. In this momentous hour of political doubt when a nation has to decide whether it will follow the path of expediency or will grapple with the great economic problems of the time, there is no man in American life who presents such credentials for the task as Theodore Roosevelt.

This candidate has success written on every page of his official career, he has fought the most vicious enemies in American life and conquered them. He surrendered the presidency at a time when his re-election would have been a certainty in hope that other hands would prosecute the task he had not finished. That task has now been treated with intermittent loyalty and has largely been left undone. I ask that the task be again entrusted to him whose loyalty to principle has never faltered and whose breadth of experience qualifies him for all men for the duty."

Eight Will Second Judge Ben B. Lindsey was the first of eight seconding Lindsey spoke for twenty-five minutes and then Jane Adams was introduced to second the nomination on behalf of Illinois.

BUSY ON PLATFORM. Negro and Liquor Questions to be Included in it. (By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—A sub-committee of the National Progressive Party is hard at work today completing the final draft of their recommendations for the platform for the Progressive Convention. A long conference with Col. Roosevelt was held this morning. It was said the platform had been cut to less than 3,500 words. There was a sharp discussion during the night session on the negro question and it was reported that a plank on the subject had been inserted after a close vote. The liquor traffic was also reported the subject of a plank.

The Progressive Party platform as finally approved by the committee on resolutions and Col. Roosevelt was given out late this afternoon to be taken up in the convention after the nominations.

COLLECTION OF TAXES FOUGHT

Southern Oregon Company Enjoins Sheriff Gage from Proceeding.

COQUILLE, Or., Aug. 7.—Following Judge Wolverton's ruling that the Southern Oregon company must pay the taxes on its land grant holdings in Coos county, Sheriff Gage took steps immediately to collect it. However, before he had proceeded very far, he was served with an injunction restraining him from selling, advertising for sale or otherwise proceeding to enforce the collection. The details of the last action that the Menasha Woodware company, which now owns the Southern Oregon company, has begun to prevent the collection of the taxes on its land grant holdings in Coos county are not known here as the suit was begun in federal court at Portland.

VETO MAY HOLD UP SALARIES AGAIN

Senate Passes Federal Officers Appropriation Bill in a Way That Is Objectionable to President.

(By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times) WASHINGTON, D. C., August 7.—Limited terms for civil service employees, the abolition of the Commerce Court and the retention of the five judges as extra circuit court judges will be submitted to President Taft as provisions on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. All these proposals already approved by the House were adopted by the Senate today by a vote of 30 to 19 against the opposition of Senators Cummins, Crawford, Burton and Lodge. Taft's friends say he will veto the bill although in doing so he will hold up his own salary and that of every member of Congress and every United States judge. Such action would delay further the annual appropriation over due since July 1.

GOV. WILSON IS NOTIFIED TODAY

Formally Accepts Democratic Presidential Nomination at Seagirt.

(By Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times.) SEAGIRT, N. J., Aug. 7.—Governor Wilson was officially informed today that he was chosen at the Baltimore convention as the nominee for the presidency on the democratic ticket. Briefly and simply, Wilson was notified by Senator-elect Ollie James of Kentucky who emphasized as he said that Gov. Wilson had obtained the honor untrammelled by obligations and unembarrassed by affiliations of any kind. Though Gov. Wilson spoke in acceptance theoretically to the fifty-two members of the committee representing each state and territory in the United States, his speech sounding the depth of his political philosophy was heard by great throngs. Prominent democrats, governors of many states, their families, members of Women's National Democratic League and a multitude of seaside folks came from up and down the Jersey coast to attend the exercises.

ARMSTRONG TO BE CANDIDATE

Report That North Bend Will Name Him for Port Commissioner Race.

It was reported here today that a movement had been started in North Bend to have Herbert Armstrong, resident manager of the Menasha Woodware and Southern Oregon companies, chosen as one of North Bend's two candidates for port commissioner. It had been understood that C. S. Winsor and L. J. Simpson would be the two candidates but a movement for the selecting of Armstrong and Simpson is now said to be on.

Today, a petition for nominating J. A. Ward of Millicoma was placed in circulation. The nominating petitions of W. S. Chandler, Dr. E. Mings, A. H. Powers, Henry Sengstacken, Duncan Ferguson, W. F. Squire, W. J. Rust, E. A. Anderson and A. O. Rogers have been filed so far.

Cooston Wants in Wm. E. Homme of Cooston was in Marshfield today on business and reports that a meeting of the residents of that section called the other day on matters connected with the Kenwill Telephone company was devoted largely to a discussion of Port Commission matters. Most of those present were in favor of J. A. Ward and A. O. Rogers for two of the commissioners.

They also thought that something should be done to insure a division of the commissioners for the various parts of the districts. It was proposed to divide the whole district into three or five districts, allowing Marshfield and North Bend three of the commissioners and electing the other two from the outside. A committee consisting of H. A. Ward, A. O. Kelland and G. Gilbertson was selected to confer with the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce and the North Bend Commercial Club to see what could be done about dividing up the commission.

The battleship champions insisted today that they would take no further action looking to a gathering of the party but would consider themselves free to act in the House. The leaders have evolved no plan but an agreement to accept the Senate's proposal to one battleship would be brought about it said.

STILL PROBE JOINER CASE

Sheriff Gage Investigating Disappearance—Arrests Expected Soon.

Sheriff Gage is still investigating the disappearance of Wm. Joyner from his ranch below Empire. He went down this morning in company with C. G. Hockett.

It is understood that Sheriff Gage is going on the theory that Joyner has met with foul play and while he is endeavoring to find what has been done with Joyner before making any arrests.

It was reported today that Detective Ghosht of Portland has been probing the Evans murder case on South Slough with in the last few weeks. This investigation, it is said, stirred up the feeling that broke there among some of the South Slough denizens last spring and is believed that the trouble might have had something to do with Joyner's disappearance.

Peculiar Chap. Joyner was decidedly a peculiar chap. He was nearly six feet tall, straight and made a good appearance. In fact, he was a good looking fellow. He had a small moustache, rather sandy and had brown hair. He appeared to be about thirty years old. He weighed probably 160.

He apparently had a good education, writing a good hand and being able to carry on a more intelligent conversation than would be expected from his recent surroundings. He had served in the army.

He came to Coos county three or four years ago from the north. He told little of his past but spoke occasionally of his mother in the east.

He was decidedly dissolute in his habits. He rented the small ranch on which he has been living from the Simpson Lumber company.

HANFORD CASE PROBE URGED

(By Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times.) WASHINGTON, D. C., August 7.—Representative Berger, author of the impeachment charges against former Judge Hanford of Seattle, urged upon Attorney General Wickersham today the prosecution of some of the men mentioned in the investigation. CHECK ARTIST AT ROSEBURG

Worthless Paper Floated Here—No Trace of Coos Bay Swindler Found.

So far, the local officers have been unable to find any definite trace of Chas. Daniels, or whatever his name might be who passed bogus checks on the Claymore saloon, of Marshfield, Chris Petersen, S. S. Jennings and Chas. Thom of North Bend last week. It believed that he left on a boat before the checks were discovered to be bogus. Roseburg merchants have been having a similar experience but owing to the bad checks having been passed there about the same time they were passed on Coos Bay, it is thought that different men turned the tricks. The following from the Roseburg News tells the story of the worthless paper floated there:

"Jerry Tuzar, who for the past six months has been in this city posing as a painter, Saturday took advantage of the acquaintances he had made here and passed a number of worthless checks on local business men and then made a hurried departure. Simon Caro cashed one of the checks calling for $5.00, R. B. Matthews was stung for a similar amount. The New York store cashed another for $11.00 while a local barber, Elmer Damatta, took a chance for $5.00. It is understood that the checks were all drawn on the Douglas National Bank and bore various signatures. Some of them were ostensibly drawn by a C. H. Miller and payable to Tuzar, others were drawn by Tuzar.

"Warrants have been issued for his arrest but as it is more than likely Tuzar has left the city, no arrests have been made. Tuzar has been here for some time and has held himself out as an artist. He has done considerable interior decorating in cafes and other places it is understood that he was an experienced gambler and that when not engaged in painting he has plied his skill with the cards."

File New Freight Tariffs with the Interstate Commerce Commission Today.

INTER-MOUNTAIN RATE IS REDUCED SLIGHTLY

Reduction Order of Commission Carried Out at Expense of Coast.

(By Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 7.—General increases in freight rates on commodities to become effective September 2 are proposed in new tariffs filed by transcontinental railroads with the Interstate Commerce Commission. While the new rates are designed to meet the commission's decision in the Spokane, Reno and Phoenix rate cases and would reduce the rates to intermountain territory, they would materially increase the rates from all eastern to Pacific coast points.

The proposed tariffs which are to affect all transcontinental traffic were filed by R. H. C. Countiss of Chicago for all the transcontinental railroads. It always has been contended by the railroads that these rates were too low.

The commission has not checked up the tariffs with present rates but such an examination as has been possible indicates that the increases to the Pacific terminals are considerably greater than the reductions to the inter-Rocky mountain territory. Countiss says that some railroad rates to terminal points are advanced on commodities which are not subject to water competition to any great extent. This adjustment, he points out, creates an advance to the terminals but reduces the rates to interior destinations. Some commodity rates in force at present are absolutely eliminated, thus automatically transferring the articles shipped to the western classification under which the rates would be considerably higher than at present. Countiss maintains this adjustment would relieve the discrimination against interior destinations which now exist.

PERRINE LAD BEFORE JUDGE

LYLE PERRINE OF ROSEBURG, SLAYER OF JONATHAN QUICK, UP IN JUVENILE COURT AT COQUILLE.

IN FATHER'S CUSTODY. COQUILLE, Ore., Aug. 7.—Judge Hall in juvenile court found Lyle Perrine a delinquent minor and placed him in charge of his father subject to the order of the court. The case will not be taken before the grand jury, Judge Hall deciding that there was no evidence except that of the boy and anyway the lad was too young for criminal prosecution.

COQUILLE, Ore., Aug. 7.—Lyle Perrine, the Roseburg boy who shot and killed Jonathan Quick of Coquille at Bandon the day before yesterday, will be arraigned before Judge John F. Hall in juvenile court today. On account of the lad's youth and his confessed guilt, the officials are puzzled what to do about the case. Judge Hall will probably take the matter under advisement owing to the seriousness of the boy's crime.

PENSION BILL CLASH. (By Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The fight to pass the $150,000,000 pension appropriation bill was lost by a tie vote in the senate today and the measure was sent back to the house for a further conference. After a motion to agree to the house amendment to abolish the seventeen pension agencies had been lost on a tie vote, the senate agreed by a vote of 29 to 28 to stick to its demand that the pension agencies be retained. This is the only point that the house and senate are at out on.
