the most attractive Myrtle wood products ever turned out on the Bay.

Plan Improvements—The Eastside city council had a meeting last evening and decided to open up about two blocks of Second avenue west, near the waterfront. It also decided to have a plank walk put in from the Bay City mill to the Eastside school house.

Slightly Injured—While cutting a large alder tree on his ranch on Catching Inlet recently W. J. Bonebrake was struck on the right leg which was badly bruised. He narrowly escaped being struck on the head which would probably have killed him.

Are Married—Word has been received here of the marriage in Idaho of J. Frank Evans, formerly of the Everitt Pharmacy of North Bend, and Miss Elizabeth Hartkopf, who is well known on the Bay through visits made her sister, Mrs. L. F. Diringer, and with other friends. They will reside in Idaho.

Many Respond—The Chamber of Commerce is receiving many replies from the judges and clerks of the special Port of Coos Bay election to be held August 27 saying that the notices have been posted according to instructions. These returns will guard against any possible technical defect similar to the one on which the old Port of Coos Bay was held invalid.

Kollock Here—John K. Kollock of Portland, who is prominent in Rose City financial circles and who is well known here through being receiver for Major Kinney's Plat B properties passed through here today en route to Curry county on matters connected with the Hume estate. It was reported that he was here on matters connected with the Kinney properties but W. J. Rust, the trustee, said this was not the case.

For Port Orford—The Triumph left today for Port Orford with quite a party of local people to attend the Agate Carnival which will open there tomorrow. Among those going were Vince Pratt, Jay Tower, Charles Howard, Jack Merceen, George Flanagan, C. D. Lash and Chas. Stauff. Jack Flanagan, Willis Kennedy, W. E. Dungan and others, now in Curry, will join them there to assist in a minstrel show performance.

Enjoy Banquet—About twenty-five members of Mammoth Lodge No. 87, A. O. U. W., last evening participated in a banquet at the Odd Fellows hall which was tendered as a welcome to J. B. Gentry, deputy Grand Master of the Oregon A. O. U. W. W. W. Steckle presided. Mr. Gentry spoke at length on the order, explaining its object and workings and recent changes in it. C. F. McKnight and S. B. Cathcart were the principal other speakers although most of those present participated in an informal discussion of lodge matters. It was one of the best and most enjoyable sessions that Mammoth Lodge has held in a long time.

J. H. MILNER and son, Bill, returned today from a hunting and fishing trip in the Siuslaw country. Mr. Milner says the Porter Brothers are putting in some fine construction camps along the lower Siuslaw but that he did not see any indications of work being done south from the Siuslaw.

J. ALBERT MATSON came down today from "The Nook." He is gradually recuperating from his strenuous hunting trip, one foot still being sore. He says deer are unusually plentiful and that each of his party could have got the limit had they so desired. He saw one party of four that had killed seventeen deer.

J. C. KENDALL returned last evening from his Curry county hunting trip. He and his party killed eleven deer near Bald Mountain. Most of the party remained for the Port Orford Agate carnival. He reports that many auto parties were there for the entertainment. M. A. Sweetman who was with his party found two small pockets of gold and succeeded in getting some of the valuable dust.

J. L. KOONTZ has returned from a short outing at Gardiner. Mrs. Koontz and the children remained for a longer stay with Capt. and Mrs. A. D. Hall, Mr. Hall being lighthouse keeper at the mouth of the Umpqua. Mr. Koontz says that the Southern Pacific is getting everything in readiness to start work on the tunnel between the Umpqua and Ten Mile lakes this fall and it is expected that the driving of the "big bore" will begin soon.
