EXPENSIVE ECONOMY

THE New York Evening Post has computed the cost of transporting the governor of Oregon the five hundred miles that he recently traveled on horseback, to save, as he said, the expense of railroad fare.

It might be added that the time consumed in this leisurely mode of travel would be an important item to the average executive unless he is seeking a rest cure or vacation trip.

It may be news to the New York and Iowa editors that much of the country covered by Governor West could not be reached by railroads.

POPULARITY

We all desire the world's applause and for it strive and strain; it's labor in a worthy cause, but often done in vain.

GOOD WORDS FOR NORTON

As an illustration of what a reputable horseman has to contend with in some communities we quote the case of F. P. Norton of Marshfield, Or., well known throughout the Northwest as a sincere admirer of the harness race horse and the racing sport.

Detroit Aldermen Say Confession Made Is False.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 13.—Maledictions mingled with threats and counter charges were heaped upon Edward Schreiter, the deposed clerk of the common council committee, by the accused officials, when Schreiter appeared in the police court today with eighteen aldermen for arraignment on the bribery charges preferred in connection with the Wabash street closing deal.

PRICE'S DOG.

I like my neighbor, Price. He's always kind and nice, and never lets a chance to please go by. He lets me pluck a rose, or borrow garden hose. He takes me to his cellar when I'm dry. He has a garden patch, when passing by I catch the music of his strong and cheerful voice.

That dog begins to bark as soon as it is dark, and never ceases till the morning's dawn. He bays, and hoots, and howls, and sings, and bawls, and growls until I feel like trying out my brawn. I try to go to sleep, and then I swear and weep, and when the morning comes I am a sight, but, then with dawning sun when Rover's song is done, I'm sorry that my temper had such might.

These percolators produce coffee that appeals to all lovers of good coffee because they extract only the delicate aroma and delightful flavor of the bean. Coffee thus made is harmless, because it contains a minimum of caffeine or other ingredients that make ordinary coffee harmful to many people. Delicious Coffee in Nine Minutes

When attached to any convenient electric light socket these percolators are ready for instant service. They are safe, clean, convenient and reliable.

The presence of an electric percolator on any table adds that touch of "something different" and "something better" in keeping with Haviland china and Sterling silverware.
