ROOM FOR A GOOD MAN

HERE are never any vacancies in a well-conducted business, but there's always room for a good man.

It is true in all kinds of business.
The whole world is full of good places for a good man.

The practical question confronting every young man is not:
Is a big job ready for you?

But:
Are you ready for a big job?

If you have the right stuff in you you don't have to go crawling on your stomach for any man's favor.
You don't need to beg for a job as though you were asking charity.

But don't swell up and wait for big jobs to come after you with a brass band. People will not take you at your own unsupported estimate. You have to show them.

Lots of us envy the man in the high place, thinking we could fill it as well as he does. It's up to us to work up to it as he did.

Ninety-nine men in a hundred think they could cut a fine figure if only they could be picked up and set upon a ready-made pedestal.
But there's nobody in the business of making pedestals for others to stand on.

Men's abilities are measured by what they have done, not by what they think they could do if somebody else gave them a chance.

Most of the men in the world who have amounted to much never had half a chance until they made it themselves.

SMILES

If you go around the world with countenance nicely curled up into a pleasant smile, the people you meet will say, as you waddle along your way, that you are a man worth while.
I don't mean a silly grin; that sort of a thing will win no praise as it loops the loops; for there are a dozen styles (the same as in hats) of smiles, and some aren't worth three whoops. The kind of a smile I mean is the smile that is daily seen on the face of the cheerful gent who regulates things so well that honor and comfort dwell for aye in his moving tent. He works like a brindled steer, serenely, year after year, as gay as your marriage bells; and when it is time to play he utters a loud "hoor-ray!" and kicks up his heels and yells. Collection day never frets this man, for he has no debts, he pays as he goes along; and down in the banker's vaults some guilders each week he salts, and life is a grand sweet song. He mixes in no foes' strife, but sanely he lives his life, contented and calm and cool; he helps people in a plight, and treats all his neighbors white, and sticks to the Golden Rule. The smile on his face unrolled is genuine, good as gold, extending from ear to ear; and you'll never wear that grin unless you at once begin a useful and sane career.

WAITING

OLD Bill Haskins said this morning, "I've a wheel beneath my hat." Said he "I have watched and waited till I'm dippy as a bat.
I have waited for a harbor, and have waited for a bar. I have waited for a railroad—for a sight of Pullman car. I have waited, waited, waited for promoters to make good. I have laid in bed and waited while my wife was chopping wood. I have read, till eyes were blister'd, ev'ry word of hoarding news, and have waited for fulfillments till I cannot pay my dues. I have waited for reductions in the price of grub and rent. I have waited for a fortune till my money all is spent."

"So," says he, "this is the problem—shall I longer watch and wait?
Shall I keep right on at dreaming till I reach the Golden Gate?"

O. Bill Haskins, cease your dreaming. You can hustle while you wait.
Keep your eye upon the country.
Things are coming though they're late. "Faith," they say, "will move a mountain." Hopes will soon be realized. But, you'd better work while waiting is the way I have things shied.

—BOB STANLEY.

BOARDS VESSEL
FROM LIFE BOAT

S. A. Saunders Makes Quick Journey to See His Dying Father.

Receiving word that his father, William Saunders of Empire, was in a dying condition, S. A. Saunders who is employed at the government works at St. Stevens made a quick trip to Coos Bay on the steamer which arrived in today. Mr. Saunders received the wire at 5 p. m. yesterday and at 5:45 p. m. the breakwater passed and he was aboard. He was brought out to the vessel by the life savers and Capt. Macgenn took him aboard. Mr. Saunders did not have time to make any preparations or change his clothing.

LOCAL OVERFLOW.

—Boy in Trouble.—Constable Cox will go to Allegany tomorrow to bring a young boy named Whitted, the stepson of Mrs. George Stemmerman, here for arraignment before Judge Hall in juvenile court. Many complaints have been made against the lad.

—Will Run.—Anson Rogers of Coos River was in Marshfield today on business. The announcement that he might withdraw as a candidate for port commissioner caused his friends to rush to him and insist that he remain in the race. He has finally consented to do so, much to the gratification of his many friends.

TO CHECK UP
DREDGE WORK

Chief Clerk of Government Engineer's Office Will be on the Bay Soon.

Chief Clerk Clark of the United States Engineer's Office at Portland will arrive here next Sunday to check up the work of the Dredge Oregon and look after other details relative to the government harbor work. Captain Macgenn was informed while in Portland of Mr. Clarke's proposed visit.

Captain Macgenn has had the matter of improving the channel in the lower Bay up with Major Morro, and the United States Engineer's office at Portland and has been assured that it will be put in good condition before the Oregon leaves for Grays Harbor. He has furnished them detailed information relative to the various shoals and Mr. Clarke will look this matter up while on the Bay with a view of further improving the channel.

Captain Macgenn said that in the five or six weeks that the Oregon is to remain here, much can be accomplished towards putting the channel in the lower Bay in the condition that it should be.

He says the Oregon is now doing very good work, the long pipe line carrying the dredgings far enough back so that there is little danger of the dredgings being washed back into the channel.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT

The Newark sailed yesterday for the Suilaw with a cargo of general merchandise.

The tug Roberts sailed yesterday for the Suilaw with a cargo of general merchandise.

The Nann Smith is in from Bay Point to load at the Smith mill.

The Alliance sails from Portland this evening for Coos Bay.

The Redondo sails this afternoon from San Francisco for Coos Bay.

The Wilhelmina is due in tomorrow from the Suilaw. She has been chartered to carry considerable freight for Porter Bros. into the Suilaw, both from Coos Bay and Yaquina. It is understood.

AMONG THE SICK.

E. W. Schrock of Empire, who has been seriously ill at the Mercy hospital, is very much improved and was able to be removed yesterday to the home of his son, William Schrock, at North Bend, where he will remain for a few days.

Mrs. Leed, who recently arrived here with her family from Spokane, underwent an operation for appendicitis at Mercy hospital last night, and is reported getting along nicely. The family has been residing in the Mrs.
Morlarly home in South Marshfield.

These percolators produce coffee that at once appeals to all lovers of good coffee because they extract only the delicate aroma and delightful flavor of the bean.
Coffee thus made is harmless, because it contains a minimum of caffeine or other ingredients that make ordinary coffee harmful to many people.
Delicious Coffee in Nine Minutes When attached to any convenient electric light socket these percolators are ready for instant service.
They are safe, clean, convenient and reliable.
The presence of an electric percolator on any
