

CIGARS: Why smoke five cent cigars, when you can have two-for-a-quarter ones for practically the same money by taking advantage of

The Owl's Special Advertising Sale of Cigars

For a short time only we can supply you real Havanas in boxes of 100 for $5.75. $3.00 for 50. 4 for 25c.

These are the same cigars as the Elisardo, so well known here. You pay 2 for 25c, for Elisardos, or $5.75 is the best you can do on 50. I can sell you 100 at that price. See the special--and the only difference is that one cigar is distributed by a Portland firm, the other from San Francisco.

While the 7,000 lasts this special holds good, but they're going fast.

Order a box tonight--come in and try one anyway.

This is a special just to get you acquainted with The Owl Prescription Pharmacy.

Left on Stage—Those going out this morning on the Roseburg stage were Charles J. Toehlen and Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Kenyon.

Stopping at Coos Hotel—A large number of the Baltimore students who arrived yesterday took apartments at the Coos Hotel.

New Booth—The Busy Corner Drug Store is having a private telephone booth installed which will be another convenience for the patrons.

Mill Resumes—The C. A. Smith mill resumed operations yesterday after having been shut down for a couple of days on account of the breaking of the big drive belt.

Looking for Rooms—The boys who make up the class in forestry here with Dr. Schenck have been busy yesterday and today looking up lodging places. Quite a number found rooms with private families.

Enjoy Picnic—Chas. Hunter and family, Mr. Glossop and family, Wm. Gale and wife, Mert Curry and family and Billy Smith and family constituted a picnic party who enjoyed an outing at Charleston Bay Sunday.

Wed Here—Alex Johnson and Miss Ellen Brantt were married Saturday evening at the John Hill residence, the Rev. J. E. Oslund officiating. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Hill. They will reside in Marshfield.

Writes Article—The current issue of the Moose Herald, the official paper of the Order of Moose for the northwest which is published in Portland, contains an article written by S. W. Green, the organizer who is now in this city.

Funeral Not Decided—The time of the funeral of the late George H. Parker has not yet been decided upon. The relatives here had not yet determined whether the burial will be in this city or the body taken to the old home in Nova Scotia for burial.

Leave on Auto—The Drain-Allegany auto resumed service this morning, the road being reported in good condition between Allegany and Scottsburg. Among those going out this morning were W. G. Stearns, Anderson Hongel, J. A. Haines and G. W. King.

Drag for Joyner—Victor Wittig of North Bend is still dragging the lower Bay and South Slough for the body of W. H. Joyner whose mysterious disappearance has not been solved yet. Archie Phillips was dragging for a time but has given up the effort. It is said that a place has been discovered where a couple of sacks of rock were removed, near the spring where Joyner is alleged to have been shot, and it is claimed the rock was used as ballast to sink the body.

Firm Changes—Fred Knudson is now sole proprietor of the Baltimore Cate at Commercial and Broadway, having purchased the interest of his partner, Bill Brown, yesterday. Mr. Knudson will conduct the place alone now. Mr. Brown has not made definite plans but may remain on the Bay.

Comes to Marshfield—The Roseburg Review says: "William Wimmer, until recently engaged in the barber business in the Wollenberg building on Cass street, has gone to Marshfield where he intends to remain permanently. The room formerly occupied by Mr. Wimmer has been leased by Mr. Wilson, the shoe repairer."

Child Baptised—Verne Lester Ewald Hill, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hill, was baptised Saturday evening by the Rev. J. E. Oslund. The christening ceremony took place immediately after the marriage of Alex Johnson and Miss Ellen Brantt, the bride being the sister of Mrs. Hill, and the newly-weds acted as sponsors.

Get Out Ties—The Estabrook company is supplying a large amount of railroad ties for the Santa Fe and other roads, according to parties returning from Bandon. The company is having difficulty to secure sufficient men to get out the ties south of Bandon rapidly enough to fill the orders and is now planning to employ a number of workmen.

Conference Next Month—Rev. H. I. Rutledge is arranging to leave here about September 15 to attend the annual conference of the Methodist church which will be held at Ashland. Following are conference, he and Mrs. Rutledge will go to Saskatchewan, Can., to visit his relatives who have moved there from their old home in Iowa.

Funeral Tomorrow—The funeral of the late Martin Allison will be held at ten o'clock tomorrow morning from the Dungan Undertaking parlors at 545 South Broadway. So far it has been impossible to find any of Allison's relatives if he has any. Several letters from out of town friends have been found and these persons will be written and informed of the death.

At Euegren's Grove—The first annual free picnic of the Blue Ridge Tigers will be held next Sunday at Euegren's Grove on Coos River. It was erroneously announced yesterday that it would be on Daniels Creek. Everything will be free, three boats being operated between Marshfield and the grounds to accommodate the public. Prof. Raymond is in charge of the arrangements for it.

Raise Wages—The Eastside school board at a meeting last evening voted to increase the wages of the two teachers there for the ensuing year. Mrs. Selma Thomas, the principal was advanced from $65 to $75 per month and Miss Franse, her assistant, was advanced from $55 to $60 per month. Both teachers have served the district a number of terms and the advance is in appreciation of the excellent service they have given.

Buy Business—W. F. Harmon this morning purchased H. C. Miller's interest in the cleaning and pressing establishment on Front street, near Central, which has been occupying the quarters jointly with the Harmon Tailoring company. Mr. Harmon plans to devote most of his time to the office business now and will have others on the road. Mr. Miller left for his old home near Corvallis, his mother being critically ill there.

Just Quit Work—John Dowe, one of the nine sailors on the Redondo who quit Sunday, objects to the matter being referred to as a strike, saying that the men simply quit work because they did not wish to work with an inexperienced winch-driver. He bought a ticket to sail on the Redondo but was put off at Empire. Purser Reynolds informing him that the boat was overcrowded. Seven of the sailors left via Bandon for San Francisco and Dowe and another remained to try and get the money which the sailors claim is coming to them.

Work Near Bend—U. N. Hoffman of The Bulletin of Bend, Oregon, arrived here yesterday to visit his old friend, L. M. Tozier, for a few days. Mr. Hoffman reports that the Southern Pacific is prosecuting the work vigorously on its East and West line across Oregon and that the people there hope that it will be only a short time until the road becomes a reality. Mr. Hoffman was formerly assistant city editor of The Ledger at Tacoma but had to give it up on account of his health and went to Bend to rusticate but soon got back in the newspaper game. He has converted The Bulletin into one of the best weekly papers in the state.

Railroad Men—Messrs. Cool and Welcks of MacArthur Perks Co. left North Bend on the Breakwater today for Portland. From there they will go to Eugene for a short stay.

Contouring Plan—Col. Brigham, city engineer of North Bend, was in the city today. He says that the plan for contouring the hill district in North Bend is up to the property owners. The idea is to vacate the sixty foot streets in a large tract and then make new streets according to the contour of the land. In some cases it will likely require the changing of the position of the residences but the narrower streets will give the property owners about 120 more lots and thus a greater area in which to beautify their places. The contouring of the hill is regarded by many in North Bend as being the only practical way of handling that part of the city and moreover will make a beautiful residence district.

May Build—It is understood that J. W. Bennett and Tom Maginnis are figuring on erecting a business block on the Maginnis property at the north west corner of Market and Broadway.

No Fires Yet—The late rains have postponed the fire danger season in Coos county until it looks now as there would not be any forest fires. So far it has not been necessary for the Coos County Fire Patrol Association to put out any extra men.
