Little Stories of Little Ones

TWENTY-EIGHTH CHILD MAKES WOMAN PROUD

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Her twenty-eighth child, an eight pound boy, was born recently to Mrs. Phillip E. Webster. He is a healthy youngster, and, according to the proud mother, is the best looking of the whole family. Mrs. Webster is 44 years of age, and was married at 16. Of her children, there were three pairs of twins and two sets of triplets. Eight of the 28 are still alive.

The youngest mother recorded in medical history is an eleven-year-old girl near Davenport, Iowa, who gave birth to an eight and one half pound child.

TWINS AFTER TWINS IN THE PEDAGOGUE'S FAMILY

GOLDEN, Colo., Aug. 29.—The birth of twin boys in the family of Professor Charles D. Test, of the department of mineralogy in the State School of Mines here proved no exception to an ancestral characteristic. Professor Test himself is a twin, Mrs. Test has a twin sister, and Professor Test's father came into the world with a brother.

STATE AID TO MOTHERS

Marshfield, Ore., Aug. 29, 1912

Editor Times:—

Speaking of "State Aid to Mothers" and the bill to go before the Colorado Legislature for this purpose: Fathered by the only Ben Lindsey, St. Paul of today, the writer months ago in submitting a bill to the People's Power League of Oregon for an eight hour Law and Minimum Wage for Men and Women, likewise drew and presented one to pay every widow within the State of Oregon, having children, and possessing no means of support, a fixed sum each month by the state equivalent to the minimum earnings of one ordinary workman for 26 working days, and her minor children to be guaranteed

QUADRUPLETS AND ALL ARE DOING WELL

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 29.—The Hub now claims another record. Recently Mrs. F. H. Seeley of Dorchester, presented her husband with quadruplets—all girls. All are well and they did nothing but coo and take their turn "at table."

Miss Flora Welch, matron of the hospital wherem other and babies are said there was no case on record of quadruplets living as long as the Seeley babies.

"Along about 8 o'clock in the four began screaming lustily, so we think they will live."

employment by the Municipality where she resides under the law governing minors, said earnings to be deducted from her state paid salary. The reasons are obvious why in this case that a monthly salary is preferred to a lump sum.

Compare the salary method and its bountiful assurance to defenseless widows and helpless children to life insurance soon lost, frequently ill-spent and the means employed for temporary relief to the widows and orphans of the recent North Star disaster.

The writer at that time, considering it a really psychological moment favoring the well known movement in Oregon for State Aid to Widows or Mothers, vainly looked for one newspaper article making any reference to the subject. Are they afraid the good thing might happen?

The bill likewise carries one half pay to aged or infirm widows having no means of their own.

Does anybody want it? Are there any newspapers in Oregon that will take a vote in their community on this subject and report the result to U. S. U'Ren, Secretary of the Peoples' Power League of Oregon, Oregon City, Oregon? I wonder!

Remember no matter who you are, this widow or mother might be your "Best Beloved" and the orphans your "little boys" and girls.

WORKING ON ELECTRIC LINE

Construction Camps Established Between Eugene and Monroe.

In regard to the P. E. & E. railroad the Eugene Guard says:

"Little is being heard of the work of building the Eugene-Monroe extension of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern electric line, but the contractors are making all haste possible with the grading. Camps are strung all along the line between the two points, the first one out of Eugene being in charge of Sub-Comptroller Wrenn, about five miles out of Eugene west. This camp is located on the Madison place, which is on the road that connects the main Sluskie road with the Crow road. The camp is also near the point of the crossing of the new Coos Bay line with the P. E. & E.

"The men and teams stationed at this camp have already through two or three miles of grade, although none of it is as yet completed. They are working on both sides of the camp and seem to be making good progress. The grading is not heavy at that point, and the earth is thrown up with plows and scrapers. While this camp is due west of the city, the line extends partly in a northwesterly direction along there, turning to the north further out.

"The trees and brush on the right-of-way through the Wilmer place just outside the city are being cut, and grading will begin there perhaps during the week. The graders from the Wrenn camp are working toward the city as well as the other way and will soon reach the point on the Coosger place where the line enters the county road and runs into the city along its south edge.

"On the Coos Bay line, near its intersection of the P. E. & E. grade, the company has bought considerable ground, and it is doubtless the intention to establish a station there. The grade is widened at this point to three or four times its ordinary size, no doubt for sidetracks and pot buildings. It may be that Willamette Pacific (the Coos Bay road) and the P. E. & E. will use the same depot at that point."

TRIES TO ENTER HOUSE

Eugene Man Shoots at Unknown Person at Window

That another tragedy was attempted in Eugene similar to that claiming the life of Mildred Green, is the belief there. The Eugene Register gives the following:

"An unknown man, attempting to enter D. M. Purkerson's home on West Sixth street at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, was shot at by Mr. Purkerson, but escaped in the darkness.

"Shortly after 2 o'clock the Misses Hattie and Lily Purkerson, who occupy a room in the front part of the house, heard some one tiptoe up to the front door and try it. Later he went away, and the girls, after telling their parents, went back to bed. Three quarters of an hour later again heard the man come to the front of the house and begin tearing at the window screen. The girls screamed, and the man stepped back behind a small bush to hide. When Purkerson appeared at the window with the gun, the man skipped, and a falling curtain spoiled the aim.

"The street railway company's night watch and the neighbors were attracted by the commotion, but search revealed nothing, further than trampled down flower beds.

"The Purkerson residence is but a block from the Green home, and this attempt to enter the house, together with other like attempts leads to the belief that Mildred Green was killed by some demented person living in that part of the city. The prosecuting attorney's office declined to express a belief that there was any connection between the events."

WOULD HAVE LINCOLN

New Memento to be Brought From Rome to Kentucky Museum.

ROME, Aug. 21.—All hope having now been lost of finding the stone taken from the Agger of Servus Tullius in 1865, and destined as a memorial of Rome to Abraham Lincoln, Engineer Ferdinand Gerardi, one of the survivors of the committee of forty-seven years ago, has obtained from Signor Credaro, minister of public instruction, permission to take another similar stone to replace the one lost and to be sent probably to Harrods county, Kentucky, for the museum the great president.

Thomas J. O'Brien, United States ambassador to Italy, has expressed his satisfaction at the renewal of Italy's tribute to the American patriot, and has been willing to take it upon himself, once the stone is ready, to have it sent to America in such a way that this time there will be no danger of its failing to reach its destination.

The stone will bear the same Latin inscription and the same date, June 20, 1865, originally carved on the stone entrusted to British steamer "Ulla," which, commanded by a Captain Lincoln, sailed from Leghorn on August 4, 1865, and was wrecked near Bermuda, losing all her cargo, together with the precious memento.

MANY WILL EXHIBIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—R. B. Hale has returned from abroad and declares that far greater progress has been made in securing foreign participation than was possible at Chicago or St. Louis, and from present indications the Pan-American International Exposition will enjoy the greatest foreign participation in the history of Exposition Building.
