bride's parents, Rev. and Mrs. R. D. Mason. The young lady looked very sweet in her wedding gown of silk crepe de meteor, and carrying a shower bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern. Miss Lorene Mason, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, was becomingly gowned in white silk. E. George Smith, brother of the groom was best man.

The ring ceremony was performed by Rev. G. LeRoy Hall of Marshfield. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Lillian McCann of North Bend.

After the ceremony, a wedding supper was served to the wedding guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will leave Gravel Ford shortly for Daniels Creek, where they will make their future home.

Miss May Rozell and John Prentice, both of Empire, were married last Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. M. Rozell, Rev. D. A. McLeod, of North Bend, officiating. The Rozell home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with creeping vine and white roses. The bride was gowned in white silk mulla and presented a very pretty picture indeed against the floral background.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rozell were best man and bride's maid respectively. Only the immediate families of the couple were present at the ceremony, following which a sumptuous wedding dinner was served. A reception was given at the Rozell home in the evening and the dim light of the many Japanese lanterns strung through the cedars surrounding the house added real enchantment to the scene.

Those present at the reception were: Mr. John Prentice and bride, Mrs. A. M. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Al Nichols and daughters, Mrs. McMullen and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Rozelle, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rozelle, Mrs. Getty, Mrs. Victor Wickman, Mrs. W. W. Holden and children, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Hockett, Mrs. Ella J. Moore, Mrs. R. Widner, Mrs. William Magee, James Magee, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Wickman, Mrs. A. Wickman, Mrs. W. Hayden, Mrs. Fred Getty, Misses Alleen Getty, May Magee, Alpha Peterson, Annie Wickman, Mabel Wickman and Mr. John Wickman.

After a most enjoyable time had been spent in conversation, congratulations and admiring the beautiful wedding gifts, the guests were served delicious refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Prentice left Friday for Bandon which will be their future home. Their many friends unite in wishing them much success and happiness through their married life.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. E. W. Marshall the first Tuesday in October.

LIBRARY ENTERTAINMENT.

Charming as a June afternoon, dainty as the petal of a plum blossom, fragrant as a breath of life's morning and pretty as a picture of youth, the library entertainment at the Masonic Opera House last night was unique and beautiful. A score and more of pretty children, graceful as young gazelles, marched and moved in many intricate measures to the tuneful music of the dance and blithe love lyrics, to the delight and entertainment of a large audience.

Prof. Beggs scored another artistic triumph in his direction of these children's dances and the lady patronesses are to be congratulated and complimented on their success.

The evening opened with the Amazon drill in which more than a score of children from tiny tots to girls in teens, marched with military precision to the music of the orchestra, executing many difficult but pretty movements. Those participating in this number were Doris Sengstacken, Dorothy Byler, Edna Hawkman, Bess Flanagan, Helen Merchant, Florence Flanagan, Isabel Macgenn, Jane McLain, Alice Flanagan, Irene Oulmette, Eleanor Flanagan, Alma Pratt, Joana Imhoff, Mary Metlin, Helen Rees, Zella Swinford, Eileen Nichols, Charlotte McMullen, Ruby Pittman, Alice Johnson, Louise Gidley, Helen Flanagan, Agnes Burke, Edna Rees, Pasquin

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Tonight—Band dance at the Eagles' Hall.
"Forester-Sangerfest Initiation" at the Murch Cottage, South Coos River.

Bradfield, Louis K. Ballinger, Jr., Proctor Flanagan, Marion Horsfall, Katherine Stump, Alice Byler, Virginia Coke, Sylvia Ballinger.

This was followed with the beautiful Maypole dance cleverly executed by sixteen little girls. A pretty feature of this number was the crowning of the May Queen, Miss Anna Truman, by her Maid of Honor, Miss Isabel Macgenn. Both little ladies spoke their lines with understanding and appreciation. The others participating in this dance were: Ruby Pittman, Alice Johnson, Helen Flanagan, Agnes Burke, Edna Rees, Charlotte McMullen, Eileen Nichols, Edna Hawkman, Zella Swinford, Helen Rees, Alma Pratt, Irene Oulmette, Alice Flanagan, Isabel Macgenn, Louise Gidley and Anna Truman.

Florence Flanagan and Dorothy Byler made two Bonnie Scotch lassies in their kilts and danced the Highland fling in a way that would warm the heart of any man from the land of the heather.

Dainty little Sylvia Ballinger, three years old, and pretty as a picture, made her debut in a song, "Good Night, Mr. Moon," in a manner that won her way to all hearts.

The sword dance was skillfully performed by the following little girls: Doris Sengstacken, Alice Flanagan, Mary Metlin, Helen Merchant, Jane McLain, Isabel Macgenn, Bess Flanagan, Irene Oulmette, Agnes Burke, Florence Flanagan, Edna Hawkman, Joana Imhoff.

Eight girls prettily attired in middie costumes danced the sailor's hornpipe in a manner that won a hearty round of applause. They were: Edna Hawkman, Dorothy Byler, Doris Sengstacken, Helen Merchant, Florence Flanagan, Irene Oulmette, Bess Flanagan, Jane McLain, Mary Metlin.

Later Louis K. Ballinger, Jr., and Helen Flanagan did a sailor's hornpipe by themselves and were roundly applauded.

A solo minuet by Helen Flanagan and Pasquin Bradfield was a very pretty bit of graceful dancing.

Next came a Spanish dance by two very clever little señoritas, Edna Hawkman and Mary Metlin. They captured the house with their dainty, graceful movements, and were compelled to respond to an encore.

The minuet de la Coeur, danced by eight dainty little misses in the quaint costumes of colonial days was a very pretty picture and their dance was pretty and graceful. They were Dorothy Byler, Bess Flanagan, Jane McLain, Doris Sengstacken, Irene Oulmette, Charlotte McMullen, Helen Merchant, Florence Flanagan.

Proctor Flanagan in sailor's costume did the sailor's hornpipe in a manner that was professional and was given an ovation.

The skirt dance by members of the graduating class would have been a credit to professional actresses. The difficult evolutions were prettily executed in harmony with the tuneful music and made an instantaneous hit with the audience. Those in this dance were: Mary Metlin, Edna Hawkman, Helen Merchant, Jane McLain, Florence Flanagan, Doris Sengstacken, Bess Flanagan, Dorothy Byler.

The Irish tilt by Bess Flanagan was one of the features of the evening. This little lady is as light on her feet as a fairy, and stepped off Irish airs in a way to gladden any son of the Emerald Isle. She was compelled to respond to a hearty encore.

The song and dance, "I'd Love to Live in Loveland with a Girl Like You," by Helen Merchant and Doris Sengstacken, was a delight. Graceful, tuneful and colorful it made an irresistible appeal to the audience, and the little dancers were given a most enthusiastic round of applause. They were compelled to respond to two encores.

During the progress of the entertainment Prof. Beggs gave a number of exhibition dances with the rosebuds that were well received. Among those participating in these pretty little dances were Alice Byler, Katherine Stump, Sylvia Ballinger, Alice Louise Maloney, Eleanor Flanagan, Louis K. Ballinger, Jr., Virginia Coke and Proctor Flanagan.

Little Katherine Stump did some very graceful and pretty dancing in these exhibition dances.

The presentation of diplomas included a characteristic speech by J. W. Bennett that kept the audience in a roar of laughter.

The occasion marked the second graduating class ever given diplomas, which is an innovation inaugurated by Prof. Beggs. Those receiving diplomas last night were: Florence Flanagan, Doris Sengstacken, Bessie Flanagan, Jane McLain, Irene Oulmette, Helen Merchant, Mary Metlin, Edna Hawkman, Marion Horsfall, Dorothy Byler, Alice Flanagan.

CHURCH PICNIC.

Last Monday the Swedish Lutheran church gave a picnic at North Bend. It was the purpose of the church to give it in the Park but as bad weather set in the Pavilion was resorted to and everybody reports a most enjoyable time. The Alert took the crowd from Marshfield, leaving at 1 p. m., and a large number joined them in North Bend, about 150 people being present.

Games such as children and even older folks enjoy at times, were played, followed by a bounteous picnic lunch, which the ladies had prepared. The boat with its load of tired but happy merry-makers returned to Marshfield about 6 o'clock.

B. Y. P. U. MEETING

Last evening the Baptist Young People's Union enjoyed one of the best times it has ever had at a business and social gathering which was held with Mrs. E. Kelley, of South Fourth street. After the usual business session, the young people resorted to music and various games and for the next two hours the house rang with merriment. The game that perhaps caused the most excitement and laughter was "Jenkins." Captain Edwin Dolan and the members of his side winning the most points. At the close of this pleasant evening the hostess assisted by Mrs. Walter Richardson and daughter, Mrs. Daisy Anderson, served a delicious three course luncheon to the following guests: Rev. A. F. Bassford, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Doll, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Doll and son, Cecil, Mr. Anderson, Mrs. Chas. Marsh, Mrs. Graeff, Misses Mamie Gulyson, Francis Franse, Eva Dresser, Alice Tickell, Helen McLaughlin, Florence Rehfeld, Effie Church, Alice Richardson, Alpha Mauzey and Messrs. Edwin Dolan, George Doll, Bartlett Flanagan, Florent Richardson, Howard Kelly and Eugene Kelley, Mr. Anderson.

After the young folks had enjoyed some more music the merry crowd bid the hostess good night, thanking her for such a good time.
