CAPTAIN MACGOWN TO BE ON HAND FOR T. R.

Mariner is Every Inch a Bull Moose and Wants Everybody to Know It. Captain T. J. Macgown, of the steamship Breakwater, besides being an inventor, poet and mariner, is now a politician, and this morning he was exploiting the fact at the Custom House and trying to convince the Government employees that the Bull Moose party is the only one worth a ballot.

With a "Hurrah for Teddy!" the skipper came into port at the marina clerk's window and informed that official that he had been appointed delegates to everything Rooseveltian happening in Portland by the Progressives of Coos Bay.

The captain does not take his honor lightly, but uses every opportunity to boost Roosevelt and the Bull Moose organization. The Breakwater will be in port when the Colonel comes to Portland, and Macgown expects to meet him.

"No, sir," declared the captain this morning. "I don't find my duties as delegate arduous in the least. In a few minutes after the party was started over at Coos Bay we had twenty new members and there was nothing beside the total number. I had to change my boarding place to get a quiet meal, so anxious were people to become Bull Moose."

Captain Macgown is the inventor of the new bell buoy, which will be tried at Sand Island by the lighthouse service.—Portland Telegram.

Mrs. Leid, who recently underwent an operation at Mercy hospital, has recovered sufficiently to return to her home in South Marshfield.

M. L. Curry of the Bradshaw-Kimball company sustained a rather severe injury Saturday by being struck by a piece of emery wheel. The wheel broke while he was working on it and a piece struck him in the forehead. At first, it was feared that his injuries were serious but later it was found to be only a scalp wound and he will be able to return to work soon.
