AN OPEN LETTER

Five years ago the Golden Rule Store was opened in a small room in the O'Connell building. During these years it has grown, as every healthy institution should. We have tried to merit this growth. And while it is not the policy of the Golden Rule Store to boast of what it has done, or is going to do, we wish to say in all sincerity, that if effort, price, quality and service, these unassuming forces, have not lost their potency, it shall continue to grow.

We are now located in a larger and more convenient room. We shall carry a larger and more complete stock. We believe we can render better service. We know we can, and here and now pledge you that we will maintain Golden Rule prices. In fact, never since we have been in Marshfield have we bought good merchandise so cheap as we were able to do on our recent trip to market. You shall have the benefit of this, to say nothing of the slaughter in prices which we are making in the Merchant stock. As a friend, let me say, it is to your interest to have a part in this. We hope to see you in our new home.

Very truly yours,
R. A. COPPLE.
