

PORT ORFORD ROAD PLAN

Portland Paper Gives Account of H. E. Lee's Railroad Project.

The following press telegram from the Portland paper appeared in the Coos Bay Times:

"That McArthur Bros. & Perks backing the project of building a railroad from interior Oregon to the coast, was the assertion of their engineer, E. Valjean, who is here prevailing a right of way through the valley. The proposed line is to extend from Port Orford through the Coquille Valley, Grants and the Rogue River Valley and connect with the Pacific and northern near Medford. The excellent harbors at Port Orford and at Bandon will be the two shipping ports and thus receive the produce directly from the interior.

"The project was first made to the attention of Coquille a few weeks ago by H. E. Lee, a railroad promoter. He asked a right of way from Fish Creek to Lampy Creek, a distance of 15 miles, through the valley, and a bonus of $25,000 for his company. A committee of local business men, George E. Peoples, R. S. Swellton, J. A. Lamb and George Swellton are at work examining the feasibility of securing the right of way and they report very good prospects.

"The engineer, E. Valjean, surveying through this section, recently moved his temporary headquarters from this city to Riverton, from which point he will conduct the regular survey through the valley, at the expense of the survey. His company is reported to have secured terminal grounds at Port Orford and Bandon."

SHRINERS ARE PLEASSED.

Members of the Pilgrimage Give Their Views.

The Roseburg Review says: "Henry and S. L. Barger returned this morning from Coos Bay, via Portland. They were among the delegation of Shriners who went over from here by automobile, but recent rains made return by that method impossible at present.

"About 15 of the delegation returned to Portland on the steamer Breakwater and a number of those from Bandon and Medford returned via Crescent City, going there by steamer. The autos will be brought out later. The visitors report a royal reception at Marshfield, where they were entertained in the finest possible manner. They were also given all charge of the steamer enroute here. In fact, nothing was overlooked that would make their enjoyment more complete. The first automobile which went over the mountains to Marshfield, returned Friday night, containing Frank Cain, C. Buyer, H. M. Bullwinkle, Will Russell of Grants Pass and Robt. E. Smith. The boys report an exceptionally good time, but a very hard trip over the mountains.

"They left Myrtle Point at 6 a. m. Friday, arriving at Roseburg at 3:30 p. m. The afternoon. They report some rough roads, but the car came through on its own power the entire trip. A vote of thanks was extended by Mr. Smith by the Marshfield Shriners for his daring in running the first car through, as if it had not been for his nerve the entire party would have returned to Roseburg."

CHARGE REMOVED.

(By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

WASCLAIRE, Wis., Sept. 17.—The wife and three children of John Dietz were in prison for killing a deputy sheriff during a raid on the home of the defender of the Cameron dam, but were freed today from the charge of murder with intent to kill John Rogers in July, 1908. Rogich is now in Australia and District Attorney Williams of Sawyer county considers the imprisonment of Dietz sufficient satisfaction of the law.

MAGGENN BUOY IS IN PLACE

Invented by Master of Breakwater and Is Entirely New Idea.

The Sunday Oregonian contains an article regarding the new bell buoy which was invented by Capt. Macgenn of the steamer Breakwater and which has been placed at Columbia river. Illustrations are printed to show the working of the buoy. A press telegram from Astoria gives the following regarding the buoy:

"The Macgenn bell that was invented by Captain T. J. Macgenn, master of the steamer Breakwater, was set by the lighthouse tender Manzanita, Captain Richardson, Monday, a short distance below Sand Island, almost directly opposite No. 8 buoy and in approximately 60 feet of water.

"This buoy is designed on an entirely new idea, the bell swinging on gimbals, which keep it almost upright, so that it will sound clearly under all conditions, no matter at what angle the buoy proper may be lying.

"It is also equipped with a rudder fastened to the base or float to hold it up to the current and prevent it from 'towing under' with the force of the tide or current. The new buoy was set according to blueprints furnished by the department and at a point where the tide runs so strong that its test will be a most severe one."

Witnesses in Rosenthal Case Have Little to Say

(By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Harry Horowitz, alias "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie Rosenthal" appeared in court yesterday in the preliminary hearing charging them with the murder of Gambler Herman Rosenthal. Upon application, the pleading adjourned until September 18. The wives of the prisoners and Max Kahn, an alleged pickpocket, were arrested in a flat occupied by them Saturday evening and held on $2,500 bail each, as material witnesses. "Gyp" and "Lefty" were subjected to a long examination today by the District Attorney but evinced no more disposition to give information or make admissions than they did before when District Attorney Moss questioned them for three hours. Forty or more letters and postcards found in the rooms of the two men may furnish important information to the state's attorney. The letters were found scattered under the floor and carpet of the flat.

The mysterious "forty letters" found in the prisoners' flat dwindle in importance. Frank Moss, assistant district attorney, sought to obtain possession but Deputy Commissioner Dougherty explained with some heat that they were principally blank post cards.

NEWSPAPER LAW NOW EFFECTIVE

Postmaster General Issues Order Regarding Detail for New Ruling.

(By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The postmaster general has issued instructions carrying into effect the new newspaper and periodical law, the first returns under which must be made by October 1.

The law requires the publishers to file on the first day of April and October of each year, with the postmaster general and local postmasters, under penalty of denial of the use of the mails, a sworn statement of the names and addresses of the owners, publishers, editor, managing editor and business manager of their newspaper or periodical, religious, fraternal, temperance, and scientific publications excepted. "For a corporation, the names of holders of more than one per cent of stock, bonds, or other securities must be given and in case of a daily newspaper, a statement of the average paid circulation for the preceding six months is required. Bryan in Speech Attacks Roosevelt and Taft.

(By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

PUEBLO, Col., Sept. 17.—Denunciation of Taft and Roosevelt was the chief feature of Bryan's speech at the Colorado State Fair. He referred to Taft as an aristocrat by birth and environment. He said Taft's association with "interests" developed his aristocracy. Roosevelt would have been satisfied with the Republicans had he been nominated, said Bryan. He said Taft was "honest and means well, but is constantly distrustful of the people."

"A year ago Roosevelt never raised a hand to help LaFollette in his fight with Taft, and LaFollette is a thousand times better reformer than Roosevelt ever was."

Roosevelt's demand for a commission to regulate the corporations, Bryan characterized as the most dangerous plan ever presented to the American people. "It is a step toward socialism," he declared, "and by placing complete power in the hands of a few men would give predatory interests still more powerful incentive to enter politics and elect the president."
