That's the time they knock off work for the day. At the call of the foreman the ring of the ax and saw ceases. Down California street come the grading teams; fresno, wheeler and plow forgotten till tomorrow. From Block 16, dinner bucket in hand, the brushers meet the slashing crew from Idaho street; they in turn are joined by the carpenters employed on the new homes being erected on the property. The busy hum of activity is stilled; the small army of improvement has scattered, only to be mobilized on the morrow to carry on the improvement work that is rapidly making accessible the beautiful homesites in this scenic Addition. Take a walk out there tomorrow, see for yourself the work that is under way, the new homes being built. Walk through the property; you'll enjoy it. Remember all our lots are 50x120 and sell at only $300 each. The lowest priced high class property in the city.

The location is right; just south of the High School in the "home of new homes" district.

High School Notes

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

The Science Department of the High School has been decidedly strengthened this year by the addition of Miss Nan Browning to the faculty of the school. Miss Browning is a graduate from the Science Department of the University of California, has acquired teaching experience in private school work in Washington, D. C. Her scholarship, personality, and experience will make her a decidedly helpful teacher and companion to the boys and girls of the Marshfield High School. Besides the city schools can now claim a Science Department on a par with its department of history, language, English and mathematics and as good as any in the state.

A fine interest is being shown by the girls of the High School in the work of Domestic Science. Indications are that Miss Moore's time will be in great demand. Miss Moore is an enthusiast in her work and has the faculty of inspiring enthusiasm in others. Being a graduate of Pratt Institute her methods of handling her department resemble those of her predecessor, Miss Elizabeth Kaufmann. Miss Moore will outline, supervise and conduct (in some grades) the handwork in all grades of the schools. As soon as the work is organized, sewing will probably be taught to girls in all grades beginning with third. Work adapted to boys of the middle grades will likewise be supplied. Just as soon as the regular school work can be organized, a time will be fixed and announced for the first meeting of the ladies' class.

A source of satisfaction is found in the "utility" spirit manifested in many "spots" throughout the school. The fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades are subscribing for that excellent little paper, Current Events, and will use the paper as a basis of current events clubs. The High School department is offering a fine course in public speaking. There is much interest in callisthenics and gymnastics work—especially for girls. Several of the new teachers have had experience in work of this kind and are ready and willing to take up the work and conduct classes. The seventh grade of the Central school is already talking about a possible little debating and literary circle of its own, while the sixth grade are wondering if eventually they might not work up and render a light play of merit. If education is a self activity process then Marshfield pupils ought to acquire a bit this year, according to indications.

High School.

Classes in American history and medieval history have begun regular class work, but those in English and Ancient History, as yet have not been able to receive text books and therefore are of necessity compelled to get along as best they can, but by outside readings and lectures thrown in are putting in the time profitably.

High School Athletics.

At present athletics are not looking very large. Many of the old men of the football team are not in school, Clark, Harrington and Carlson having graduated and Stutsman, Larson and Walters not having entered school as yet. Almost an entire new backfield will have to be made up, while with the addition of Big Johnson in the line, only one new man will have to be broken in as a forward.

Many new men have turned out and much new material will likely be developed. New suits have been ordered from the east, but as yet nothing has been heard from the order, but it is hoped that they will soon be here, and it is hoped that there will be a man for every suit.

No games have been scheduled as yet but there will no doubt be a schedule published later.

It is hoped that both Bandon and Coquille will put out teams this year, and if so, much more interest will come from the contest for the county championship.

year, and if so, much more interest will come from the contest for the county championship.

Domestic Science.

The Domestic Science work began on Wednesday, in the grades. There will be handwork for the boys from the third to the eighth grades, and sewing for the girls in all but the eighth grade, who will have cooking. We expect to give some of the handwork to the first and second grades, too.

Miss Moore met the girls of the High school for a half hour on Thursday afternoon to outline and talk over the work with them. They will have a choice of cooking, sewing, or both. We expect large classes in each.

There may be a special class in sewing for the Senior girls, with the object of making their own Commencement dresses. This is becoming the custom in so many of the large city schools that we ought not to overlook it.

A meeting will be called soon for those interested in a class of advanced cookery. It will be a sort of round table, where the needs, wishes, and also the time for classes can be discussed. Please keep this in mind, as all ideas will be helpful in making a well-rounded course.

Commercial and Public Speaking.

The Commercial Department of the High School opened with excellent prospects for the coming year, there being already nearly twenty students registered in the commercial work. The department is one of the best equipped in the state, having ten late model typewriters, and an excellent room in which to carry on the work. The department will offer night courses in shorthand, typewriting, commercial law or bookkeeping, commencing on October 7 and continuing for four months, the classes meeting three times a week, from 7:15 to 9:15, or at the convenience of the class. Many young people of Marshfield have expressed their desire of attending the night session and more are expected.

The new course in public speaking is meeting with the hearty cooperation of those students registered in the course and incidentally the prospects for the coming year in oratory and debate are very encouraging. Mr. Van Zile, winner of the county contest last year, is registered in the commercial department, while the Isaacson brothers and several other more or less prominent students are back, including a number of young ladies who will also try for public speaking honors.

South Marshfield Grades.

The third grade B has enrolled eighteen pupils, eleven boys and seven girls. Maybelle McLaughlin and Kelly Walp were each absent one-half day on account of sickness. This grade held a very interesting discussion Friday morning on "Care of the Eyes."

The fourth grade B has thirteen pupils enrolled and we think it a lucky thirteen from the appearance of their bright faces. They are very much interested in reviewing the fundamental operations with integers.

Mrs. Gidley visited the second grade on Friday afternoon. The pupils painted autumn scenes and the goldenrod this week. Indian life and customs formed the history topics. Maxine Jones was a visitor on Friday.

The seventh grade has a new enrollment of twelve. Jesse Frautz from Kansas is a new pupil. No one has been absent or tardy this week.

The sixth grade has twenty-four enrolled of which the new ones are Ernest Franuson of Minneapolis and Ruth Anderson of Minneapolis. There has been no cases of absence or tardiness.

There are twenty-five pupils enrolled in the fifth grade. This grade commenced their hard work Thursday. The work that will be done by the grade will consist of braiding and weaving. Raffle work will be taken up later.

The first grade has been moved into the former eighth grade room. They will have a kindergarten circle, table and chairs and the hand work. Games and occupation will correspond to kindergarten, but in addition the first year elementary course of study will be adhered to and completed. Twenty-four pupils are enrolled this week.

Eighth Grade.

Thirty-eight pupils enrolled in this grade, a very promising freshman class for High school next year.

Blanche Cutlip and Helen Smith of Coos River are registered in the eighth grade.

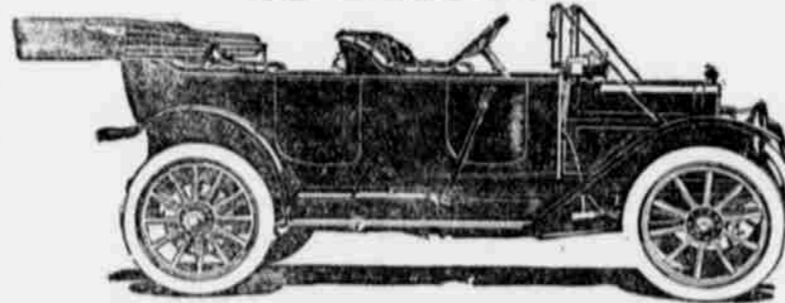

Toren Davis of Minneapolis is a newly registered pupil in this grade. A class in cookery has been organized among the eighth grade girls by Miss Moore of the Domestic Science department.

and feed your horse will do more work and do it more willingly. It is poor policy to give a horse poor feed and then expect him to do good work. The kind of hay, feed and grain we sell puts muscle on the horse. Give him enough of it and he'll do twice as much and look twice as well. Why not start the improvement today?
