MARINES FIGHT BATTLE WITH REBEL FORCES IN NICARAGUA

Four Americans Are Killed and Seven Others Reported Wounded.

ASSAULT REPORTED A GALLANT ONE

Government of Nicaragua Also Takes Part in Routing Insurgents.

(By Associated Press to The Coo's Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Four American marines were killed and six wounded yesterday when American forces took the town of Coyotepe from the Nicaraguan rebels, according to a cablegram received today by the government of Nicaragua. Early today the state or navy departments had received such information. The officials were shocked at the news in the cablegram.

Expresses Sympathy.

The cablegram from Castillo, dated yesterday, follows: "Masaya taken today by assault. We had one hundred dead and two hundred were wounded. The Americans early took Coyotepe with four dead and six wounded. Correa simultaneously took Masaya. Zeledon fled with his followers and was captured eight miles from Masaya. The wounded were later. Today I visited the American legation and expressed the deepest sympathy for death of the marines. The Granada municipality requested the marines' bodies for burial at that city. I beg you to express to the Department of State my deep sympathy."

Zeledon, the rebel general of Honduras, in the employ of Mena, the fallen dictator, recently captured, was taken to Panama for exile. Though the lives of the American marines were lost and others wounded, it appears to have been one of the most sanguinary battles fought in Central America in many years, yet technically the United States is not engaged in war.

As defined by the State Department the status of the relations of the United States and Nicaragua is one of friendship.

Warning Is Given.

What Rear Admiral Southerland has done in attacking the Nicaragua rebels is declared to have been purely the pursuance of a duty imposed upon the navy many times in the history of Central America. It is declared to be purely a military operation and not a political one. The admiral of Southerland after the capture of Mena to end the war failed. Zeledon refusing the amnesty held out by President Diaz and was determined to retain the position he occupied by threatening the railroad. The admiral finally issued an ultimatum to Zeledon that after two hours the American naval forces would undertake to drive him from the Baranca hills. The time limit expired at 5 o'clock yesterday morning.

Weitzel Sends Word.

(By Associated Press to The Coo's Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—A dispatch from American Minister Weitzel, telling of the fight has been received. Officials from its wording believe that the blue jackets from the ships under Rear Admiral Southerland were also in the fight. Weitzel's dispatch said the American forces had driven Zeledon and his remnants from the Baranca hills in 37 minutes but said nothing definite of the death of the American marines. The dispatch said it was rumored that the American marines had been killed and wounded. Yesterday's dispatches told of the imaginary battle of Jinotep. The Nicaraguan minister in a dispatch today said the marines were killed and wounded at Coyotepe and it was supposed they were at the same place.

Dead Not Yet Given.

The regiment of marines was on the sides of the Baranca hills in command of Col. John H. Pendleton. The first and second battalions were between Masaya and Granada and also near Masaya, so it is impossible to

FIRE ALARM ATTRACTS MANY

A Blaze in Trees Looked Quite Dangerous for a Short Time.

A brush fire at the rear of Dr. J. T. McCormac's residence attracted a big crowd this afternoon. The fire started, it is thought from children playing and spread to the trees. For a few minutes the houses in the neighborhood seemed in danger of catching. The firemen quickly extinguished the flames. The fire was in a little grove of trees along the sidewalk on Highland avenue. Hundreds of people followed the fire apparatus.

Judge in which battalion the fatalities occurred.

The first battalion was in command of Major William N. McKelby and was composed of Companies A, B, C and D, drawn from the New York, the Norfolk, the Boston, the Portsmouth, the Annapolis, the Charleston and the Washington. The second battalion under command of Major George C. Reed was composed of companies E, F and G drawn from the Philadelphia. The third battalion was under Major Smedley D. Butler and was drawn from the Panama.

Will Bring Bodies Home.

Though keenly appreciative of the sentiments inspiring the Nicaraguan government in its offer to bury the dead marines in state in the city of Granada, it is believed the bodies of the men will be brought home to the United States and be buried according to the wishes of the relatives.

Make Gallant Fight.

(By Associated Press to The Coo's Bay Times.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—A dispatch from Rear Admiral Southerland late today announced that Lieut. Col. Long with 1000 men and blue jackets from the cruisers California and Colorado are moving on Leon, the remaining rebels stronghold. The marines killed yesterday in the fight were Privates Babbitts, Durham, McGill and Pollard. The seven marines wounded will recover. Southerland's dispatch was dated yesterday.

It stated, in addition to the foregoing: "Barrancas and Second Hill taken by marines and blue jackets at daybreak after a gallant assault. Masaya was later taken by the government forces and the starving inhabitants relieved. The insurrectionists losses are heavy."
