DAN E. MALONEY News Editor

An Independent Republican newspaper published every evening except Sunday, and Weekly by The Coos Bay Times Publishing Co.

PROSPERITY CONTINUES.

THAT was a cheering note uttered at the recent session of the American Bankers' Association by one of the leading financiers of the country. It was sounded by George W. Reynolds, head of two of the largest banking institutions in the country. Mr. Reynolds says: "Prosperity is too well founded to be shaken by politics." This statement, made by a man eminently qualified to speak on the subject, is as surprising as it is comforting. With the nation in the throes of a three-cornered presidential conflict, stirred and torn as it has not been politically in the last half a century, it would be natural for industrial and financial factors to be upset, if not paralyzed.

CONCERTED ACTION NEEDED

L. S. Kaufman Writes an Interesting Letter From Kansas City.

I. S. Kaufman, who has been visiting in the East and Middle West, writes the following interesting letter full of helpful suggestions for the development of Coos Bay. Mr. Kaufman is always a booster and is always alert for anything that will advance the interests of his home community. The clippings to which he refers will both appear in The Times. Mr. Kaufman writes as follows:

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 23.

Dear Mr. Maloney:

I believe that in The Coos Bay Times is laid the foundation for a great paper. But a great daily must have back of it a great city.

I am sure that at Marshfield Nature has laid a foundation for a city, and am just as sure that Nature, alone, will not build it. Her people, her business men, must rear the superstructure.

I enclose you two clippings, one from the Kansas City Times (my observations while here lead me to conclude the Mayor is correct in his charges), and one from the World's Work.

It occurred to me that we can get pointers from both these items. Kansas City and St. Paul, known all over the land, and have been for decades, need the concerted effort of their business men to not only grow, but to maintain their prestige. Marshfield should not idly wait.

At first thought I am pleased with the suggestions made by Dr. McCormac that Marshfield and North Bend unite in employing an able, energetic man to exploit the resources and advantages of Coos Bay.

If the people of the two towns, whose interests are practically one can lay aside all spirit of rivalry and unite heartily in such an effort, I do not doubt but that it would result in great benefit to both towns, which should ultimately be one.

In conclusion, you realize that the newspapers of a town, especially the dailies, are among the chief factors or influences in its upbuilding.

A great town means great papers.

Very truly yours,
I. S. KAUFMAN.

TUG HERE TO TOW DREDGE

The Daring With Barge Wolcott in Safety This Morning.

The tug Daring from Grays Harbor with the barge Wolcott crossed in over the bar safely this morning. The bar has been rough but the tug and her tow got across safely. The tug is here to tow the dredge Oregon to Grays Harbor. One barge load of portable equipment of the dredge was taken to Grays Harbor by the tug and the dredge herself will be towed out.

On account of the rough weather it may not be possible to leave with the dredge at once but the time of starting will depend entirely upon the condition of the bar. Engineer Leefer went to North Bend this morning to meet the tug and look after the arrangements for leaving.

SOCIETY NEWS

COOS BAY REUNION

Miss Signa Holm, now in the University of California at Berkeley, California, entertained at her home at 2224 Roosevelt Avenue on Thursday evening the University students from Coos Bay and the county. A very enjoyable evening was spent in the amusements of making the freshmen in the little gathering tell their first college experiences, in discussing news from the Bay, and in a contest for a bowl of peanuts. Fred McCormac and Marlon Reynolds were the joint winners of the booty. The county was pretty well represented: from the Bay were Misses Holm '14, Bessie Cole '14, Nora Tower '16, May Preuss '16, Miss Bouchner and Miss Johnston. Among the Coos Bay boys present were Marion Reynolds '15, Fred McCormac, Owen Knowlton '16 and Charles Harlocker. The new Portland Club of the University of California was discussed and it was decided that all of the Coos Bay students should join the fifty or sixty others in the Oregon association which has become a very interesting and strong organization in the University. After a most enjoyable evening in exchanging news from home and in comparing experiences and a most successful and royal entertaining by Miss Holm the little party dispersed.

BONFIRE PARTY.

Mrs. L. G. Masters of Sumner was hostess at a delightful bonfire party Wednesday, October 2, in honor of her daughter, Miss Ollie Richards. The evening was spent in many and varied out-door sports after which a delightful bonfire lunch was served. Mrs. Master's guests were Misses Dethel Stock, Eleanor Selander, Hilda Selander, Hester Norton, Jennie Catching, Mabel Mills, Agnes Matson, Gladys Roberts, Florence Jennings and Miss Henderickson; Messrs. L. G. Masters, Robert Richards, Jay Richards, Harry Boone, Mr. Matson, Mr. McCall, Frank Stock and Geo. Selander.

One of the pleasant outings of the season was given Sunday, September 29, when Miss Ollie Richards of Sumner was hostess to a picnic party at Charleston Bay, under the chaperonage Mrs. E. George Smith. The event was in honor of Miss Richards' guest, Miss Florence Jennings of Portland.

The guests were the Misses Rose Messerle, Agnes Matson, Ella Brook, Blanche Landrith, Mabel Mills, Gladys Roberts and honor guest, Florence Jennings, and Messrs. Gilbert Steckel, Nell Watson, Carl Clinkenbeard, Rudolph Matson, R. N. Webster, George Selander, Robert Richards and Phillip Landrith.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Adelsperger left for Portland Friday for a two weeks' visit with friends.
