NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Boston of the American league defeated New York of the National league by a score of three to one today in the fourth game of the world's series before forty thousand people. Joe Wood, Boston's pitcher-star, was invincible when his meant runs and the New York batters could do nothing with him. Wood did not give a base on balls. Wagner played a strong game at short for Boston, taking several hard hit balls that were heading for center field while on the lead run and pinching the batters at bat by fast throws.

BANDITS DO A BAD JOB

Attempt to Hold Up Train and Lively Shooting Takes Place.

(By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

FORT SMITH, Ark., Oct. 11.—Four bandits bungled a holdup of the northbound Kansas City and Southern passenger train between Hatfield and Mena, Ark., early today. One was wounded and captured, and the other outlaws escaped, after a battle with Express Messenger Merrill Burgett of Kansas City, in which Burgett exhausted his ammunition and was badly wounded.

Burgett shot the robber who was discovered an hour later after his companions had deserted him. Burgett is in the hospital and will recover. A posse is in pursuit.

While Burgett was working in the car, he saw the bandits climbing up to the side door. They smashed the glass with their revolvers. Burgett hid his most valuable packages, despite the hail of bullets which the bandits poured into the car. With the packages hidden Burgett turned his attention to the invaders. As Burgett stood at them the robbers opened the door, forcing Burgett as they advanced. The messenger was prodded by the bandits and continued the fight until his cartridges were gone. The robbers closed in by force of numbers and overpowered him though he fought desperately with the butt of his shotgun. The bandits clubbed him, demanding "where is that package of money?" He was terribly beaten. The bandits searched the car and found many valuables, applied the air brakes and jumped off.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 11.—Deploring that capital punishment has no more place in the present day than burning witches, Governor Hunt granted reprieves today to William Campbell, Eduardo Perez, N. B. Chavez and Miluel Fernandez, all of whom were to have been hanged today. The execution was deferred until April 13, 1913. Hunt expressed the hope that the next legislature would pass a bill abolishing capital punishment.

BOMBS HELD AS EVIDENCE

Collection of Damaging Material Will Be Shown in Dynamite Case.

(By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 11.—Pieces of exploded bombs, old iron, cans in which nitroglycerine had been carried, cartridges, fuses and magazine guns were put in readiness by the government today to be used as exhibits in the trial and were gathered from many sections of the country in the wake of Orle McManigal and the McNamaras. They have been classified to be used as physical evidence in the government's charges of interstate shipment of explosives.

About Gompers. Whether Gompers, the president of the American Federation of Labor, was present at a certain labor meeting held at St. Louis, Mo., November 1910, was asked by the government attorney in the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today. Frank Schilling, clerk at a hotel in St. Louis, named Frank M. Ryan, Michael Young, F. J. McNulty, M. B. Madden and Olaf A. Tveitmo as having registered at the hotel during the session of the meeting. When asked if Gompers registered, Schilling replied in the negative but said "he was around the hotel a good deal." Objections by the defense to the introduction of Gompers' name at this time brought a ruling of the court that if the future testimony did not warrant the introduction of the name he would so instruct the jury.

TELL OF CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS

Several Prominent Men Give Interesting Testimony Before Senate Committee.

(By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Edward T. Stokesbury, the Philadelphia banker and associate of J. P. Morgan, testified before the Clapp committee today that he had collected $165,795.50 in Pennsylvania in 1904 for the Republican national campaign the money going to the national committee.

Stokesbury named various corporations and individuals who contributed funds. The largest contributor was G. W. Elkins, who gave $25,000. The United States Steel Corporation gave $12,775. In 1908 Stokesbury collected $101,057 in Pennsylvania for the Republican national campaign. The greater number of contributions were from $5 to $100. Stokesbury gave $25,000 to Taft's renomination campaign this year.

Samuel Aramowitz of New York said that Sam S. Koenig, the Taft leader, actually had named most of the Roosevelt watchers. Aramowitz said the lieutenants of Koenig had induced him to part with the badges and certificates he had got from the Roosevelt headquarters.

Did Not Know Much. (By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Fred W. Upham, of Chicago, assistant treasurer of the Republican national committee in 1908, testified that he knew nothing of the 1904 campaign funds. In 1908 he collected $548,320.59. In addition to that he received $50,000 from Charles P. Taft and returned it at the end of the campaign. He was in charge of the western headquarters at Chicago.

Plant Testifies. (By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—A. H. Plant, comptroller of the Southern Railway, told the Clapp committee today that he knew of no contributions to the pre-convention campaigns this year, and did not turn over any funds to Congressman Underwood's manager, before or during the Baltimore convention. Senator Dixon, Roosevelt's manager, had testified it was common report that Plant handled the funds for the Underwood campaign.

John D. Archbold followed Plant on the stand. Archbold had testified in August. Clapp took up the examination as to the so-called Archbold letters, recently published. Regarding the payment of $15,000 to Senator J. B. Foraker, March 26, 1900, Archbold said the money was paid Foraker "for services as counsel in our Ohio affairs for that, and that only." Another April 17, 1900, of $14,500 he said was in relation to the same affairs. Another payment November 26, 1900, of $10,000 was the result of the "same legal duties," performed by Foraker, as was another payment of $5000, December 11, 1900.

Clapp produced a copy of a magazine showing the purported photographic copy of a letter to the late Senator M. A. Hanna, dated January 19, 1900. The letter referred to the "threatened and very objectionable legislation at Columbus," concerning which Archbold said he wanted to talk to Hanna about, asking Hanna to "do everything possible" to accomplish its defeat.

Archbold said he did not recollect the letter but said: "I have no doubt I wrote the letter."

A letter of October 27, 1900, to former Representative G. H. Grosvenor of Ohio, enclosing $1000, Archbold said, was an "aid to his campaign for re-election." Archbold said he had no recollection of a letter purporting to be written by Senator Hanna in which he said, "I want you people to help our state committee liberally. The demands on me are simply awful." "I have been unable to find such a letter," said Archbold. Archbold could not recollect receiving a letter from Hanna asking assistance for the Ohio campaign, saying: "This whole fight is against the corporations and me, as their champion."

The witness said he believed the handwriting was that of Hanna.

Destroyed Receipt.

Archbold testified that the receipt Cornelius N. Bliss gave him for the $100,000 contribution of the Standard Oil Co. to the Roosevelt campaign fund in 1904, was destroyed just before the death of H. H. Rogers.

Archbold was asked to explain a letter to Hanna. "That was the year of the strike legislation in various state legislatures," said Archbold, "and it was necessary for all corporation interests to appeal to their friends to prevent that sort of thing. It explains my letter to Senator Hanna." The letter referred to "threatened and very objectionable legislation at Columbus."

WILL BE FINE NEW YEAR'S GIFT

New Smith Lumber Vessel to Bring Important Cargo from Baltimore.

(By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

NOT OUT YET. The M. S. Dollar has not yet been able to get out of port. Capt. Olson, who will pilot the steamer was in the city today. He states that the bar has been too rough to attempt taking the vessel out and that it will be necessary to wait until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The Redondo is still in the bay and will not go out until tomorrow. It is expected that both vessels will leave in the morning.

Captain B. W. Olson who took the M. S. Dollar over the Coos Bay bar and accompanies the ship to Portland, does not expect to return to Coos Bay until he brings the large new lumber carrier, Adeline Smith, sister ship of the Nann Smith.

Capt. Olson will go directly east to Newport News from Portland. It is expected the new ship will be ready for her first cruise about November 15.

She will proceed first to Baltimore, where she will take on an important cargo for Coos Bay. This cargo will consist of the machinery for the new Smith pulp mill, much of which is being imported from Sweden and Finland. It is expected she will arrive on Coos Bay about January 1. And her coming will be a fine New Year's gift for Coos Bay and cause for

DOLLAR BOATS ARE NOW BUSY

Besides One from Coos Bay Another Is Leaving the Columbia River.

(By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

Regarding the steamer M. S. Dollar the Telegram of Portland has the following to say: "Advices to the local agent state that the British steamship M. S. Dollar will leave Coos Bay for the Columbia today to complete a lumber cargo for Shanghai. She took on a part cargo at Coos and will finish loading at Kalama. At the latter port the steamer will discharge 60,000 feet of hardwood she brought from Manila. When she leaves for the Far East she will have aboard 3,500,000 feet of lumber."

Before she gets out of the river the British steamship Robert Dollar, belonging to the same line, will arrive from San Francisco to take on a similar cargo for the Orient. She will load at the Inman-Poulson mill. She is considerably larger than the M. S. Dollar, and she will clear with nearly 4,000,000 feet. During the month several other steamers will load lumber on the river for Australia, having been chartered by J. J. Moore & Co. The present indications are that the off-shore lumber traffic from the river in October will be considerably above the average monthly transactions. Practically all of the product is being sent across the Pacific and to the Antipodes.

a genuine New Year's celebration. Captain Charles Erickson will be in charge of the Nann Smith during Capt. Olson's absence.

DAILY CAPACITY IS FIFTY TONS

Libby Mine Increasing Output and Soon Will Have Big Tonnage.

Work at the Libby mine is progressing rapidly. George Doll, who has the mine under lease, is employing quite a large force of men. The output of the mine now is about 50 tons of coal a day. Some of this is being taken to Portland and part of the output is being sold in San Francisco and is transported to that city on the Homer. Mr. Doll since he has had the mine in his charge has been developing and soon will be turning out the largest output of any mine in the county. In fact the Libby mine is now selling more coal than any of the other mines, but when Mr. Doll completes his development work he will have one of the largest mines in this part of the state. At the new mine which is being opened by C. A. Smith and business associates on Isthmus Inlet, work is progressing rapidly. P. Hennessey is in charge of the work and expects soon to be putting a large output of coal on the market.

Fighting Along the Frontier Is Reported in the European Cities.

TURKS GATHER A GREAT ARMY

Efforts to Stop War So Far Seem to Be Fruitless; Still Trying.

(By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 11.—(By wireless from a steamer in the Dardanelles to Kustendje, Rumania)—No fewer than 140,000 Turkish troops from Asia Minor will, it is estimated, be concentrated within a week in European Turkey. This will bring the effective force of the Turkish army there up to 400,000. Turkish officials say that the day of trial has found military depots full of stores and the army equipment complete and of good quality.

If the Bulgarians are counting upon the superiority of their organization and the greater rapidity with which their army can be mobilized, to give them a material advantage, they will, according to the Turkish officers, receive a disagreeable surprise. Ottoman authorities say they have for months been gradually strengthening their defenses and concentrating troops in the import zone, comprising the Adrianople and Kirk Kiliseh, just south of the Bulgarian frontier.

Capturing City. (By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The fall of the Turkish city of Scutari is imminent. Unless Turkish reinforcements arrive soon the town with its manufactories of fire arms will be taken by the advancing Montenegrin army. The Turkish military authorities have not prepared on that frontier as on the Servian and Bulgarian border. Hence the reported continued success of King Nicholas' forces.

Assess Christians. (By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 11.—Reliability of Christians serving in the ranks of the Turkish army is one of the greatest problems of the moment for the Ottoman command. Feeling among native Christians may be gauged to a certain extent by their efforts to escape from service by payment of a tax or by bolting abroad. The Ottoman government is considering putting in operation a bill passed under the late regime enlisting all Christians between the ages of 20 and 40 years. This action will swell the government's funds enormously, as most of the native Christians are able to pay to avoid service.

Leaving for Abroad. (By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 11.—Within one week approximately 500 citizens of Austria will leave San Diego for New York to embark to join the army of Serbia in the war against Turkey.

Hopes for Peace. (By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

VIENNA, Oct. 11.—Emperor Francis Josef in conversation with a prominent personage at the palace yesterday said, "I hope that peace may still be preserved."

Fighting in Progress. (By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 11.—Fighting between Turkish and Montenegrin troops is still in progress this morning in the region of Tushli, to the north of Scutari. No further details have reached here.
