SAFE REMEDY ENDS CATARRH

Gives Instant Relief, Cures and Prevents Catarrh and Cold in the Head.
The quickest, best and safest way to cure catarrh or a cold in the head, is by using a remedy that will "touch the spot" and do its work quickly without leaving any bad effects. Ely's Cream Balm, which is applied to the nostrils or rubbed on the throat or chest, goes right at the root of the trouble and relieves even the worst case of catarrh or cold. A few minutes after applied you can feel a loosening up in the head, the pain and soreness are gone, the sense of taste, smell and hearing come back and you feel like a different person.
Ely's Cream Balm cleanses, heals and strengthens the inflamed membranes, takes away that stuffed up feeling and dull pain in the head, relieves the throat soreness and stops the nasty discharge which is the cause of the disgusting hawking, spitting, blowing of the nose, and foul breath. Hay fever victims who are made miserable by fits of sneezing, coughing and wheezing get instant and permanent relief by the use of this simple remedy.
Don't suffer another minute.
Ely's Cream Balm will relieve you immediately and a 50 cent bottle will more than likely work a complete cure.

FRECKLES
Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the New Drug.
An eminent skin specialist recently discovered a new drug, othinedouble strength, which is so unformly successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any first class druggist under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.
Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first night's use will show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely. It is absolutely harmless, and cannot injure the most tender skin.
Be sure to ask for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.

gins at the Royal opera tonight, nounced that places will cost from

BREAD AND ROSES.
"Bread for all, and Roses, too!"— Chicago Women Trade Unionists.
As we come marching, marching, in the beauty of the day, A million darkened kitchens, a thousand mill-lots gray Are touched with all the radiance that a sudden sun discloses, For the people hear us singing,
"Bread and Roses, Bread and Roses."

As we come marching, marching, we battle, too, for men—For they are women's children and we mother them again.
Our lives shall not be sweated from birth until life closes—Hearts starve as well as bodies; Give us Bread, but give us Roses!
As we come marching, marching, unnumbered women dead Go crying through our singing their ancient song of Bread: Small art and love and beauty their drudging spirits knew—Yes, it is bread we fight for—but we fight for Roses, too.
As we come marching, marching, we bring the Greater Days—The rising of the women means the rising of the race—No more the drudge and idler—ten that toll where one reposes—But a sharing of life's glories: Bread and Roses, Bread and Roses!

BANTZ AGAINST BRIDGING BAY

Quoted in Portland Paper Regarding His Views of the Situation.

Concerning the position of one of the men protesting against the S. P. bridge over Coos Bay, the Portland Telegram prints the following:
William A. Bantz, the Portland railroad promoter, who for many years has been interested in the Coos Bay situation is in arms against the Southern Pacific's plan to erect a bridge across the bay about midway in the navigable portion of that body of water. He insists that the bridge, placed at the point indicated by the survey, will largely destroy the inner half of the bay for shipping. By building around this portion of the bay to the east, the railroad promoter says that the factories and towns of Coos Bay are reached as readily, on a thoroughly practical route, and the navigability of the bay is not impaired.

"Recently one of the Coos Bay papers criticised some prominent Portland people who were associated with me in an enterprise down there, for trying to get the Secretary of War to hold up permission for the Southern Pacific to erect a bridge across the bay," said Mr. Bantz. "This criticism was in error. The Portland men named had nothing to do with the protest.
I entered the protest myself.
at the point taken by the Southern Pacific, would practically destroy the inner half. Passing through a draw at that point is very difficult because of the tides and the winds, which fact will be felt when it is too late.

"The Southern Pacific has a route around the bay to the east, which is the most practical way to open the district without injury to navigation. I have protested against the bridge because that will bottle Coos Bay up, just as the Southern Pacific has bottled up the state of Oregon for years. I adopted the protest as the best means of calling to the attention of the people of Idaho, and Eastern and Southern Oregon, what the railroad wanted to do, as all the people of that region look upon Coos Bay as their seaport. I also wanted to call attention to the fact that the Southern Pacific owns the right-of-way along the east side of the bay, and by giving them the right to bridge the water as now planned, the company will have a monopoly of bay shipping.

"The government is spending large sums of money each year to improve Coos Bay, and why should the railroad company be allowed to destroy the usefulness of the bay, and build a large obstruction across it, when removal of obstructions is the very work upon which the government is busy? I fear congress will refuse to allow more money for Coos Bay improvements if the bridge obstruction is allowed to be put in."
