YOU read about the big games between New York and Boston. Men competing for the world's championship. Business is like that; a little. We're trying to excel in our business; not so much to beat somebody else, but excel ourselves. We are trying to make a "home run" in the "greatest service to our customers;" we want every man who comes to this store to get what is best for him.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

Clothes are the best clothes made; we sell them because we know it, and because they belong to just such a store, and just such a service idea as this.

We can fit any man and we can satisfy any taste in color, style, weave; and any price-idea. Suits $18.00 and up. Overcoats $16.50 and up.

BULL MOOSE LOCK HORNS

Harry Hoy and M. S. Crossen Have Lively Fight on Front Street.

Prominent members of the Bull Moose party clashed today about noon in front of the post office. Attorney Harry G. Hoy, who is claimed to be the original Bull Moose of this county, and M. S. Crossen, well known real estate dealer and member of the finance committee of the local organization, entertained quite a large crowd with one of the most lively fights that has been pulled off on Front street in daylight for a long time past.

Both gentlemen put up an excellent fight, worthy of any political party. There was no horning or tramping, but just plain blows from the shoulder, give and take.

The whole matter happened very suddenly. It seems that the trouble resulted from various communications which members of the Bull Moose party have been publishing. At any rate Mr. Crossen and Mr. Hoy met in front of the post office. In the course of a very brief conversation Mr. Hoy called Mr. Crossen a liar of some specific variety which did not appeal to Crossen and the latter gentleman promptly replied by slapping Hoy in the face.

This was the signal for a very happy little event. The principals backed off into the street and for a few moments the blows fell hard and fast. Then the fighters clinched. By force of their own weight they went down in a bunch and at that time some of the spectators thought that the fun was over and separated the two men.

The fight made quite a stir on Front street and because of the fact that it was due to political matters attracted much attention. Those who witnessed the encounter said it was a nice clean fight and that the result was about a draw.

The principals said that they expected to go before City Recorder Butler voluntarily and offer to pay a fine for disturbing the peace and quiet of the thoroughfare in front of the postoffice.

Cubs and Chicago White Sox, when the latter, won the championship. R. O. Graves was present at every game of one series and several games in two others.

Will Give Social.—The Swedish-Lutheran church will give a social Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the church hall.

To Give Supper.—The Western Star Rebecca lodge will give a supper and social evening at the Odd Fellows' hall, Wednesday evening, October 23.

Coming Soon.—D. C. Greene, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has received word that Addison Bennett, a special writer on the Oregonian, who was invited to visit this locality, will be here about October 14. He will come in by way of Eugene and will remain here for a time to write up features of this part of the state.

Reception Tonight.—There will be a reception given tonight by the members of the Marshfield Baptist church in honor of the new pastor, Rev. A. F. Bassford. A splendid program has been arranged and a good time is assured. A cordial invitation is extended to the members and friends of the sister churches and also the general public. The reception will be held in the Baptist church at 8 o'clock.

Committee Meets.—A meeting of the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce was held yesterday afternoon. The purpose of the meeting was to consider a proposal from Mr. Woods to arrange and publish an illustrated pamphlet advertising Coos Bay. The little book will contain advertisements of some of the business houses and handsome and well selected pictures of the locality.

Auto Accident.—One of the out-bound autos on the Allegany-Drain route went off the grade the other day, but fortunately no one was seriously injured. L. J. Simpson was slightly bruised.

High Stack.—The smoke stack on the new pulp mill will be 245 feet high when completed, 12 feet higher than the one on the Smith mill, which is accredited with being the highest in the state.

Service Every Friday Night.—Beginning with this evening, there will be services in the Episcopal church every Friday evening at 7:30 with an informal Bible study after the service, conducted by the rector.

Travel Large.—There continues to be heavy traffic from the outside to Coos Bay. In addition to the capacity load brought in by the Breakwater yesterday, twenty passengers arrived by the Drain-Gardiner route.

Proving Up.—A. K. Pidgon, who has a homestead above Allegany on the west fork, was in the city yesterday to make arrangement for proving up. He has a tract of 160 acres of good hill land on the west fork road and has resided there for a sufficient length of time to secure his patent.

Should and Shall.—A correspondent, evidently a school pupil, wants to know when to use "shall" and "should." Never use "shall" when you should use "should" and never use "should" when you should use "shall." In short we should always say "should" whenever we should, and never should say "shall" when we should say "should." Is that plain enough?

Saw World's Series Games.—There are a number of Marshfield fans who have seen world's championship series games of baseball. Dr. Morrow has seen at least part of the series for the last three years. Frank H. Chase, linotype operator on The Times, saw the famous games between the Chicago
