

The Basis of Wealth

Many of the greatest estates in the world; the immense fortunes that have been handed down from generation to generation were founded on a small investment in land in a town the future of which was foreseen by only a few.

Right here in your own city you have examples of holdings valued at thousands of dollars that represent the original investment doubled many times. A few years ago one of your friends purchased a lot at a low price; today it is worth thousands and still advancing.

Invest in the future of Coos Bay. Buy Marshfield real estate. It's all good and the best investment on the Pacific Coast. Buy now while the prices are right and take advantage of the increase. Invest your savings, no matter how small. Place a portion of your monthly income in a lot. Buy it in the best location. Make your selection in that section where the development is taking place; where the homes are being built; where improvements are being made. Buy in the line of progress—the direction the city is growing.

Take everything into consideration and you'll buy on the "South Side." Compare First Addition with other south side prices and you'll buy the new addition. You'll want to live where you can secure a 50x120 foot lot facing on an improved street for only $300 and on your own terms.

Your investment in one or more of these choice slightly lots will return you a handsome profit. Call at our office for a plat and tomorrow take your Sunday walk out South Fifth street; follow the boulevard extension along Coal Bank Inlet to First Addition. Your walk will be both pleasant and profitable.

High School Notes

First Grade.
John Clausen was absent Friday on account of illness. Mrs. Wilbur, who had a half holiday Friday afternoon, visited our room. The story of The Three Little Pigs has been told by the children and dramatized this week.

Botany.
For the past week the Botany class has been busy with note book work. They have also studied seed dispersal and the history of Indian corn.

English Twelve.
Senior English students have been studying Irving's Sketch Book, stories from the Alhambra, History of New York, Conquest of Granada. They have also written a short paper on the general characteristics of Irving's works.

English Eleven.
Study of Chaucer's Prologue and papers describing different characters in Prologue.

Tenth English.
Study of unity in the sentence. Work on Tale of Two Cities. Papers on Contrasts in French life before Revolution.

Ninth English.
Study of Rip Van Winkle with special work in oral composition.

History Department.
The Senior class in American History is now studying the century of Colonial History, noting particularly the grievances which were the beginning of the causes for the Revolution. Collateral reading and note book work is also being done giving the class a much better and broader idea of the times.

The Juniors have just finished a short review of the early English History, in which special attention was paid to the people invading early England and the locality in which they settled, and how from that modern English names have arisen.

The Sophomores and Freshmen are doing good work in their Medieval and Ancient Histories. The former class has just completed the study of the Norman Conquest and the beginning of Papal power, and the latter have completed Babylonian History.

Athletics.
The football team looks better every day and indications are that a team fully as strong as last year's eleven will be the result.

No schedule has been arranged as yet, but it is hoped to begin the season next Saturday. Final preparations for the schedule will be made today at the County association meeting held at Coquille and as soon as possible will be published.

Coquille and Bandon are both putting out teams this year and Myrtle Point, as usual, will be a strong contender. No doubt some good games will be the result.

Domestic Science.
The class in advanced cookery met on Wednesday, with a very large attendance. Twenty-seven are enrolled and several more asked to join the class. If enough more are interested in such a class, an evening class will be organized. Communicate with Miss Moore at 53-J or any member of the class if you desire to join such a class.

A class in sewing would be organized, too, if enough desire it. This would be a general class in sewing in which any desired line would be taken up. Pattern drafting and the use of bought patterns would be one especial subject. Hand sewing, fitting, tailoring of dresses, etc. Each would furnish and make any garment she wishes. Please phone to address given above if you are interested.

Commercial Department.
The night school, Commercial Department, opened on Monday evening of this week, with 12 members. Everything points to a very successful term and all of the class are highly pleased with the outlook. Since the texts had not arrived they are learning the typewriter and the principles of shorthand by lecture work. There are still accommodations for several more and any wishing to enter before the class actually starts work are requested to consult with Mr. Morris or Mr. Tiedgen.

GRADE NOTES.

The B class reports on the steamships that come into this port were very interesting. The pupils enjoy learning of things in actual life.

CENTRAL SCHOOL.

Mrs. Wilbur and Miss Spooner's pupils received the hard-earned half holiday Friday, given them for an attendance of 98 per cent or more. Each room was the recipient of the following commendations: "I hereby express my satisfaction to you and your pupils over the almost perfect attendance your room has maintained during the past four weeks. I hope the good work will continue.—F. A. Tiedgen."

HAS A SEA GULL FOR A PET.
Maine Sportsman Caught It When It Was 3 Days Old.

Louis H. Hamm, of Bangor, Me., has a strange pet, a sea gull, the survivor of a pair, which has attracted a great deal of attention during the last four weeks on his lawn at his home. The other gull when it was found that it could fly, left its home at Hamm's, and since then has been swimming in the pool at Chapin Park and also in the stream.

Both birds were well tamed and their strange appearance excited a great deal of comment. Early in July Hamm was on a fishing trip. He found the two young gulls, then just a week old. He captured them and brought them home, and since that time, up to three days ago, when one of them flew away, they have been well contented, catching angleworms and finding their own living on the lawn.

THE GARDEN OF DREAMS.

In the garden of dreams let me rest, far, far from the laboring throng, from the moans of the tired and distressed, from the strains of the conqueror's song. As a native of Bagdad, or Turk, I'd live in Arabian nights, away from the regions of work, from troubles and hollow delights. In the garden of dreams I would stray, and bocher my fat head no more, a-wondering how I shall pay for groceries bought at the store. Ah, there in that garden I'd sit, communing in peace with my soul, and never again have a fit when handed the bill for the coal. In the garden of dreams I'd recline and soar on the wings of romance, forgetting this old hat of mine, the patches all over my pants, the clamor of children for shoes, the hausfrau's demands for a gown, the lodge's exorbitant dues, the polltax to work in the town. Alas! It is as I supposed—there is no escaping my fate, for the garden of dreams has been closed, a padlock is put on the gate. The young, who are buoyant and glad, may enter that garden, it seems; but the old, who are weary and sad, are warned from the garden of dreams!

John Heath, Michigan Bar, Cal., writes: "I was afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for nearly six years. Had a very bad spell some time ago and was unable to turn without help. I commenced using Foley's Kidney Pills and can truly say I was relieved at once. I take pleasure in recommending Foley Kidney Pills." For sale by Lockhart-Parsons Drug Co., the Busy Corner.
