BABY HANDS

BABY hands! In all the world there is nothing half so strong. In all the world there is nothing half so pure. It seems at times as if God created babies that weary men and women might not abandon faith in him.

What tongue can tell, what pen can describe what a baby means? Everything that is holy, that is beautiful, that is good, clusters around a baby. Its tiny hands fasten around our hearts with a mighty grasp that naught but death can loosen, and men and women are nearest God when they kneel at baby's feet.

No man may ever know the thoughts of a mother as she bends over the babe for whom she went down into the valley of the shadow. A halo ever rests over mother and infant, as if they had caught something of the radiance of another world as they lingered at the eternal gates.

Every baby is a completed miracle, and is so priceless that kingdoms are worthless in the balance.

In that wee form is wrapped up the hopes, the ambitions, the illusions, if you will—and our illusions are often the most precious things we have—of a man and a woman. For that morsel of humanity a woman has paid a terrible price and a man has pledged his honor and his life. All that we have fought for, all that we have believed in, all that countless generations have fought for and believed in, the blood of martyrs and the heroes, the anguish of the oppressed and the tears of the slaves, all that our civilization means and all we hope it will mean, rests with our babies. It was for them the millions who have gone before strove; it is for them that we must strive if we are men.

IMPROVE GAME LAWS.

AN Association of the Pacific Coast Fish and Game Commissioners and Game Wardens to work for uniform game and fish laws is the latest move being made by the California and Oregon game and fish interests. J. S. Hunter, assistant in charge of game conservation under the California game commission, has recently conferred with Fish and Game Commissioner Stone of Eugene on this matter. Mr. Hunter declares that a move has been started both in California and Nevada, and is favored in Oregon, for uniform and more equitable laws governing the fish and game interests. This move is now spreading over the entire Pacific Coast country and he is confident that the move will meet with success.

Suspicion is the fly in matrimonial ointment.

If you would retain your friends, don't give them away.

It is a great deal better to be disappointed in love than to be disappointed in marriage.

If you think you are right, go ahead, but don't be disappointed if the crowd doesn't follow you.

TALKS ON ADVERTISING.

Advertising is a branch or an arm of the business world, the same as law or medicine. There isn't a man in the world, who when he is sick, would call up his doctor to tell him what's the matter without first being thoroughly examined to learn the true state of his condition. Again, there isn't a business man who, when he has a law case on his hands, expects his lawyer to win without first telling him every detail in connection with the case. Then why should business men neglect the matter of advertising, which will cure his business ills and plead his case before the public, if given a square deal.

Good advertising demands proper attention, personal interest and plenty of time. It cannot be done in a minute, or a day, or possibly a week. Instead of a last-minute proposition it is a first-minute one. RALPH KAYE.

GOOD EVENING

The merit of originality is not novelty; it is sincerity; the believing man is the original man; whatsoever he believes he believes it for himself, not for another.—Caryle.

The sweetest flowers are the flowers that bloom
 In the busy haunts of life,
 That fill the air with sweet perfume,
 In the midst of toil and strife.

The sweetest songs are the songs we sing
 In the ceaseless rounds of care,
 Where sad hearts thrill with the cheer they bring
 To the weary toilers there.

The sweetest joy is the joy to give,
 Of the best our lives afford,
 And just to trust each day we live
 In the fullness of the Lord.

Just about the time some Coos Bay men are old enough to have acquired good sense his neighbors begin calling him an old moseback.

Many a Coos Bay man has a kick coming that never reaches him.

STORY OF THE DAY

The other day a man who has lived in Marshfield for 20 years and has always lived in rented houses was asked by a friend why he didn't quit renting and buy a home of his own. "H—l," he replied, "I haven't even got an automobile yet."

Occasionally a woman drives a man to drink, but usually he beats her to it.

Many a girl marries a man, not because he is good enough for her.

GOOD TIMES AHEAD.

THE awakening of China, the increased commercial activity of Japan and the development of the Philippines, the opening of new marts in Australia and the South Sea Islands, combined with the new trade routes to the Old World, will bring prosperity to the North Pacific. The canal will offer new markets for Pacific Coast products in South America, the West Indies, the Southern and Eastern states, Europe and Africa. With natural resources that cannot be equaled, the North Pacific is sure to come into its own.

COOS COUNTY FOR GOOD ROADS

facts showing how in the winter time California dressed meat was used instead of Coos county meat, because the roads would not permit of the transportation of meat in winter time.

Dr. Johnson of Myrtle Point also discussed the laws which were to be voted upon and said that they should be looked into carefully.

Cost of Hard Road.
 Dr. Mingsus announced that he had secured from Hugh McLain some figures as to cost. The road from the Douglas line to Myrtle Point, from there to Coquille, from Coquille to Bandon and from Coquille to Coos Bay and the ocean made a total of 94 miles. To build a concrete base and hard road it would cost for these 94 miles $1,488,960. The interest at 6 per cent would be $8,937.30, and a 20-year sinking fund would require $74,498.20 put in it annually. This would make the 94 miles of road cost $1,627,811 annually for 20 years.

It was suggested by Mayor Morrison that bonds could probably be floated at a less interest than 6 per cent.

There was a discussion regarding the forming of a permanent organization suggestions being made by Mayor Straw, Mr. Topping, R. S. Knowlton and others. It was finally decided that a committee be appointed on permanent organization and report at a meeting to be held at Coquille next Friday evening and that another committee be appointed to investigate the laws and find which one the organization should center upon at the next election.

Meet Again Friday.
 The meeting next Friday night at Coquille will be a public one. Everyone will be invited to attend and hear what is said, and the membership of the organization will be open to all who are interested in the good roads movement.

Mayor Morrison appointed as a committee on permanent organization, the following: E. E. Johnson, George Topping, Dr. Johnsonson, D. C. Green and Dr. Bartle.

Mr. Morrison named as the committee to investigate the measure to come before the people at the election Judge John S. Coke, Edgar Simson, J. A. Matson and Hugh McLain.

It was urged by several of those present that as the election was to be held next month there was every necessity for haste and that whatever campaigning for a good road law was done must be done at once.

The idea expressed by those who were present last night was that the county should be bonded for the improvement of all of the roads in the county, but that as a starter the first thing the organization wanted to do was to bring about the building of a trunk line which would be a permanent highway to Roseburg.

Judge Coke in speaking of the meeting said that he did not want to be understood as favoring the building of simply one road at the expense of the roads of the rest of the county but that his idea, and he thought the idea of most of the others, was that the roads of the entire county be improved and that the permanent trunk line be decided upon as the first step.
