THE FIRST GRAY HAIR SIGN OF AGE

Easy Way to Preserve Natural Color of the Hair and Make it Grow.

A harmless remedy, made from common garden sage, quickly restores gray hair to natural color. The care of the hair, to prevent its losing its color and luster, is just as important as to care for teeth to keep them from decoloring. Why spend money for cosmetics and creams to improve the complexion, and yet neglect your hair, when gray hair is even more conspicuous and suggestive of age than wrinkles or a poor complexion? Of the two, it is easier to preserve the natural color and beauty if the hair than it is to have a good complexion.

All that is necessary is the occasional use of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of common garden Sage and Sulphur, combined with other valuable remedies for dry, harsh, faded hair, dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. After a few applications of this simple, harmless remedy, your hair will gradually be restored to its natural color, in a short time the dandruff will be removed, and your hair will no longer come out but will start to grow as nature intended it should.

Don't neglect your hair, for it goes further than anything else to make or mar your good looks. You can buy this remedy at any drug store for fifty cents a bottle, and your druggist will give you money back if you are not satisfied after using. Purchase a bottle today. You will never regret it when you realize the difference it will make in your appearance.

BANDON IS PROSPEROUS

BANDON, Or., Nov. 7.—As an indication of the condition of the town of Bandon commercially, Bradstreet's representative, C. W. Mildon, says that the merchants of Bandon are in first-class shape, and that it is a town where the percentage of failures is unusually low.

Bandon, according to Mr. Miller, who has been closely investigating conditions, is more prosperous and more progressive than any of the interior towns of similar population in the State of Oregon, which is his territory. The bay towns, in the aggregate, measure up to what has been said of Bandon.

HOW FRUIT PRODUCERS CAN COMPEL BUYERS TO PAY THEIR PRICE.

Professor F. C. Sears of the Massachusetts Agricultural College writes an article "Storing Fruit Properly," in the current issue of Farm and Fireside. He says that the orchard industry in the Eastern part of the United States is woefully deficient in its equipment for storing fruit. The following extract from his article shows how producers lose money if they have no proper storage facilities:

"On a recent trip to Wenatchee, Washington, the writer was told that the growers there were frequently able to realize twenty-five to fifty cents per box more for their apples because they were not at the mercy of the buyer. Mr. Buyer offered a dollar and a quarter per box. Mr. Orchardist's price was one dollar and seventy-five cents. Said Mr. Buyer, 'That is the best I can do.' 'Very well,' said Mr. Orchardist, 'I will put them in storage.' 'Well,' said Mr. Buyer, 'I will wire the house to-night and see if I can do any better.' And the next day, for some reason not explained (and not needing any explanation) the buyer is able to meet the views of the orchardist as to price. This is not saying anything against the buyer. He naturally wants to buy on the best terms he can. The possession of good local storage merely puts the sale on the ideal footing, buyer and seller on an absolute equality. The buyer can take the fruit if they can agree in price. If not, it can remain in storage!"

CAN YOU HEAR MOONLIGHT?

If a fellow was to tell you he could hear your face would you get sore, or would you politely ask him how loudly the sun was shining?

Of course, anyone who could hear your face or your clothes could hear the sunshine and the moon beams and the dainty white skirt tripping sweetly up the street, for he would have a optophone.

An optophone? Exactly. The device that makes light audible, invented by Fournier d'Albe and exhibited by him to the members of the Royal society in London.

The apparatus enables the totally blind to hear the light they cannot see. It enables them to locate windows or open doors in a house and to locate persons whose clothing is either much darker than their surroundings or much lighter.

The optophone is a small box, something like a camera, which the blind man carries in front of him. A headband holds the telephone to the ear. Through a small hole light is thrown upon the selenium cell which produces an electric current interrupted by a special clockwork interrupter, and so made audible in the telephone.

On a bright moonlight night the moon sounds quite loudly, but for real noise, try to hear the sun shine! One bright sunbeam can make more noise in an optophone than a Niagara Falls. An electric light on a black background sounds like a boiler factory.

The inventor believes that with an optophone a blind person can get around much better than he now can, for the optophone will tell him where an object begins and where it leaves off. With that apparatus a blind person says the inventor, can hear the light of stars invisible through the telescope.

MAKE RAID ON LIQUOR RESORTS

Officials Go After Illegal Sellers at Gardiner.

Liquor selling at Gardiner has been stopped by the officials again. The following regarding a raid is from the Roseburg Review:

"At Gardiner, two days ago, Deputy Sheriff R. T. Ashworth raided Bert Franklin's liquor resort and seized a large quantity of beer and 38 quarts of whiskey. Franklin was then arrested and arraigned before the local justice of the peace, and he furnished $400 bonds to insure his appearance before the grand jury. He was indicted two months ago on two counts for selling liquor, but District Attorney Brown agreed to press only one of them upon Franklin's promise to quit violating the law. He furnished bail of $400 to appear in court for sentence this month, but upon returning to Gardiner, forgot all about his promise."

"LOUD" SOCKS INSPECTED.

Seattle Principal Then Sends Boys and Girls Home to Change.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 7.—Principal Otto Luther of the Queen Anne High school today frowned on all Queen Anne girls and sent them home to change their stockings. And the boys who showed loud plaids, reds, creams, violets and greens were ordered to adorn their ankles with more subdued hues.

And the girls, who had the audacity to compete with boys in such an undignified contest, Mr. Luther lined up for inspection. He had to be a little more delicate with them. In some cases the skirts lapped the tops of rainy-weather shoes, and what could a male principal do? He guessed, made no exceptions to plain white, but made the order general, and off the girls went to their dressing rooms or home to make the change.

At the assembly there was a lecture for everybody and a warning that loud socks at Queen Anne were doomed.

DOES A HEN PAY HER BOARD?

The following is taken from the current issue of Farm and Fireside:

"Poultrymen are now debating whether a hen or a pullet is capable of the greater egg production. There is good argument on both sides.

"Some claim that, while hens lay less than pullets, they lay larger and heavier eggs and because of this fact, the eggs command a better price than those laid by pullets. This is true, but in many sections of the United States eggs are sold without grading, and, consequently, the smaller egg is able to command as good a price as the larger one.

"Others in favor of pullets, because they lay so many eggs which, they claim, possess a better flavor than those laid by hens. No one disputes the fact that pullets lay more eggs than hens.

"The question of which is the better, hens or pullets, will never be answered so that it will please everyone. It is simply a matter of the likes and dislikes of the individual poultryman.

"Personally, the writer favors the pullet.
 "The eggs of pullets do not hatch as well as those of hens. Not only that, but the chicks do not seem nearly so strong and lively as those hatched from hen eggs. For this reason, then, the writer would advise pullets for market eggs and hens for breeders.

"The falling off of the number of eggs from the first year to the second year of the hen's life is about fifty eggs. This is quite an item, and because of this fact many claim that a hen does not pay her board. At an average price of eggs during the winter, fifty eggs would mean about two dollars in money, which is quite a loss for each hen.

"Hens that are kept for breeders should be ones that have never been forced for heavy egg production. Because of the terrible strain on their reproductive systems, the larger per cent. of their eggs are infertile, and what chicks do hatch are weak."

ORRINE CURES WHISKEY AND BEER HABIT

ORRINE is the standard remedy and is everywhere recognized as the most successful and reliable home treatment for the "Drink Habit." It is highly praised by thousands of women, because it has restored their loved ones to lives of sobriety and usefulness, and the weekly wages which at one time were spent for "Drink" are now used to purchase the necessaries and many comforts for home. Any wife or mother who wants to save her husband or son from "Drink" will be glad to know that she can purchase ORRINE at our store, and if no benefit is obtained after a trial the money will be refunded. Can be given secretly.

ORRINE is prepared in two forms: No. 1, secret treatment, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, given secretly in food or drink; ORRINE No. 2, in pill form, is for those who desire to take voluntary treatment.

Costs only $1.00 per box. Ask for free booklet telling all about ORRINE.
