

CULLINGS OF COQUILLE.

Coos County Seat News as Told by The Herald. County Clerk Watson collected fees to the amount of $638.80 for the month of October.

The resignation of Councilman P. C. True, who has moved from the city, was accepted and the appointment of Leo J. Cary to fill the vacancy was made and confirmed, the new councilman taking his seat at once.

F. C. True, now in the employ of the Prosper Mill at Prosper, came home Tuesday to vote. His family are still residents of Coquille but will move to their new home as soon as arrangements can be completed for their comfort.

Frank Cameron, formerly the printer of the Agitator, who has been seeking to secure a license for a saloon at South Slough, has not as yet presented his application to the County Court for acceptance. Strong opposition exists and it is quite probable Mr. C. will be obliged to guzzle his own individual booze.

W. H. Boyle, formerly of Coquille, who met with an accident while working on the new mill here, suffered a serious injury recently while employed at carpenter work on a five-story hotel building at Roseburg. He slipped and fell on the concrete sidewalk on Jackson street during the noon hour, and apparently fractured one of his hips.

GIRL LOST 7 YEARS FOUND.

Ragged Newspaper Clipping Gives Clue to Father in Search.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—A ragged piece of newspaper two months old has given Charles W. Clarke of Chihuahua, Mexico, his first clue after seven years' search for his daughter Mabel, who was abducted supposedly by gypsies, when she was five years old.

The piece carried the appeal of a little Kansas City girl who signed herself Edna Meyers to the Los Angeles police, asking help to find her father.

The child said that she had been taken away from home when very small, that her right name was Clarke, and that her father's name, as she remembered it was Thomas. Despite this difference the circumstances of the supposed abduction tally so closely that Clarke is convinced that she is his daughter. He passed through this city today on his way to Kansas City to find her. Clarke says his child was taken from its caretaker by several men while berrying in July, 1905.

He has practically exhausted his resources in a search which he has prosecuted ever since, and had given up hope when he happened to come across the newspaper story of the little Missouri girl.

THAT WOLF-THING'S HANGING 'ROUND.

There's a friends who's ever with me. He is standing by my door. Though I've tried my best to lose him,—there he is as er before. I have scrapped with him by lamp-light,—tried to can him in the snow, but he's always hanging 'round me. He's that Old Wolf-Thing, you know. CHORUS.

Wolf-Thing, Wolf-Thing, won't you leave me? Pass me by, O' pass me by. Let me slumber ev'ry morning till the sun has mounted high. I would like to be good fellow,—with some Joy Bunch make a sound, but I never have the "yellow," for Old Wolf-Thing's hanging 'round. II.

Yesterday, with empty pockets, I went walking through the town. There were doughnuts in a window, done in colors, rich and brown. Then I turned without a longing,—tried to touch a man I found, but he said, "My friend, there's others who have Wolf-Things hanging 'round."

FISHING WAS POOR.

Coquille Fishermen Fared Badly This Year.

The Bandon Recorder says: Most of the fishermen on the Coquille river have hung up for the season. The fishing business this year has been exceptionally poor, in fact most of the fishermen have lost money. The Coquille River Co-operative Canning Co. has packed only about 7,000 cases out of a guarantee of 12,000 cases pack so they will be considerably behind.

Of course the cannery is still running but only gill netters are fishing and the catch is very light and the extra 5,000 cases cannot possibly be made up. The seiners have all hung up and are considerably behind on their catch in fact some of them are several hundred dollars out, as the harvest of fish has not been nearly enough to pay expenses. Last year was one of the best in the history of this river for fishing while this year will go down into history as one of the poorest.

WASTE OF POLITICS.

Some absent minded politician in Marshfield mailed over three hundred envelopes to the voters of North Bend this week, which were empty. Postmaster Russell states as there was no return address on the envelopes he had no way of ascertaining who mailed them and was obliged to deliver same to those addressed, though he realized that they were empty. We predict that it was just as well anyway.—North Bend Harbor.

PORTLAND CITY ELECTION.

Reject Special Bond Issues and Grant New Franchise.

PORTLAND, Nov. 9.—Unofficial figures from all precincts of the city except one show the defeat of commission government at the city election Saturday by a majority of exactly 800. The missing precinct probably will slightly increase these figures.

Every bond issue voted upon was defeated, the public market running closest. The Ross Island project was most unpopular of the money measures, the plan to purchase it being rejected by nearly 15,000, a majority of four to one.

Of the seven measures adopted the most important are the approval of a franchise for the Northwestern Electric company, the amendment establishing a uniform toll of 3 cents for all cars crossing the bridges, and indorsement given the greater Portland plans for the city beautiful.

Not only did the voters turn down every proposal for bonding the city, but they decisively rejected every amendment to the charter that would have permitted the city council to increase the salaries of the city attorney, city treasurer and city engineer.

Defeat of the Daly public service commission bill by over 7400 votes puts a quietus on the plan for a local commission form of government.

A MODEL BET.

It looks very much as if Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., would be called upon soon to pay a debt of honor to her young nephew, Hermann Oelrichs. The debt is a large one—some say a half million dollars was the amount of the wager that Mrs. Vanderbilt, in losing it, will consider that she has won.

A few years ago, as young Oelrichs was nearing the age when boys regard cigarettes as the insignia of manhood, his aunt challenged him to lay part of his future fortune against a similar part of hers on the proposition that he would not smoke or touch intoxicants of any kind until he should reach his majority.

He accepted the challenge and the time of settlement will arrive with his twenty-first birthday next month. Thus has "gambling" been turned into a virtue to conquer other evils. Mrs. Vanderbilt may be proud of her losses. Her nephew, who is a chum of Vincent Astor, and a student in the law school of Columbia, has been for years the model youth of Newport and New York Society. And he has been an example that a boy can shun bad habits without being a mollycoddle.

None of his set is farther from being a mollycoddle than Oelrichs. He is one of the most daring automobilists in the country, a clever boxer and fencer, and has won trophies at golf and tennis.

Moreover, he is regarded as a young Chesterfield in manner and dress. He attends all the smartest functions of summer and winter, and is already popular in society abroad. Two years ago he and Vincent Astor had an auto race on the sand of the Second bench at Newport. Oelrichs' car caught fire, but he kept going till he won the race, and then had to drive into the ocean to put out the fire.

Already possessed of a considerable fortune, he will receive an immense one from his mother on the day he shall wed.

A. J. Bailey, a railroad engineer, Batesville, Ark., says: "I suffered with kidney and bladder trouble so bad I was unable to work. I had such severe pains in my back I could hardly get up. I tried several physicians with no result, but Foley's Kidney Pills have done wonders for me. I recommend them to all." For sale by Lockhart-Parsons Drug Co., the Busy Corner.
