HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

The most animated teacher living cannot awaken much response in a child who is "half dead" for sleep as the expression goes. The school has altogether too many such for first class work. "Regular hours for bed and in bed at those hours every night of a school day" ought to be the motto for every pupil who is in school for business. Relegate the social functions to the week end.

Cheating is cheating, whether in the class room or in business, says a school paper.

A school ought to develop self control in its pupils. Some one has said that three great elements of power are initiative, self-control and stick-to-it-iveness.

The 'intermediate grade teachers met Friday afternoon at the High school building to plan the work for the month of November.

Breakfast In a Good, Warm Room

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

A "warm" breakfast—the kind that sends you out ready braced for a good day's work—should be eaten in a warm room.

You lose half the good of the meal if you are shivering in discomfort while you eat it.

A Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater makes breakfast a cosy meal for the whole family.

No smoke or smell with a Perfection. Easily cleaned. Easily moved from room to room. An ornament anywhere; a luxury in the bedroom; a necessity in the sewing-room or the bathroom.

Dealers everywhere: or write for descriptive circular.

entered the Freshman class Wednesday.

History.

The American history class is working out the period of history just prior to the Revolution and the causes of the war are being noted very fully. The instructor trying to show the justice or injustice as the case may be of the grievances of the colonists.

The Junior class has just finished a study of the Magna Charta and the Provisions of Oxford, whereby the English people gained a voice in the governmental affairs and had their rights as well as the rights of the King more fully defined.

The Sophomores will shortly begin reviewing the work of the past five weeks, which has taken them to the period of the Renaissance. Interest has been taken in the literature of the times and the legend of Siegfried, as an example of German story, has been read.

The Freshmen have been trying to get hold of Greek history, especially the governmental institutions and the causes and effects of the Persian wars.

High School Athletics.

Football is the absorbing topic at the school at present, but it is hoped that the season will close with the game against Myrtle Point on November 15. The team today is playing at Coquille and a hard game is expected as they are a well coached and aggressive lot of players in all departments of the game.

Through the kindness of Mr. C. A. Smith the use of the Tabernacle has been secured for the purpose of basketball and it is hoped that a strong team will be developed this year, as only one man of last year's team has been lost by graduation.

Object Lesson for Boys.

Boys, do you note that Christy Mathewson won even if New York lost? It was a case of honor not honors. For 14 years "Matty" has been and is now one of the greatest ball pitchers in the world. In the last great struggle between the Giants and Red Sox the veteran of 14 years out-pitched the greatest twirlers of the Boston team, "Smoky Jo" Wood and Hugh Bennett. For 10 innings "Matty's" keen eye, quick wit, steady nerve, fibrous muscles, and consummate skill were to all appearances in as full play as ever in his career. This could not have been were it not for Mathewson's clean life, abstemious habits, and steady work. From his first outing as a college ball player to the present time Mathewson has been a genial, popular, strong, successful, manly, and sportsmanlike fellow. He paid his way through college by playing ball. He has a fine farm purchased by his ball playing profits, and there with his wife and family he spends that portion of the year when not on duty. When first offered the position with the Giants he passed up the contract until it was so amended that he would not have to play on Sundays. More and more in every sport and in every sort of labor worth while, the requirements for total abstinence from intoxicants are being emphasized.—Exchange.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS.

Miss Jessie Trask of Gold Hill entered the Sophomore class Monday.

Charner Wright from Portland

Latin and Grammar.

The year's work in Cicero consists of the four Catilinarian orations. The class has already finished "The Citizenship of Archias" and has almost completed "Pompey's Military Command."

The class in Caesar is supposed to finish four books during the year. The class has already finished one—"Caesar's First Campaign in Gaul Against the Helvetians."

The class has read Paul Heyse's "T'Arrabiata," Theodore Storm's "Immensee." For class work they are reading Von Hiller's "Hobereis die Kuche," and Storm's "Pole Poppenspaler."

DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

The first and second grades of both buildings next week begin work on small hammocks. The third grade is making small mats and doll hats of raffia.

The fourth and fifth grades are making mats and hats of raffia for themselves.

A number of the sixth and seventh grades pupils have completed the large porch hammocks upon which they were working.

The High school cookery class has completed the work in canning and preserving and will take up the making of salads next.

In sewing the High school girls have been making various articles of underwear.

About 40 ladies have enrolled in the advanced cookery classes, held on Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 3:30 to 5:00 in the domestic science room of the High school building, under the direction of Miss Moore.

Botany and English.

The Senior English class is making a study of Macbeth. Special attention is being given to character development.

The students of Junior English are making a study of Moralities and Miracle Plays. Attention has been called to the recent revivals of Everyman and the Shepherd's Play. On Friday, Stoddard's lecture on the Passion Play at Oberammergau was read and themes based upon magazine articles on the play were written.

Through the medium of Dicken's Tale of Two Cities, the Sophomore English class is getting an insight into the Reign of Terror and the causes of the French Revolution.

In the Freshman English classes special emphasis is being laid on oral and written composition. Oral compositions at the present time, consisting of myths and legends, are required each week.

The botany class has been studying the anatomy of stems. This has been made interesting by the use of two fine compound microscopes with which the laboratory is supplied.

Public Speaking.

The public speaking department had its first debate Friday morning at the third period on the Immigration Question, which is the one for Coos county. The class has been divided into six teams of two members each and the different teams are scheduled to meet every Friday for some time to come. Messrs. Kolstad and Carlson of the negative were snowed under Friday morning by the Isaacson brothers, but next time promises a change as various plots are being formulated whereby Carlson and Kolstad will have the Immigration Problem under their control.

The night class is progressing nicely and all enjoy their work very much.

It is understood that the Literary society will hold a declamation contest sometime in March. Although nothing definite has been heard, it is likely that much interest will be shown, especially if some medals are given to the winners.

The Marshfield High school oratorical contest will have about 12 contestants and promises to be a hard contested affair, as all are eager for Marshfield High to win the county contest. So far the work of many students is very promising.
