BORN.

WHITWORTH—To Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Whitworth, at the home of Mr. Chas Lash in Marshfield, Thursday, Nov. 21, a girl. Mr. and Mrs. Whitworth's home is at Port Orford.

Leases Home.—C. F. McGeorge has leased the new house of Will Chapman's at Eleventh and Central for three years.

Ladies' Art Club.—The Ladies' Art Club has postponed its meeting this week until Friday, December 6, when it will meet with Mrs. A. L. Houseworth.

Big Flight of Ducks.—A big flight of ducks is around Haynes Inlet, North and Poney Inlets, which is an indication that the storm is not over.

Dance Tonight.—The Fortnightly club will give one of its popular dances tonight at Eagles' hall. The music will be furnished by the Lew Keyzer orchestra.

Postpone Meeting.—Owing to the funeral of Richard Walter, the ladies of the C. W. B. M. will hold their missionary meeting Friday evening instead of Friday afternoon at the Christian church on Central avenue.

Kills Loon.—Alva Granby yesterday afternoon killed two large Alaska loons on the mud flat across the Bay from here. The birds were among the largest ever seen here, weighing over 20 pounds apiece. Their plumage and breasts are quite valuable for millinery, boas, etc.

Chilly Ride.—O. B. Walker, one of the passengers on the incoming Drain stage this morning, was so chilled with the cold that he was hardly able to assist himself. Mr. Walker took the stage this morning at 2 o'clock and the ride down the beach is a very cold one, especially at this time of the year.

Will Give Bazaar.—The Baptist ladies will give a bazaar, food sale and lunch on December 7. The place will be announced later.

Not Candidate.—Al Owens says that he is not a candidate for the democratic appointment as postmaster in Marshfield. He says he has no aspirations to hold any office.

Give Recital.—Miss Mildred Rood's North Bend and Marshfield pupils will give a recital in the Presbyterian church at North Bend tomorrow evening. Her sister, Mrs. Frank Rood, will assist by singing.

Successor Chosen.—The following item from the Roseburg Review will be of interest here, Rev. Burkhart having recently come from Roseburg to assume the Marshfield Presbyterian pastorate: "A telegram received today from Boston, Mass., states that Rev. Paul Lux has accepted a call to the Presbyterian church of Roseburg, succeeding Rev. J. E. Burkhart."

DIED.

JOHNSON—At Sixes River, Curry County, Ore., Nov. 9, 1912, Isaac J. Johnson, aged 81 years.

Mr. Johnson lived in West Roseburg for 18 years, immediately preceding September, 1911, when he moved to Curry county. He was a veteran of the Civil War and a lifelong member of the United Brethren church. News of his death was first received here this morning by his nephew, Newton Estes. Mr. Johnson leaves a widow and one son, William H. Johnson, at the family home, a son and daughter in Missouri, one son at Union, Ore., and a daughter in Canada.—Roseburg News.

TIMES BIRDMAN WINS A WIFE

Silas Christofferson Married in Portland—Honeymoon Trip in Aeroplane.

Silas Christofferson, the Coos Bay Times' birdman, whose daring feats with an aeroplane here a few weeks ago won him the world wide renown, has made another flight and this time matrimony is his vehicle. The news of his marriage came as a surprise to his many friends he made here. It is graphically told in a Portland paper, which prints pictures of the bride and groom, as follows: "Oh, young Lochinvar is come out of the west,

Through all the wild border his steed was the best."

"Young Lochinvar, in the person of Silas Christofferson, whose daring air feats have made him known through the whole land, has come out of the west again in a dashing aeroplane courtship as stirringly romantic as the one Sir Walter Scott penned in his famous poem.

"As Lochinvar and his fair Ellen flew 'over bank, bush and spraur' on his fleet steed, Christofferson and the bride of his choice will fly this afternoon on a romantic honeymoon trip up the Columbia. The bride will be Mrs. Emma Becker, a young woman of this city who comes to every poetic requirement as the counterpart of the fair Ellen.

"So faithful in love and so dauntless in war, There never was mate like the young Lochinvar."

Courtship in Aeroplane

"Friends of the young folk only learned today how Christofferson won his fair bride after a courtship of only a few months, in which many aeroplane rides together were romantic features. They learned the secret with the announcement that the wedding will take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Portland hotel, with the Rev. W. A. M. Breck performing the ceremony.

"One touch to her hand and one word in her ear, When they reached the hall door, and the charger stood near."

"Directly after the ceremony Christofferson and his bride will hurry to their waiting hydroplane. They have planned a honeymoon trip such as perhaps no other newly wedded couple has ever been privileged to make.

To Fly up Columbia
"So light to the eroup the fair maiden he swung, So light to the saddle before her he sprung."

"Swinging his bride into the seat beside him, Christofferson will start the whirring motors, turn his levers, and then with a swish they will rise into the air for a fifty mile journey up the Columbia River.

"She is won, we are gone, over bank, bush and spraur, 'They'll have fleet steeds that follow,' said young Lochinvar."

"How far will they go? Well, seriously, both Christofferson and Mrs. Christofferson-to-be said this morning that they didn't know. And didn't care very much either. All they know is that they will swing up the Columbia River valley about 50 miles to one of the hot spring resorts there, and land where they can with least trouble.

"We'll just go till we have to stop," said the girl who will accompany the young aviator on his ride.

"'Afraid? Well I guess not. Not with Silas at the levers. Why, I wouldn't be afraid with him in any weather. He is so careful and light in his touch that it is just heavenly riding up there in the air.

"Have I ridden before? Well I guess yes. I have gone with him in flights over the city, and only last Sunday we went 'planing up the Willamette, swooping under one bridge and over another. I'm the only woman in the world that has ever done that.

"It does sound rather romantic, doesn't it? But it's awful fun—and, well—I'm just as happy as can be."

"Mrs. E. Bissner, a sister of Mrs. Becker, will be maid of honor at the wedding ceremony and Ernest Hammer will be the best man.

"Christofferson is the young man who first gained fame by flying off the roof of the Multnomah hotel. Later he carried mail from Portland to Vancouver, and only a few weeks ago went out in his aeroplane with a newspaper man as passenger in a daring attempt to save rescuers from the wreck of the schooner Osprey on Coos Bay.

Elks Play—It has been decided to put on the Elks' big home talent play Thursday and Friday nights, December 5 and 6, at the Masonic Opera House. Prior to the play, the Elks will get out a special paper to be called "The Big Noise."

LEAVE TODAY ON REDONDO

Steamer Sailed This Morning For San Francisco With Large List.

VESSELS DELAYED.

Owing to a rough bar and an unusually heavy swell outside, neither the Nann Smith nor the Redondo was able to cross out for San Francisco today. The Redondo passengers returned here. They will attempt to sail at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The Redondo sailed this morning for San Francisco with a capacity list of passengers. In fact, some who desired to sail on her were unable to secure accommodations and had to postpone their departure.

Besides her cargo of lumber, the Redondo had considerable miscellaneous freight, including 1000 cases of cranberries.

Among those sailing on the Redondo were the following:

- J. M. Ray, F. J. Bird, H. E. Sinclair, Percy Gibbs, Ed. Bennett, C. W. Gibbs, Iola Lemmieux, May Lemmieux, Mrs. Barrett, Geo. McCutcheon, A. J. Gulliams, A. H. McKay, I. C. Fuller, A. H. Flynn, F. A. Strub, M. S. All, Miss M. Johnson, Miss Violet Henderson, Mrs. Olive Wells, Mrs. M. S. All, Edna Lando, Mrs. D. A. Smith, A. Rehwalt, M. C. Dresser, J. C. Hubbard, Mrs. O. Timmons and baby, C. A. Buck, G. F. Thorn, F. O. Benowitz, E. B. Cordes, Bill Shukelo, Lane Schotey, C. N. Anderson, D. M. Smith, John Annis, T. Nelson, Bruce Hood, F. H. Streeter, H. Hendrix, T. Molass, C. O. Bley, L. J. Leslie, Herbert Shields, Geo. S. Wallis, John Cosmos, John Russell and Mike Sunbbas.

QUIT PLACE ON SCHOOL BOARD

Dr. J. T. McCormac Resigns as Director in Marshfield; Woman for Place.

Dr. J. T. McCormac, who recently moved to Berkeley, Cal., where he and Mrs. McCormac will make their home, has tendered his resignation as a member of the Marshfield school board. When he left a month ago, he was undecided as to how long he would be away and thought that he might be able to attend to his duties until his term expired next June. However, after his arrival at Berkeley and the purchase of his home there, he decided that he would not be able to be here enough of the time to attend to the duties of director and so has submitted his resignation.

Dr. McCormac has served on the Marshfield school board many years and took especial pride in the advancement of the school system. Having taught school prior to practicing medicine, he was especially fitted for the work because it was one of great personal interest. His retirement will be regretted by his many friends on the Bay.

Whether a special election will be called to select his successor has not been announced. John C. Merchant and A. H. Powers are the other members of the board. There has been talk in the past of having at least one woman member of the school board and some who have heard of Dr. McCormac's resignation have suggested Mrs. I. S. Kaufman as his successor.

WATER FRONT ROAD FINISHED

Highway Between Marshfield and North Bend at Last a Reality.

The completion of the North Bend-Marshfield waterfront roadway, the dream of several years, will become an actual reality this afternoon when Supervisor Grout finishes the planing. By late this afternoon, it is expected that autos and rigs can traverse the water level road between the two towns the entire distance to Stanton avenue.

The road was talked of for a few years and finally Marshfield built its portion of it. The county commissioners built the connecting link and Mayor Simpson and the people of North Bend finally got the balance underway. Part of the cost of the last stretch of the plank road was raised by subscriptions.

SNEAK THIEF IS CAPTURED

Wm. Baler With Many Aliases, Confesses Stealing Edwards' Valise.

Frank Baler, alias Wm. Smith, alias Wm. Bates, was arrested last night by Officer Shoupe on the charge of having stolen a valise and clothing belonging to C. E. Edwards. He has confessed and will probably be sentenced today by Justice Penneck.

Marshal Carter has also discovered that Baler, or whatever his name may be, stole a suit of clothes belonging to Ivan Johansen. The latter theft was committed at the Rogers rooming house, where the man of many names had a room. Johansen could not be found today to prosecute the case.

Baler's arrest followed his attempt to sell some of the clothing. He went into the National bar and tried to make the sale and one of the proprietors immediately telephoned the police.

Baler says he is 38 years old. He is about five feet nine and a half inches tall and weighs about 150 pounds. He looks like a tramp and acts the part.

Marshal Carter believes that he was a former convict, but Baler denies this, although he admits having been at Salem. He came to Coos county a few weeks ago from Roseburg and has been at various towns in the county and most recently at Empire.

Owing to today being "Home Industry Day" Justice Penneck thought it might be a legal holiday and deferred Baler's hearing until tomorrow. Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Liljevist concurred in this.
