MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

Doctor Harry Winkler

N. B.—Inquirers will please not hand money to Dr. Winkler. He receives a salary of $82,000 per year to give free advice to the people, and assures us that this sum is sufficient for his modest needs.

Dear Doc: What's good for floating kidney? Answer—A. B. Daly.

Dear Doc: What will prevent dandruff from falling on my coat collar? Answer—D. Y. S. Cut collar off.

Dear Doc: What will cure insomnia? Answer—Move to Myrtle Point.

Oh, Doctor: What will cure Geo. Goodrum? Answer—Nothing.

Dear Doctor: What had I better do? Answer—Bennett Swanton. Forgive it.

Testimonials.

Dear Doc: Your medicine has helped me wonderfully. Three days ago I couldn't even whip the Cream and now I am able to thrash the Oats. Anson Rogers.

Dear Doc: My wife was so sick that she couldn't swallow a thing. I gave her two bottles of your medicine and now she swallows everything I tell her. Tom Hall.

Dear Doc: My rheumatism ached so bad that I couldn't lie still at night. I broke every window in my bedroom as you directed me and now I sleep without any "panes." Dorsey Kreitzer.

L. J. S., North Bend.—You say you are only 63 years old. Then you do not require spectacles. All you need to do is to make an eyewash by dissolving two pounds of chloroform in a tub of water and wash your neck with the solution once a month. This will cause the eyes to grow bright and shed a peculiar lustre which will attract the women to you. It will also aid you in seeing trouble ahead, so that you may avoid it.

Dr. Winkler—Dear Doctor: Some weeks ago you sent me a plaster to get rid of the rheumatism and it did the work. Now I would like for you to send me something to get rid of the plaster. R. J. Montgomery.

Minnie—Your blood is out of order and the warts on your map are probably caused by torpedo liver. Get from your butcher a walrus liver and fry in axle grease. To this add one teacup of sand and mix with a whisk broom. Use a curling iron and swallow whole. This will give you a new liver and is an excellent remedy for catarrh of the feet also. Take a painful one minute before each meal and you won't be able to eat. When a new liver is built you can raffle off the old one. Oh, you, Minnie!

Maud—Eczema is frequently caused by eating soup with a knife. Wearing your shoes in bed or inhaling breath brings about this affliction. A good remedy is made by mixing four ounces of dynamite with an elephant's lung and one pint of ink. When dissolved let soak through a horse blanket and rub on the itching surface with sand paper until the face is smooth. If your hands are covered with eczema, soak them in dishwater after each meal.

HANDS OFF.

"You must not touch the top of baby's head," said Mrs. Jack Flanagan to her four-year-old, "she has a soft spot there that is very tender."

The youngster looked at it curiously for a moment and then asked: "Do all babies have soft spots on their heads?"

"Yes," "Did papa have a soft spot on the top of his head when he was a baby?"

"Yes," replied Mama Flanagan, with a sigh, "and he's got it yet." And the old man (Jack) who had heard the conversation from an adjoining room, sang out: "Yes, indeed, he has, my dear boy, or he would never have gotten married."

Favorite Recipes. DUCK MULLIGAN A LA HAYDEN—This is a secret recipe and is understood to require forty-seven ingredients, but a member of the Coter Club has divulged that it usually contains some duck and may also include onions, potatoes, pine cones, skunk cabbage, red peppers, broom corn, bitumen, beer, bran, oakum and assorted leaves.

BEEFSTEAK A LA FLANAGAN—Take a good beefsteak, wallop around on top of a hot stove, season and serve on a barrel.

WATER A LA STRAW—Take four drops of Coos Bay Water Co.'s best water, add one gallon of Bourbon and take as rapidly as possible.

The following is a menu for a light midnight lunch as suggested by J. W. Bennett:

Two dozen oysters on the half shell. One-half broiled live lobster. One dozen crawfish. Sausage, potato saute. Welch Rarebit. Coffee. Liquids as needed.

This will be found of great benefit in cases of insomnia.

The following tried recipe is submitted by Gus Adelsperger. He has tried it and ought to know: MOCK HAM AND EGGS—Place der vite of a newspaper in der frying pan and cover der center mit an Italian sunset picked fresh from a magazine picture. Dis forms der egg and tastes very realistic. Be sure to get a fresh newspaper and a fresh magazine, udderwise the imitation egg will be dull and insipid. Now add a few slices of pickled floeum and fry carelessly for twenty minutes. Serve hot mit imitation salt and pepper on der side. Dis is a daylight dish because der sunset effect is lost if cooked after dark.
