 Steve Gallier, our railroad magnate, is pushing the construction of the Henderson road as well. The Henderson road has been constructed for all the oil he can get to supply its hot-air engines.
 Our noble barrister, F. J. Feeney, has not yet accepted President Wilson's tenure of the chief justiceship of Cape Blanco.
 H. E. L. Bedillion's cotton mill is working overtime turning out woolen blankets to fill an order from the War Department.
 Jack Sullivan and F. K. Flom are getting ready to put in a wholesale

Salt Water House here. This is a jobbing line that has never been developed in Bandon and it is believed that they will do fine promoting one of our greatest natural resources. Their supply is unlimited.
 E. H. Fish is planning to go into the salmon business as he believes his name would be worth a great deal in that line.

KEEN-EYED STRANGER REACHES BANDON IN SMALL BOAT—MIGHT BE HE.

Tell Tale Benn It, the Boy Sleuth of The Big Noise, spent two minutes at nineteen minutes to 23 o'clock today at the Chandler Hotel looking over their old registers. He has a clue. The suspicion is that room 13 on the 23rd floor was occupied by a defective one time. He is now hunting Edgar Allen Poe's stories, the "Yellow Back Library" and his other sources of information and promises in the near future to spring a name for his defective. Just what the defective was doing, about to do, ever did do, hopes to do, whether he is dead or alive, doesn't matter. This is going to be a thrilling, stirring, blood-curdling revelation and unless Claude Shylock or the Office Boy signs an order, we will print it. The Big Noise does not believe in printing news, but things like this we feel bound to spread.

Up to the time of going to press today we were in constant touch by means of our Perverted Press reports with the nearby cities, and give you news right off the wire on this important story.

Wasn't at Gardiner.
 (Special by Pervaricated Press to The Big Noise.)

GARDINER, Ore., Dec. 2 (1:37 a. m.)—Hawkshaw, the famous defective, did not pass through here within the last 25 years to probe R. A. Copple's election as mayor of Marshfield.

Burns Not at Roseburg.
 (Special by Pervaricated Press to The Big Noise.)

ROSEBURG, Ore., Dec. 2.—(1:56 a. m.)—Wm. J. Burns has not been seen here recently enroute to Marshfield to detect any party of prominent Marshfield men on a "hopping trip."

COQUILLE NEWS.

Andrew Jackson Sherwood—Small Morrissey of Marshfield is negotiating with us on putting bituminous paving on the Coquille River. This paving is guaranteed to settle the dust and a good thick coat with a water binder would greatly benefit our commerce.

S. J. Miller, our progressive agriculturist, is devoting considerable time to his ranch now and expects to harvest his crop of cabbage next week. Last week his duties at football, Elk matters and other business here and in Marshfield permitted him to spend 15 minutes on the ranch.

Your correspondent is getting tired to having one Lawrence Liljeqvist taking all the honors as deputy district attorney. He has labored long and quietly hoping that the public would recognize who was really entitled to the credit, but he finds that he will have to speak out if he gains recognition. Being of a rather retiring nature, I dislike it very much, but I wish to say that I have conscientiously endeavored to prevent so much attention being given to the duties of public prosecutor and feel that my success should entitle me to at least some recognition.

There's a bum bunch of Elks in Coquille. They don't do nothing. All they have been talking about has been "The Big Noise" for the past week and they have displayed more energy than they have ever hitherto evidenced in futile endeavors to borrow the money to attend the show.

Dr. Burmeister—Dear Doctor: Our cow fell down the front stairs last night and knocked out the filling you put in her eye tooth. As you guaranteed this filling for six milkings, and as the filling went down the —Defective Nick Carter has not been here with any evidence showing that A. H. Powers voted for R. A. Copple for Mayor in Marshfield a year ago.

JIM ALLEN.

Myrtle Point Rumor Unfounded.
 (Special by Pervaricated Press to The Big Noise.)

MYRTLE POINT, Ore., Dec. 2.—(2:13 a. m.)—A man with a dirty collar and "bum" lamp, tongue-tied, knock-kneed, pigeon-toed and with one leg shorter than the other, failed to bring any evidence here that J. W. Been It was in favor of giving Marshfield better water. Your correspondent's detective is not very good detecting other detectives and thinks there is a onion of detectives.

Coquille Falls in Quest.
 (Special by Pervaricated Press to The Big Noise.)

COQUILLE, Ore., Dec. 2.—(3:33 a. m.)—L. A. Liljeqvist wore a soiled collar this morning but denied that it was any evidence that he was a detective. He said he could not detect a clean collar at home. The dirty collar might have brought him an offer of $100,000 to go to Marshfield to detect why "The Big Noise" is the "Big Noise."

MAY BE IN BANDON.

Keen-Eyed Stranger Arrives There—Won't Talk—Who Is He?
 (Special by Pervaricated Press to The Big Noise.)

BANDON, Dec. 2.—(5:11 a. m.)—A small boat came into the harbor with a man with keen eyes early this morning. He wasn't talkative. It might have been Sherlock Holmes. Whether he was looking for Big Min and Marshfield men could not be ascertained.

Summer Reports Defective.
 (Special by Pervaricated Press to The Big Noise.)

SUMNER, Ore., Dec. 2.—(2:22.)—A defective passed through here one time. Where he was going, what he was doing or what he was going to do has not been stated.

No Hope from Jarvis Landing.
 (Special Dispatch.)

JARVIS LANDING, Ore., Dec. 2.—Francis J. Heney has not been here enroute to Marshfield to look up any graft cases. Your correspondent has been up in the air (in his flying machine) trying to detect something but can't.

MYRTLE POINT DEPT.

Ray B. Dement, Editor.
 (Special to The Big Noise.)

Chet Huling is planning to enlarge his second hand store. This month he handled two second-hand buggies, a broken down automobile and a two-wheeled baby buggy. Chet says this is but an indication of the volume of business that will be handled in Myrtle Point when the W. P. Murphy-J. H. Somers Inter-Oceanic Railway is completed in here.

J. Eugene Schilling, our worthy mine host, reports business flourishing. A Marshfield drummer, a Greek laborer and a Chinese cannery hand have been guests this month and one paid cash for his meal.

Your correspondent has been taking it easy recently owing to his good luck. He found a schilling that is a rare one and very valuable. He has not disposed of it, however, as he fears that it would be detrimental to his luck to do so. While not a believer in omens, fortune telling, etc., he does not believe in hazardous chances.

Senator-defeated Jake Stemmler is busy working up his practise and expects to have a case or two next year in court in case Doc Johnson is not too active. Doc Johnson, however, has been too busy trying to induce Tom Russell to move his Beaver Hill mine to Myrtle Point to bother Stemmler much. Since Johnson has been head of our boosters' club, he has been active in trying to get new enterprises for our city and believes that the Beaver Hill mine would be a good thing if it was moved here. Of course, in its present location it isn't amounting to much.
