LOCAL NOTES

Meets Accident.—G. S. Capps, the foreman of The Times composing room, met with an unusual and painful accident at his home in South Marshfield last evening. While carrying a kettle of boiling water he tripped and fell in some way and was badly scalded. His feet were most severely injured and he is confined to his home today, being unable to walk. While not serious his injuries are very painful. His absence makes the work more difficult in the office.

Goes to War.—Gus Moskos, who has been employed at Coaledo has returned to Greece to aid in the war with the Turks and others. He was one of the Greek subscribers of The Times and was intensely patriotic.

Sent to Portland.—Sheriff Quine of Roseburg, writes here that Mildred Casteel, a Coos county girl, will be sent from there to the Boys and Girls' home in Portland. He has asked that the girl's mother, Mrs. Maggie Condie, be notified.

Meet Wednesday.—The Baptist Sunday school pupils will meet for Christmas rehearsal Wednesday afternoon after school at the Baptist church.

Leave Tomorrow.—Among those who leave tomorrow by Gardiner and Drain are: W. S. Fensler, W. Thoe, Fred D. Parr, A. B. Clair, M. W. McDowell, W. A. McDowell, E. D. McArthur and J. E. Norton.

Gets Bear Skin.—J. W. Bennett has just received from Juneau, Alaska, a big polar bear skin for a rug. It is a beauty and is said to be one of the best that has come out of Alaska in a long time. He had a special order in for one of the best obtainable.

Son in Need.—Marshal Carter is in receipt of a telegram from C. L. Reed of Medford asking him to locate his son, Fred Reed, whom he says was reported ill and in need of aid in Marshfield. As yet no such person has been located.

Closes Condensary.—George Sheridan of North Bend is in Marshfield today settling up the affairs of the Coos Bay Condensary Company at North Bend, preparatory to his departure on the next Redondo for San Francisco to remain indefinitely with his folks.

WILL ELECT A DIRECTOR

Special School Election at Marshfield Central Building Tonight.

A special school election will be held at the Marshfield Central school at 7:30 this evening to elect a director to fill the vacancy on the board caused by the resignation of Dr. J. T. McCormac, who recently moved to Berkeley.

A. T. Haines, who has had previous experience on school boards, and George E. Cook, a Marshfield grocer, and J. M. Upton were the candidates talked of today in connection with the election. Various rumors have been afloat about the candidates. Some active work has been done today in the campaign.

Mrs. I. S. Kaufman stated positively this afternoon that she would not be a candidate for school director. Her name had been mentioned as one of the candidates.
