BORN.

GREVES—To Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Greves, at their home in North Bend, Oregon, Tuesday, December 10, twin daughters, Mr. Greves is cashier of the First National Bank of North Bend and yesterday was elected treasurer of North Bend. Mother and daughters are doing fine and the proud father is overjoyed at his good luck yesterday, being presented with the city treasurer by the voters and twins by his wife. They had one son.

Meet Tomorrow—The postponed meeting of the Fire Department will be held tomorrow evening.

Meet Friday—The ladies of the Eastern Star Past Worthy Association will meet next Friday, Dec. 20, at the home of Mrs. E. S. Barzell in South Marshfield for a Christmas Holiday exchange.

Leave Tomorrow—The following passengers are to leave on the Drain-Gardner stage tomorrow: H. W. Painter, C. B. Ellis, T. B. May, J. W. Dawkins, Mrs. H. Richard, Mrs. G. A. Geary and L. Marquis.

Capt. Snyder Here—Capt. Levi Snyder, a former well known Coos Bay mariner, is now captain of the Anvil, which will go on the Coos Bay-Gold Beach run. The Anvil is here today.

Hearing Today—W. G. Hunter and Wm. Smith, who were arrested the night before last by Officer Doane will have their hearing before Recorder Butler this afternoon. They were charged with using insulting language to an officer. They plan to fight the charge.

Is at Tacoma—Robert D. Hazen, a former well known Marshfield resident, writes friends here that he is now keeping books for a lumber company at Tacoma. He has purchased a ranch a short distance from Tacoma and will convert it into a fine orchard.

Fine Ranch—L. Hazelton of Catching Inlet is in town today on business. Mr. Hazelton says he and Mr. F. A. Sacchi are going to have the finest barn, milkhouse and dwelling house in the country. The barn is nearing completion, next comes the milk house which is the Sacchi-Hazelton hobby and lastly the residence.

New Mushroom—T. H. Barry of Empire brought to Charles Stauff a quantity of mushrooms. There was a peculiar variety in the lot which upon the investigation of Dr. Hayden proved to be the crustasia murana, recently discovered by Dr. Hayden. This is a rare and valuable species and in England is found in belts, which is proving to be the case here.

Boy Injured—Chas. Kronholm Jr., the eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kronholm of Fernside, received a bad fall this morning. He fell off of a shed striking on his head on a board sidewalk. He was unconscious for a time. No bones were broken, but the extent of his injuries cannot be ascertained for a time.

Slater Injured—W. A. Huckins, in charge of the new business department of the Oregon Power Co., fell and broke his arm while enjoying a spin on roller skates at the rink last night. The fracture is in his right wrist and is a bad one. He will be laid up for some time, but his many friends are hopeful that the injury will not leave any lasting ill effects.

Case Changed—The case of Geo. Witte vs. L. D. Kinney and others interested in the Kinney companies and pools will be heard by Judge Harris at Eugene about December 30. Judge Coke could not hear the case owing to having a personal interest in some of the property involved in the Kinney matter. Witte wants the W. J. Rust trusteeship terminated and another receivership instituted. Nell McLeod of North Bend represents Witte.

Fred Reed Located—Fred Reed, a son of C. L. Reed of Medford, who was being sought yesterday by Marshal Carter, in compliance with a message from the father, was located last night through The Times. E. C. Peachey, formerly of Medford, read the item in The Times and started to look up the young man. He found that Fred Reed was ill in North Bend and was being cared for by drivers for Gorst & King. He was not in dire want as had been indicated by the father's message. Young Reed walked in from Roseburg and the hard trip was too much for him.

Act Next Week—The Marshfield council met as a committee of the whole Monday night and informally discussed the purchase of an auto fire truck and chemical engine with members of the Fire Department and representatives of different makes of apparatus. Among those present were Mr. Plympton of the A. G. Long Co. of Portland and George Goodrum representing the other makes. No definite action was taken, but probably will be next Monday, at the regular meeting of the council. It is not unlikely that a committee may be sent to other cities to see the different kinds of apparatus working before the council decides to buy a machine.
