CLEVELAND, OHIO

You're Safe With This Guarantee —Insist on Getting It

WHEN the inside pocket of the next suit or overcoat you buy contains a Clothcraft Guarantee you are safe against any defect or disappointment in material or making.

The Clothcraft Guarantee absolutely assures all-wool cloth, honest tailoring, lasting shape, satisfactory wear and service.

The makers of Clothcraft Clothes—with their reputation of 66 years' good clothes making to maintain—could not give such a binding guarantee if the clothes did not measure up to it. Neither could we afford to back up the makers' guarantee—as we do—if these clothes did not fully justify our confidence in them.

There's sure satisfaction and a saving for you in Clothcraft Clothes at $10 to $25. They're bound to give you full one hundred cents' worth of insured value for every dollar you spend.

New Home—H. H. Harper is making arrangements to erect a new home in Bunker Hill, where he recently purchased two lots.

Goes to Coquille—George Goodrum today sent the new Ford auto, which he received yesterday, to Fred Slagle at Coquille, who will deliver it to a Ford customer there.

Camp Is Closed—The Smith-Powers Logging Co. has closed down operations at Camp 5 on Isthmus Inlet. Where it will be moved to has not been announced.

Dance at Libby—Elaborate preparations are being made for a dance at the hall at Libby, Saturday evening, January 4, 1913. The ladies will serve a big free supper.

Special Services—There will be no service in the Episcopal church tonight. The music sung on Christmas morning will be repeated Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Second Operation—Mrs. C. J. Mahoney of Florence, who was recently brought to Mercy hospital, underwent a second operation this morning and is reported to be getting along nicely.

Made Close Guess—Miss Gladys Richards made a close guess on the bean-pot at Sarters. Her guess was 5,034, and there were 5,041 beans in the bean pot. She was awarded the $10 box of candy.

Lost the Trail—C. W. Lake of Bandon, and three other men started from Roseburg on an overland hike before Christmas, to reach home for the holidays. They lost the trail and had a hard long trip.

Instal Tonight—Doric Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, and Blanco Lodge, A. F. & A. M., will unite in the installation of officers at the Masonic Temple, the ceremonies to be followed by a big banquet.

Sister Dead—Geo. A. Baines has received word of the death of his sister, Mrs. Louis Peterson, at El Verano, Calif. She had been sick for a long time and passed away December 23. Burial will be at El Verano.

Coming Here—Dr. J. T. McCormac in a letter from Berkeley announces that he will visit on the Bay soon after the first of the year. He is called here to look after some business, including their former home property on Market avenue, which Mrs. Browning and Miss Browning expect to vacate soon.

Will Locate in Marshfield—E. D. Curtis of Myrtle Point, brother of Postmaster W. B. Curtis, has decided to locate in Marshfield, and finding houses scarce, determined to buy and build a home of his own. He has purchased three lots in First Addition to Marshfield and will build a residence thereon.

Annoying Children—Persons in from Libby today state that some unknown stranger has been annoying the little girls at Libby the past few days. He is said to be a young man and it is thought may be the same party that has been annoying the children in Marshfield, but was supposed to have left the country.

Heavy Mail—Postmaster Curtis reports that the Christmas business handled in the Marshfield postoffice this year was far the largest in its history. He was allowed some additional help, but even then the force was kept busier than busy. He has not been apprised yet whether he will be allowed additional help to handle the additional business, which the parcels post will mean.

Camps Open Monday—The Smith-Powers logging camps which closed down last Monday night for a week's vacation for the holidays, will resume operations next Monday morning. Chauncey Clarke, timekeeper at Camp 1 on South Coos River, is down to spend Christmas with his folks in North Marshfield. Frank Wilson, formerly of Camp 7 is now foreman at Camp 1, having succeeded Matt Phelan, who went to Salem.

Mill to Resume—The C. A. Smith mills which have been shut down for the Christmas holidays will resume operations Monday morning. Considerable of the accumulation of lumber there has been removed by several vessels this week.

Practical Joker Busy—Some practical joker has been busy since the arrival of the Santa Claus ships telephoning various parties that there were packages for them at the express office. The parties called promptly only to be disappointed and informed that no message had been sent from that office. Several visions of Christmas presents have been dispelled as a result of the joker's work.

Quiter Club Banquet—Pig and poetry apple sauce, speeches and songs, toasts and talks, all mingled in a melange of merriment at the first annual banquet of the Quiter club last evening at the club rooms in the rear of Howard's cigar store. All the happy participants are a unit in declaring it one of the most brilliant banquets and best "big feeds" ever pulled off on Coos Bay. A score of good fellows gathered at the festal board and merry jest and story interspersed with good songs by the quartet made the occasion memorable. J. W. Bennett delivered a number of his addresses during the evening that enlivened the event.

Travels 6,000 Miles—Everet Nymanover, the well known music man, returned yesterday on the Breakwater from Alaska, where he went three months ago. During the time he has travelled over 6,000 miles. He declares that Alaska has been cursed by nature as a lesson to the rest of the world. "The attempt to settle Alaska has hitherto been a failure," he said, "just on that account. However, the right process to change that nature might be found. The many volcanoes and the electricity generated is changing the surrounding ocean waters and is making them some warmer, and forebodes a change for the better. Already the water around Kadian Island is eight degrees warmer than it was before the Katmai volcano eruption, recently."

MRS. SARAH WILSON, who has been absent from the Bay about two months, returned on the Speedwell Wednesday night from San Francisco. Miss Spence Wilson, who is much improved in health, is visiting in Oakland and will not return home this winter.

Mr. VAUNIER, an apple orchardist, from Hood River, is on Coos Bay investigating its possibilities as a fruit section. Mr. Ziegler, who was a fellow passenger with Mr. Vaunier, says that he saw some of the products of Mr. Vaunier's orchard at the Aitoria stores, and they were among the finest apples he has ever seen.

J. B. ZIEGLER returned on the Breakwater yesterday from a business trip to Portland and The Dalles. He says that the Coos Bay people who are kicking on the weather ought to get a taste of the wintry blizzards which Eastern Oregon is experiencing, and they would forever hold their peace.

SHERIFF W. W. GAGE is here from Coquille. He and Tom Hall made a trip to Cooston on business this morning. When they got ready to start, a woman on the wharf who wanted to go to Coos City thought they were going to her destination and got into the launch. When they turned north in the Bay, she made a protest and was brought back.

GEORGE BAINES and wife and children returned yesterday from an extended visit at various California points. Mr. Baines says his brother, "Senator Jim," is feeling fine and is planning to return to the Bay in the near future. He says that "Senator Jim" was highly elated when he heard that the C. A. Smith Co. was taking up the tramway that he had been fighting for a long time.

W. F. McELDOWNY, of the Reynolds Development Co., is home from California, for a holiday visit with his family. He returned by way of Myrtle Point, coming in with the Christmas mail stage, being the only passenger with a large load of Santa Claus packages, and Mrs. McEldowny and the children are convinced that the most valuable Xmas package in the bunch was W. F. himself. After a week's stay at home he will return to San Francisco.
