OSTED BY REBELS.
 The Bandon Recorder says: J. L. Pierce has returned from Mexico and is visiting friends in Bandon. Mr. Pierce reports a lively time down in war ridden Mexico. He had a general store, 150 miles south of Vera Cruz and says the whole country became infested by bandits who subsisted by robbery and spoliation.

Mr. Pierce hung to his property and struggled against increasing dangers until he was forced to flee for his life, being given just three days to get away. Everything in the shape of property was lost.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM

The Times will be pleased to publish letters from its readers on all questions of public interest. Each letter must be signed by the writer, and so far as possible be limited to 200 words. In publishing these letters it must be understood that The Times does not endorse the views expressed therein; it is simply affording a means for the voicing of different opinions on all questions affecting the public welfare.

Law Which Should Be Passed in the Next Legislature.

Editor Times:
 We should have a law regulating the transfer of real estate which compelled the actual consideration to be named in the deed; a sworn statement in the acknowledgment of such consideration would do more to settle the tax troubles than all else we could do. It would also give a base of values from which all could keep posted on the market price. In some instances it would depress values and injure individuals. We should have all such conditions beneficial to our county which will cause its general development.

WHAT IS POINSETTIA?

Editor Times:
 Can any of you tell us what relation the poinsettia blossom bears to Christmas?
 I have heard the question asked repeatedly.

I know what they have meant to me at this time when they have figured so largely in decoration of church and home. The wonderful star in the East pointed to the birth of the Savior and King, there in the brown, bare stable. So at this season, from out the brown stem of the branch, bursts unheralded, the blood red star, king of the season's blossoms, its shape calling to mind the wondrous star of old; in color reminding us of the shed blood for the world's redemption. Warm, glowing, immensely valuable, blooming at Christmas time, a real flower, does it not remind one of the heart and spirit of the Christ life so hard for many to get and keep fresh in their lives, but, once attained, brings such joyous comfort?
