At a meeting of the committee in charge of the project for constructing a road from North Bend and Cooston to Allegany, D. D. Brainard and Geo. Cantine were requested to go over the route and see if the cost cannot be reduced by changing the route some. It is believed that it can be reduced nearly $15,000 by narrowing the road from 16 to 10 feet and changing the course a little. It is likely that the county court or Port of Coos Bay will be asked to furnish a bucket dredge to aid in the work, the latter also being available for clearing the channel besides throwing up a dike, which can be used for the road part of the way.

R. A. Bock about January 15 will open a new meat market on Virginia avenue and he is installing the fixtures, a feature of which will be a freezing plant.

P. A. McNabb of Eastside is reported to be contesting the homestead of W. E. Covey on Willanah Inlet on the ground that the latter has not done the required amount of cultivation. This makes four contests on homestead near Cooston and much bitter feeling has resulted.

VICE CRUSADE IN ROSE CITY

SPECIAL COMMITTEE MAKES REPORT ON FINDINGS OF RECENT INVESTIGATION IN PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, Jan. 3.—Dealing with the legal and police aspects of the social evil in Portland, the vice commission has filed its third report, and in summing up, the commission finds much at fault; discovers there is a lack of co-operation between the police and the courts; that the present system is such that it amounts to licensing the evil. The commission recommends that a morals court be created by the legislature, where all offenders against morals be dealt with, the moral court to be along lines of the juvenile court. Weakness of the civil service in the police department is indicated; the slipshod methods of keeping records in the municipal court, the lack of rule or reason in imposing fines and the apparent hunting for the victims of the social evil rather than the "higher ups" and the men, are dealt with in unminced words. "No combination of the law, the courts and the police," says the report, "ever can drive the social evil from a city of 200,000 inhabitants, but an intelligent and active determination to enforce the laws can do much to make the business of vice both hazardous and unprofitable. To this end the laws should be simple and comprehensive, the courts efficient, and the police intelligently active in administration and execution."

SAYS THE GRIP IS SERIOUS

Physician Thinks There Should Be More Care in Disinfecting.

"The sooner we realize that la grippe is a foe worthy of our steel and not to be despised, the better. La grippe patients should be isolated. The hands of a patient, dishes used, cloths (especially kerchiefs) should be carefully disinfected. Patients should be careful to catch nasal discharge and sputum in handkerchiefs or cloths. No food which has been in a patient's room should be eaten by any one else. No la grippe patient should be kissed by any one, and the room should be fumigated with formaldehyde candles on the patient's recovery," remarked a Marshfield physician today to the Times.

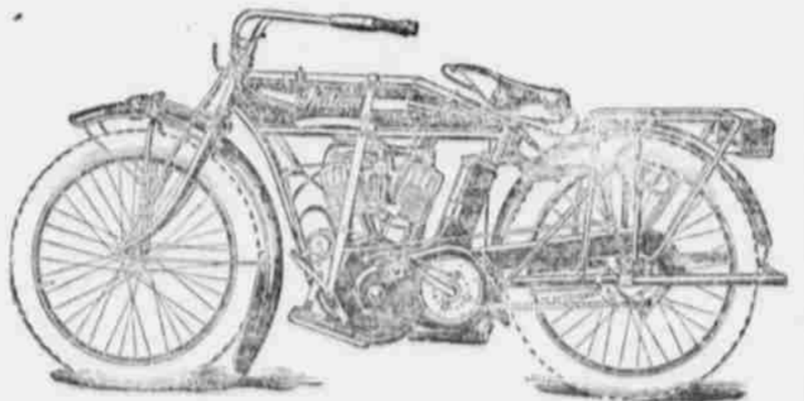

"Grippe is a good name for influenza, for it gets a grip on one in the autumn and has a pretty good hold along in the spring," he continued. "We do not quarantine for grippe, and the patient seldom observes the rudiments of precaution. La grippe is one of our most highly contagious diseases and causes annually from 10,000 to 12,000 deaths in the United States. In 1907 it caused 20,000. Right now it is grippe season, and we are having considerable of it here in Marshfield.

"La grippe is the result of a bacillus found in sputum and nasal mucus. The bacillus grows in the mouth as well as bronchial tubes, and diseased tonsils make a very fertile breeding place for the germ to develop and linger. Grippe germs will at times remain in the crypts and follicles of the tonsil as well as in the mucus membrane of the nose and air tubes very much like diphtheria, and are spread in the same way as are the germs of consumption and pneumonia.

"The grippe germ produces a poison which weakens and depresses the body. It also attacks the nervous system, resulting in physical infirmities that years of care fail to eradicate. It is held by competent medical observers that la grippe is a sort of advance agent for pneumonia, ear and eye troubles, and occasionally takes a rap at the stomach and kidneys, often disabling them permanently.

The 1913 Indian Motorcycle Is a Winner

Heretofore, we have handled the Indian and Harley Davidson Motor Cycles but after careful consideration we decided to concentrate our efforts and handle one machine exclusively. After considering the merits of the different machines, we decided that "The Indian" is the machine best suited to this section and will give greatest satisfaction to purchasers at a lower figure than the higher priced machines.

Hub Clothing and Shoe Co.

Where Money Talks

What you get when you buy clothing and shoes at the Hub—

Lower Prices

In these two little words lies the story of Hub success.

Lower Prices Here Because Lower Cost

All Hub merchandise is bought by us direct from the manufacturers. We pay no profit to the middleman. We buy for cash, which means that we buy at the lowest prices.

In buying for cash we not only get every discount, but have our pick of the choicest merchandise.

Lower Prices at Hub Stores Because Less Profit

We are content with less profit on each sale—that is business.

For every Hub sale means a Hub friend, which in time means more Hub sales.

We do business for cash.

When you buy clothing from us, you pay for the clothing—you don't pay a part of some one else's bad debt.

Hub Responsibility

Your protection lies solely in the proven responsibility of the house from which you buy. We absolutely stand behind every piece of merchandise that we sell, no matter how large or small the sale may be.

People tell us that Hub Clothing is stronger—better made—than most of the clothing they see.

To Sum It All Up

We expect your patronage on the merits of our merchandise and the manner in which we do business. This should appeal to you—the same as it does to us.

"Money Talks."

ASKS $10,000 ALIMONY.

ELDORA, Jan. 3.—One of the cases that promises to be interesting which is filed for the January of court is that wherein Mrs. M. Mossman sues Arch Mossman for divorce and alimony in the sum of $10,000. The case is out of ordinary for several reasons.

The petition filed by Mrs. Mossman, of Eldora, and Arch Mossman, of Omaha, were married Oct. 7, 1911, and up to November 1912, they lived together as man and wife. That the defendant is 25 years of age and the plaintiff 24 years younger. The grounds for divorce are on several counts, which are moroseness of disposition, jealousy of plaintiff on the part of the defendant and that the defendant refuses necessary spending money.

Attached to the petition is an agreement in the shape of anti-divorce agreement. In this agreement unimportant items it is agreed between the parties that at the death of Arch Mossman, if the wife with him till his death, she shall receive the sum of $6,000 as her share in full of all rights of dower or estate. If he survives her, Mr. Mossman is likewise to share in her estate. This agreement was made Oct. 7, 1911, on day of marriage.

The marriage was the result of work of a matrimonial bureau. Mossman answering an advertisement made by the bride. About three years ago and Arch Mossman went to Omaha to fight the appeal, it was two years he succeeded in inducing Mrs. Mossman to marry him. Finally an agreement was arranged on marriage took place.

Mr. Mossman has been married before, his wife deceased. She was twice before married and has two divorced husbands. The plaintiff's childhood home in Grundy County and her name Watson. The papers in case allege that the defendant worth $30,000.
