

TELLS ABOUT ALBANY VISIT

Marshfield Committee Visits Council While Inspecting Fire Apparatus.

The Albany Democrat has the following concerning the visit of the Marshfield committee now inspecting fire apparatus at various towns:

Frank E. Allen, a former Albany councilman and groceryman, now of Marshfield, accompanied by John D. Goss, city attorney, and Dan B. Keating, fire chief of that city, visited the city council last evening. They are visiting the various towns and cities of the Willamette valley inspecting fire apparatus, with a view of purchasing an auto fire engine for their city.

Mr. Allen, who is now a member of the city council in Marshfield and an old friend of Mayor Gilbert, was invited by the chief executive of the city to make a few remarks during the council meeting last evening.

Mr. Allen said: "I am indeed glad to be back here again for a short stay and to see a few familiar faces here, especially Mayor Gilbert's. He certainly makes a dignified appearance in the chair. I am glad to note the prosperity here and the many wonderful changes that have been made here since I left Albany a few years ago. Your new buildings and paved streets are a credit to the city."

"We have our troubles in Marshfield just the same as you do in Albany toward getting improvements, but we manage to get them by hard work. I am glad to have had the privilege of addressing you and for becoming acquainted with you."

City Attorney Goss of Marshfield was called upon and said that he was glad to note the many improvements that had been made in Albany during the past few years. He said that when he visited Albany a few years ago he was not favorably impressed with the place but had now changed his views.

He told of the time when he first went to Marshfield, of the great activity on constructing a railroad to Coos Bay from Drain, and that at that time people predicted that Marshfield would become a city of 25,000 within a few years.

"However," said Mr. Goss, "all activity suddenly ceased and we are still waiting for the railroad, which we hope to see completed to Marshfield some day."

Mr. Keating was also called upon for a few remarks but declined to speak.

DENIES LINE SOUTH.

President Young of HHI Lines in Oregon Talks of Trip.

A Portland paper says:

"President J. H. Young of the HHI lines in Oregon returned yesterday from San Francisco, where, with his family, he passed the holidays visiting relatives and friends. Mr. Young denies that the HHI system is planning invasion of San Francisco by connecting up with the Western Pacific, as reported here during his absence, and says he was in San Francisco with no view in mind of making such arrangements.

"We are not planning to build into California or to build in any connection that would bring us into California," said Mr. Young. "There is absolutely no truth in the report that I was in San Francisco conferring with officials of the road there with that purpose in view. I was in California with my family for the holidays, and we traveled about, going as far south as San Diego."

NEW CANDIDATE OUT.

C. M. Collier of Grant County Wants to Be U. S. Marshal.

Hugh McLain of Marshfield has a new rival in his aspiration for appointment as United States marshal as is shown by the following from a Portland paper:

"Grant County's sheriff, Charles M. Collier, is being urged by a large number of eastern Oregon Democrats for appointment as United States Marshal under the Wilson administration. It is believed that one of the big federal offices will fall to the section west of the Cascades, and Collier's friends are putting forth especially vigorous efforts in his behalf."

NOTICE.

Commencing Tuesday, December 24, the Marshfield-Empire auto will leave Marshfield at 9:30 a. m. and 4:00 p. m. for Empire.

BIG GAIN IN POST OFFICE

Receipts in Marshfield During 1912 About 20 per cent Greater Than 1911.

The Marshfield postoffice last year had the biggest business in its history, the receipts showing an increase of about $3200, or about 20 per cent. Every three months or quarterly period showed a marked gain over the preceding year. Postmaster Curtis has just compiled a report showing the comparative business.

The new parcel post service is also expected to show a marked increase in the business here. It may not affect the cash receipts of the office so much as it will the business to be handled by the clerks as the number of incoming packages is expected to be greater than the outgoing. However, it will mean that many packages that hitherto have been shipped from here by express will go by mail, as the parcel post makes mail cheaper, in addition to being more rapid. So far, the postoffice has been doing a good business in the parcel post line.

A comparison of the receipts of the Marshfield postoffice by the quarterly periods of 1911 and 1912 is as follows:

Business 1911.
To March 31	$ 3760.02
To June 30	3476.63
To September 30	3729.49
To December 31	4518.42
Total for year	$15484.57
Business 1912.
To March 31	$ 4631.60
To June 30	4231.85
To Sept. 30	4315.68
To December 31	5461.47
Total for year	$18640.60

DIE FROM DIRTY MILK.

Thirty Thousand Deaths in America in One Year.

CORVALLIS, Jan. 10.—That there were 30,000 deaths from dirty milk in the United States last year was the statement made by Prof. T. D. Beckwith, head of the bacteriology department of the Oregon Agricultural College, in an address at Albany before the dairymen, butter and cheese manufacturers in convention there.

The two kinds of injurious changes in milk, he explained, are absorption of bad odors from the things that cattle eat, such as garbage, and from storage in dirty barns or unclean ice boxes and from contamination by germs.

"Natural milk always contains germs," said Prof. Beckwith, "without them milk would never spoil. The germs multiply rapidly, under ordinary conditions one germ makes two of itself every twenty minutes. There is no question that clean milk keeps better and is less likely to contain many germs."

"In Portland 103 babies died of bowel trouble in August and September, 1909, but in 1911 there were only 17 in those months, the decrease in infant mortality being due to greatly improved milk inspection."

Prof. Beckwith stated that he did not believe disease germs entered the milk through bad food eaten by the cow, as is often believed to be the cause. He spoke of odder diseases and their infection of the milk. An investigation at Cornell university discovered 40 germs in a single drop before it was taken from the udder.

"In 24 hours the cow gives off a million million disease germs," said the speaker. "The intestinal germs are manure germs, undesirable and even disease producers. They are present in the hair, the udder, and even the tail of the cow. A damp cloth should be used to wipe them off before milking. The Connecticut Experiment Station found that cows in this particular region had the number of germs two thirds."

"Another easy means of contaminating milk is by milking with hands and clothes dirty, especially by washing with fore milk. Covered milk pails reduce the danger of infection to about one-fourth since they reduce the surface open to dust to one-fourth. In the University of Wisconsin dairy school the covered pails were found to reduce the disease germs four-fifths to nine-tenths. In Portland less than 1 per cent of the milk supplied is taken from covered pails."

"Seamed pails are a menace, since it is difficult and almost impossible to keep them absolutely clean. The water in which they are scalded should be scalded hot at the time, not cooled at all. The pails should not be rinsed afterward with well water; 60 per cent of the wells in Portland are contaminated. The milk should be cooled as soon as possible, also as warm milk is to the germs what the incubator is to eggs."

In speaking of tuberculosis in milk, Prof. Beckwith insisted on the wording out of the tuberculosis cows, but stated his opinion that farmers should be recompensed by the state for losses of cows killed on this account until the herds are once cleaned up.

"The final remedy for most evils he declared, is co-operation following a civic awakening and education. These studies in the production of clean milk are not malleable, but result from carelessness and ignorance."

AKERS ENTERS GUILTY PLEA

Admits Robbery of the North Bend News Co.—Had But $22.60 Left from Haul.

Clint Akers, who was brought back on the Redondo from San Francisco yesterday on the charge of assisting Phil Lennon in the robbery of the North Bend News Company, entered a plea of guilty when arraigned before Justice Shuster in North Bend last evening. He was bound over to the grand jury and in default of $1,000 bail was taken to the county jail at Coquille this morning by Sheriff Gage.

Dick Lennon was also brought back with Akers and will be arraigned in Coquille today or tomorrow as an accomplice in the crime. However, both Akers and Phil Lennon maintain that Dick Lennon had nothing to do with the robbery and was simply given $25 by Phil Lennon without being told where the money came from. Lennon was also taken to Coquille today.

Akers told practically the same story of the robbery that Phil Lennon did in his confession. He had $22.70 left of the 150 which he claimed he got out of the robbery. His money went like that of his pal, principally to the North Bend "red light district."

Dick Lennon had about $30 on his person when he was arrested. In view of Akers' confession, Phil Lennon will probably be taken to the reform school at once unless the North Bend petitions for his parole during good behavior are granted.

INDIANS THE VICTIMS.

Interior Department Officials Accused of Knowledge of Fraud.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Sales of dressed beef to the Crow Indians with the knowledge of the Interior department officials was charged today by Mrs. Helen Pierce-Gray, an investigator, before the Senate Indian Affairs Committee hearing of Senator Townsend's resolution to direct the Interior department to send the Crow Indians records to the attorney general for investigation. Mrs. Gray declared that the dressed beef had benefited the Indians. Senator Townsend declared that if convinced that the gross frauds were perpetrated on the Indians that an investigation should be made.

STEEL TARIFF HEARING.

House Committee Begins Hearing Today.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The iron and steel schedule was taken up by the house ways and means committee, when it resumed hearings on the tariff revision. Two days will probably be devoted to these important sections. Many prominent steel men are ready to appear before the committee. The committee began today the practice of requiring all witnesses to testify under oath. The basis of the hearing today was the Underwood metal revision bill, passed, but vetoed during the last session of congress.

SLEEPING POWDER FATAL.

Paul Nash's Death Due to Heart Failure, Coroner Decides.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

LONDON, Jan. 10.—A verdict of "Death from heart failure" was returned by the coroner's inquest into the death of Paul Nash, United States consul general at Buda Pest, who was found dead here several days ago. He had taken a sleeping draught to combat insomnia and this possibly accelerated his death, but Nash's heart was in bad condition.

THREE PRESIDENTS WIVES TO DINE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The three "First Ladies of the Land" will dine at the White House tomorrow, when Mrs. Taft will entertain Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Mrs. Benj. Harrison. White House attaches say no records show that the wives of three presidents dined together before.

COAST HIGHWAY SOUGHT.

SALEM, Jan. 10.—To convert the ocean beach along the shores of Oregon into a public highway is one of the pieces of legislation which Governor West is contemplating giving his sanction before the next legislative assembly.

In many cases along the coast the beach is used as a highway, but in others it is cut off. It is possible to drive an auto or wagon for many hundreds of miles along the Oregon coast, and the coast furnishes a natural roadway which could be used to a much greater extent if it were to be converted into a state highway.

THREE WERE SAVED.

ASTORIA, Jan. 8.—(Delayed in transmission.)—On account of the continued gale and high seas the tugboat Onocenta was unable to reach the lightship at the entrance of the Columbia river, to take off the two survivors of the ill-fated Rosecrans and the crew of the Point Adams life saving station, who succeeded in reaching the lightship Tuesday night. The life saving crew had succeeded in rescuing three men, but one of them died of his injuries and exposure while being taken to the lightship and a third survivor, said to be Fred Peters, the quartermaster, represented the known list saved from the wreck.

Eric Lindmark, a carpenter on the Rosecrans is believed to be one of the men saved. Eight bodies were washed ashore at North Beach according to the reports received here. The Rosecrans is a total wreck. The financial loss will be $200,000.

WHITE CEDAR FOR ASTORIA

MANY ARRIVE ON REDONDO

Coos County Lumber to Be Used in Boat Building There.

The Alliance, which sailed at 11 o'clock today for Portland, took out a shipment of 20,000 feet of Port Orford white cedar from the C. A. Smith mill. The shipment went to an Astorian boat building firm and is to be used in the construction of some new crafts. The Port Orford white cedar is said to be the best lumber on the coast for boat building.

In addition to the white cedar, the Redondo took out a big shipment of excelsior from Bingham's South Inlet factory.

Among those sailing on the Alliance were the following:

M. S. Crossen Mrs. M. S. Crossen, L. S. Crossen, B. W. Crossen, J. L. Lamb, V. E. Crossen, E. H. Morgan, G. J. Armstrong, C. M. Johnson, H. Roll, E. J. Hoyman, Joe Brown, C. Erickson, M. Larsen, Ed Lungren, O. O. Danielson, W. H. McBrown, C. Kenny and W. Borstel.
