"BIG TIM" SULLIVAN IS COMMITTED TO AN ASYLUM

Prominent New York Politician Gives Way Under Strain.

Was Congressman-Elect from His District—Is in Yonkers Institution.

[By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.] NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—By reason of a court order it was learned today that Congressman-elect Timothy D. Sullivan, who has long been a prominent figure in New York legislation is to be formally committed to a private sanitarium in Yonkers.

Sullivan has long been known by the name of "Big Tim," and has dominated his district politically for many years.

The cause is a complete nervous breakdown.

The commitment seems to involve the probability of a special election for a congressman to succeed Sullivan in the Thirteenth district.

WRITES ABOUT THE TRIP EAST

McCormac Tells of Extraordinary Blizzards in the Rocky Mountains.

In a letter written while en route east, Dr. J. T. McCormac, who is a member of the Coos Bay delegation to Washington secure government aid in the reconstruction of the jet-ties, says:

"We have just left Cheyenne six hours late on account of a terrible Rocky Mountain blizzard. It was nearly degree below zero at Rawlins and sixteen below at Cheyenne. One of our brakemen had his face frozen and was left at Laramie. The temperature in the car was about 58 degrees, but since we left the summit we have been getting more heat in the train.

Travelmen say it is the worst blizzard they have known in twenty years. I have taken a number of photos to show the contrast in two days ride from California. The cold and desolation of this region is here and I wonder why people will choose it for a home when they can get so many better places on the Pacific Coast and elsewhere. When I tell people that we have a winter home at Berkeley, they usually remark that "Berkeley is a beautiful place for a home." So I know we have chosen well.

Mr. C. A. Smith keeps up his business while traveling by receiving and sending messages. We will reach Chicago Monday if there are no more delays. We are to meet Captain Macginn and D. C. Green at the Willard.

We are now dropping down the slope of the Rockies and there are many farms and small towns along the road. However, everything is covered with snow. We do not know yet how long we will be in Washington. I will go from there to New York and expect to return by the southern route."

MRS. GUGGENHEIM'S CASE ENDED DEADLOCK CONTINUES IN BALKAN PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

FORMER WIFE OF MILLIONAIRE MINING MAN FAILS TO HAVE HER DECREE ANNULLED—CLAIMED ERROR IN RESIDENCE.

[By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.] CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—The application of Mrs. Grace Brogn Guggenheim to have her divorce from William Guggenheim annulled was dismissed by Judge Heard here today for want of equity.

Mrs. Guggenheim based her application on the allegation that when she obtained her divorce she swore erroneously that she was a resident of Illinois. Grace Brown married the millionaire mining and smelting man in 1900 and the decree of divorce was entered the next year with alimony in the lump sum of $150,000. Since the divorce both parties to the suit have remarried.

EXPECT WORK ON COAST LINE

The Announcement Concerning S. P. Route to Eureka Is Expected.

According to apparently well founded gossip, definite announcement will be forthcoming within a very short time about the Southern Pacific's construction of the balance of the Coast line between Marshfield and Eureka, to connect up with Coos Bay and the Eugene line. This is expected to shortly follow the announcement that is expected concerning the starting of construction on the bridge across Coos Bay and of the work on this end of the Coos Bay-Eugene line.

The survey on the Coos Bay-Eureka line is being rushed and it may be that the first announcement concerning its construction will come in the shape of an announcement of the award of contracts for the work. That it will be this spring or summer is the firm belief of those who have been keeping close in touch with the project.

Whether the Southern Pacific will build the Coos Bay bridge itself or sublet the contract is not certain. It may be that contracts will be let for the construction of the approaches only and the pier and structural work done by the railroad itself.

Whether the MacArthur-Perks contract includes the lines in North Bend and on this side of the bridge is not definitely known.

Concerning the work on the Coast line survey, the Gold Beach Globe says:

"Chief Engineer Wolfrom and his corps of assistants, having finished the preliminary railroad survey of the proposed coast road as far as Rogue River, including a bridge site for the same, Friday last transferred their base of operations from Wedderburn to Gold Beach and from the station here will work through the southern end of Curry county and down the coast."

Wilsey Busy.

J. M. Eddy, right of way man for the Sumner roads, the Pacific Great Western, etc., which were later bought by the Southern Pacific, is back on the Bay. Mr. Eddy is sort of a confidential agent of W. J. Wilsey, the instigator of the Sumner projects, and is supposed to be looking after Wilsey's holdings here. Wilsey on his visit here last summer promised big things to Coos Bay and North Bend, but it is understood that Mr. Wilsey and his syndicate are now operating at Woolley Port, near Crescent City. H. C. Diers has been doing some work here for Wilsey, who secured about $100,000 worth of North Bend property from the Simpson Lumber Company and others last spring, when the two railroad projects were being considered.

STONER'S CASE CAUSES TALK

LIGHT CHARGE AGAINST MAN ACCUSED OF SEVERE OFFENSE AROUSES COMMENT STATEMENT BY MRS. BLANCHFIELD.

The case of A. Stoner, who was released late yesterday on a $25 cash bond on the charge of disorderly conduct is causing much comment today. Stoner was arrested the night before last by Marshal Sarter for entering the home of Mrs. Wm. Blanchfield and threatening her with a revolver.

After the announcement by Tom Bennett yesterday that Mrs. Blanchfield would not prosecute Stoner, Marshal Carter decided to file charges against Stoner as severe as he could. After consulting Acting City Attorney Kendall, he found that disorderly conduct was the most severe charge he could make. This he filed and when Stoner was arraigned yesterday, Tom Bennett asked for time in which to plead and City Recorder Butler allowed him until Monday at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Blanchfield is said today to be considering filing charges against Stoner because of the feeling that his offense should not be passed over so light. Acting City Attorney Kendall was in Coquille today but did not get a chance to consult Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Liljeqvist about the matter. It was reported that Mr. Liljeqvist would be appealed to.

Marshal Carter said today that he did not know where Stoner was, the last he saw of him being when he was released on the $25 cash bail.

Mrs. Blanchfield's Statement. Today Mrs. Blanchfield made the following statement about the case:

"About 9:30 yesterday morning, Marshal Carter came to me and wanted me to appear at 10:30 or 11:00 at Justice Pennock's office to testify against Mr. Stoner, whom he had arrested for coming to my house and causing a disturbance and threatening me. I told him I would be there.

"Soon after Marshal Carter left, Tom Bennett and Mr. Holdiman came to my house and entered a plea for Mr. Stoner. They said he was drunk and didn't know what he did, that he had a wife and baby and that it would be hard on the latter if I prosecuted him. Finally I told them that if Stoner would leave town permanently, that I would not prosecute him. However, that if he did leave and come back, I would prosecute him then.

"Before making any statement to Mr. Bennett and Mr. Holdiman, I went to see Father Munro. They suggested that I do this and I thought it would be well to do so.

"There was a little error in the first accounts of Stoner's trip to my house. He had forced his way in and shut the door when I ordered him to open it. He refused and pulled a gun on me saying, 'You leave that door shut.' I replied, 'All right.' However, I made up my mind that my only chance to escape and get help was to get out the front door and watched for a chance to get by him while he was talking. I soon saw it and quickly pushing him aside I got out before he realized what I was doing.

"While I was frightened, I knew what I was doing and ran straight to E. C. Drews' home, calling for help. When I reached their porch, I saw him running away and called to the neighbors to catch him and I ran in and called up the police by telephone.

"I was not alone in my house, as

FEAR TO PRESS TURKEY TO CEDE ADRIANOPLE

Italian Ambassador Says Action Would Lead to Terrible Excesses.

[By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.] LONDON, Jan. 11.—There is no sign of loosening the deadlock in the Balkan situation yet in evidence. In the meantime, the world awaits the fall of the long beleaguered fortress of Adrianople, and is watching with close interest for the effect which the collective action to be handed to Turkey by the Ambassadors at Constantinople of the European powers will have on the Turkish government.

The Italian ambassador in London, who spent years in Constantinople, and knows Turkey well, declared today that if the powers were about to press Turkey to cede Adrianople, some concession would be necessary concerning the Aegean islands.

"Otherwise," he said, "the Ottomans in their despair would become like wild animals, capable of any excesses."

The Turkish delegates confirm the report that they will leave London next week for Constantinople. If the allies do not change their minds. One of the Turkish envoys said: "We are glad that Europe has now learned what sort of swine these Balkan people are. We know them of old."
