

LS ABOUT KNORR'S CASE

GER LEACH OF THE MACLEY ESTATE ANSWERS THE ACCUSATIONS OF GOLD BEACH AND CURRY COUNTY CONVENTIONS.

Times is in receipt of a letter from Wedderburn which gives a different view of the case of the people of Gold Beach and Curry county with the estate than was given by Knorr in an interview here. In Mr. Knorr's writup, stated that the Macleay estate charged $1.50 a ton wharfage for Wedderburn when it should have been that the charge was made at Orford. Mr. Knorr later stated in a statement in the Times that the following is the statement from Wedderburn:

N. A. Leach of the Estate Co. in an interview with the Times correspondent here says that he is very much surprised at the statements made at the statements made at Knorr to a Times reporter at Marshfield, December 31. Mr. Leach says the Gold Beach people charged at the Macleay Estate that they are charging $1.50 wharfage for every ton of that goes over the Wedderburn. The facts in the case of the Macleay Estate Co. has charged the merchants of Gold Beach (Mr. Knorr included) with wharfage. They not only charged Mr. Knorr's freight charge, but advanced his money. The Anvil was in Portland to make a survey for the Macleay Estate, but as the merchants of Gold Beach were badly in need of all kinds, they consented to the various merchants to pay half of the cargo. Mr. Leach did not go to a cent of expense in making the arrangements for the Anvil, and he should have a favor to have his money at a time like this is almost impossible to handle in at all. As to the charges, he paid exact same rate as the Macleay Estate, as all the dealers shared so far as the freight rate concerned.

Knorr further states, "The Gold Beach and Curry county are generally opposed to the Rogue river to seining. In this connection is erroneous as about the and freight charges. Mr. Leach has been a resident of Curry county a month. If he would have the county a little or home papers, the Port and Gold Beach editors were both Curry county and have traveled over every part of the county, he would know more of a real sentiment of the section. Outside of this people, a good portion are interested in non-residing companies, the people of Curry county favor opening the river to seining. Mr. Leach of the Macleay Estate Co. over $120,000 here in the and development of the purchasing the Hume and if Rogue river is they are planning other and improvements. They own two fish hatcheries of which they expect to their own expense, the lease to the government no rental. As to the charge, Mr. Leach says company has arranged to spring $900 to $900 and in small tracts on the, and that they are develop Curry county in the way, but that they pay such men as Mr. Leach after receiving his wharfage free, with a barge across the river free of such false statements had published in the Times December 31."

The Parcel Post

—BY—BOB STANLEY.

No longer will Addie be held up by laddie who brings down the new silken dress. She's got a new system by which she can twist 'em. She gets nothing now by express. She sends for a bonnet with ribbons upon it, by card, to a mail order house, and likewise addresses a card for her dresses, her stockings, her shoes, and her blouse. She writes for her jewels, and paper renewals. She writes for the rat for her hair. She sends for her powder, her pencils, and chowder, and buys her new goods ev'rywhere. And, when they're delivered, not broken or silvered, she's not made an unwilling host of saucy young fellow in braid golden yellow. She uses the new parcel post.

Oh, good Uncle Sammy, with smile that is bammy, we drink you a long, hearty toast. In this last endeavor, we think you were clever. Here's one to your new parcel post.

BANDON JETTY DANGER.

Channel at Mouth of Coquille River May Be Changed.

The Bandon Recorder says: "Unless something is done quickly there is great danger of the breakers of the Pacific washing through on the north side of the north jetty and cutting a new channel at the mouth of the Coquille river that will greatly obstruct navigation. For the past two years the beach at this place has been gradually changing as the breakers beat against it and slowly but surely washed the sand and drift away until now with a big tide and rough sea there is danger that the water will wash clear over and strike the river channel to the north and east of the light house, in fact this has already occurred on the big tides of the mornings of January 1st and 2nd, and a few more such storms may and in all probability will have the effect of cutting through so that the channel will be partially changed, at least, and thus lower the water on the bar to an extent that it will greatly hamper shipping facilities.

"The one thing to do is to build a wing from the north jetty, extending northward about 100 or 150 yards, thus checking the force of the breakers."

WHOSE MOTTO IS

AD OMNIA PARATUS

Which means—prepared for everything. Are you prepared?

If you are, you can at least audit a set of books, write legible shorthand rapidly and skillfully use a typewriter. You are a good penman, rapid and accurate at figures; you can write a telling, business-getting letter in good English. You know how to use a Barroughs adding machine, a writerpress, multigraph or neotype. You can operate a letter copying press, a filing and indexing cabinet. You understand the dictaphone, the tabulator, adding, subtracting, billing typewriter and other modern office appliances that multiply a busy man's time, power and efficiency. You can make out checks, notes, drafts, deeds, mortgages, liens, power of attorney, bill of sale. You can write an agreement that will hold, etc., etc.

If you can not do most of these things, all of which will be taught in both our day and night school, your hope to win is unfair to yourself. It is the most expensive hope you could possibly entertain, and it will keep you hopelessly lashed to mediocrity for years. No matter how much you bank on rainbows and wait for some favorable breeze to waft you to harbor, every trained boy and girl will draw rings around you as they pass you on the road, UNLESS YOU PREPARE.
