arrived on the Bay and will locate here. Mr. Todd was long engaged in the tailoring business at Rialto and will engage in business in Marshfield. Since disposing of his business at Rialto, they have traveled extensively and have chosen Marshfield as their future home. He comes highly recommended.

Masonic Meeting—There will be a meeting of Blanco Lodge A. F. and A. M. Thursday, Jan. 16th at which the Fellowcraft Degree will be conferred. All sojourning Masons are cordially invited to attend.

Meet Next Week—The Royal Auction Bridge Club will meet next Tuesday with Mrs. F. K. Gettins instead of today, an error in the dates having been made in the previous announcement.

Storm Damage—Mrs. G. M. Bailey is in Marshfield today from her home near Cooston. Mrs. Bailey says that the Chunk, which destroyed their cabin during a recent storm, also did other damage destroying a young orchard, recently planted. Mr. Bailey is now rebuilding the cabin and fences.

Recovers Lost Beads—"The Coos Bay Times is alright," exclaimed a lady today, who was another happy recipient of an article obtained thru an ad, which had been given up for lost. A few days ago, Mrs. Jack Swanson advertised for a chain of carved rose beads which had been lost by her little sister. She immediately thought of a Times lost ad and sure enough the want ad recovered them, Hilda Fredrickson, who found them, bringing them to the Times. When she left them, Miss Fredrickson left some of her mail at the Times office, which is being held for her.

Bad Insurance Man—Two well known Marshfield insurance agents are today mourning "advances" to an insurance solicitor named Sin Clair, who tried to get jobs from them. Sin Clair came here to sell securities he said, but found the market poor and was out of money. He said that he was a former insurance solicitor and showed some letters of recommendation. He agreed at different times to work for each of them and from one got $5 and the other $2 and a set of insurance rate books. He never showed up again at either office. Whether he is now out soliciting insurance or not, but a close watch is being kept for him.

Rumor Wedding—A rumor is in general circulation that a well known Marshfield young man, formerly a prominent Marshfield High school athlete, is to be married the latter part of the week, the bride-to-be to arrive on the Breakwater. The rumor was denied by close friends, who said that some one had started the matter merely as a joke.
