MEXICAN CONSUL FLEES FROM EL PASO TO AVOID ARREST

Charged With Violation of the United States Neutrality Laws.

AMERICAN OFFICIALS ARE INVOLVED IN SCANDAL

Charged With Being in Collusion With the Madero Government.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 6.—Enrique Lorente, the Mexican consul at El Paso is accused of conspiracy to furnish munitions of war from the United States to Mexico in a federal warrant issued here. Lorente is supposed to be in Juarez.

WARRANT FOR CONSUL

Escapes Across the Line Before Being Arrested.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 6.—The warrant against Lorente was issued on a complaint of Robert H. G. McDonald, who charged that on June 1912, the Mexican consul furnished money to him and two companions with which to purchase arms for the use of the federals. McDonald and his two companions were arrested as a result of an alleged transaction and were held on charges of violating the neutrality laws. The charges also include Alberto Madero, uncle of the late president, now in Chihuahua, and he is mentioned in the warrant. The warrant for Lorente, who is in Juarez, has not yet been served. Commissioner Oliver, upon learning of the failure to serve the warrant, last night before Lorente crossed the line, laid the blame upon the United States marshal's office and he appointed a special officer to make the arrest.

On His Way to Mexico City.

JUAREZ, Feb. 6.—Lorente said today that he would not return to El Paso, but would proceed to Mexico City. He admitted he employed three Americans to destroy the Mexican Central railway as charged, but says he warned them not to violate the United States neutrality laws. Lorente intimated that he might return to El Paso later to answer the charges.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Charges that the American officials in El Paso were "at the beck and call of the Madero government," were made before the House foreign affairs committee today by A. R. Burgess of El Paso, an attorney for several claimants for damages growing out of the border troubles. He alleged that Assistant United States Attorney Englekling had a "sub rosa" agreement with the Mexican consul to allow the claim of but one woman. Burgess was advised to present his allegations to the Department of Justice. The committee is considering a bill to pay $250,000 in claims to Americans. The bill is urged on the idea that this government shall demand reimbursement from Mexico.

REPUBLICANS CONTINUE FIGHT TO FORCE CONFIRMATION OF TAFT NOMINATION.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—In the senate, Senator Borah of Idaho gave notice that he would ask consideration, Friday, of the house bill to create a department of labor. James H. Brady of Idaho was sworn in to succeed Senator Perky. Republicans in caucus decided to continue the fight for the confirmation of the Taft nominations, without discrimination and forced an executive session for their consideration.

In the House, they disagreed to the senate amendment to the Levar agricultural extension bill and asked the senate for a conference. Commissioner Campbell informed the treasury department expenditures committee that the oelomargarine manufacturers had evaded taxes amounting to $1,200,000.

Practically every blacksmith in the valley attended the meeting. The schedule of prices is as follows: For shoeing, sizes 0, 1 and 2, $1.50; sizes 3 and 4, $2; sizes 5 and 6, $2.50; Re-setting sizes 0, 1 and 2, $1.50; sizes 3 and 4, $1.25; sizes 5 and 6, $1.50.

The advance in prices is made necessary, it is stated, by the increase in the cost of nails and iron.

TAFT'S VIEWS ABOUT ALASKA

Wants Government to Build Two Roads from Coast—Operate Under Lease.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Alaska's vast resources can be best brought out within the reach of the world in the opinion of President Taft by the construction with government assistance of two railway lines from the Alaskan coast to the interior. The ownership of which shall be in the government, but which shall be operated by private parties under lease. In a special message to congress transmitting the report of the Alaskan Railway Commission, the president strongly urged today, legislation along these lines, asking the government to either guarantee the principal and interest of the bonds necessary to construct the roads, or build them. "I am very much opposed to government operation, but I believe that government ownership with private operation under a lease is the proper solution," wrote the president.

GRAFT NET IS NOW FASTENED

Sick Police Officer in New York Makes Startling Confession.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The trail of the police graft upon which District Attorney Whitman set out last summer, is declared by him today to have emerged into an open road leading to the men "higher up." Through a remarkable confession which Police Captain Thomas W. Walsh made to the district attorney last night, which will be repeated to the grand jury, indictments will be sought against several officials. If obtained these indictments will be the most important developments in the exposure of the "system" since the city was aroused to the alliance of its police with gambling and vice by the murder of a "squealing gambler" at the instigation of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker last July. Walsh's confession was made on his sick bed. Walsh admitted taking vice graft to the extent of perhaps $100,000 in a single precinct. Half of this was turned over to the "higher ups."

FIRE IN NORTH BEND IS SMALL

Chimney Burns Out and Starts Small Blaze in Gem Saloon Building There.

Fire starting from the chimney burning out last night threatened the old Gem Saloon building in North Bend with destruction. However, it was discovered before it had gained much headway and was extinguished by a few pails of water. The walls near the chimney were slightly damaged. The building was formerly occupied by Jay Wilcox's resort and is now conducted by a woman named Lucile Parker.

A. Smith Company, which is scheduled to arrive here on or before February 15. No word has been received from Captain Olson, who is bringing the vessel here from Newport News, since he put in at the port just on the Pacific side of Cape Horn. He is making the run here direct.

WANT BURR AT MYRTLE POINT RANDALL CASE GOES TO JURY

Prominent Railroad Contractor or Charged With Larceny; Trouble with Workmen.

(Special to The Times) MYRTLE POINT, Ore., Feb. 6.—P. L. Burr, of Willmet and Burr, contractors of the Smith-Powers line, is wanted here on a warrant charging him with larceny. An attempt was made to have Mr. Burr arrested by Constable Cox in Marshfield, but the officials here did not know that the man named in the warrant was the prominent railroad contractor, and they gave Mr. Cox the wrong clue. As a result of the delay, Mr. Burr left on the Nann Smith for San Francisco before the warrant could be served.

The warrant results from some trouble on the line. John Wall, a sub-contractor, had some trouble with another sub-contractor, named Riggs, and was ordered to leave. He refused and then Mr. Burr, it is charged, had his tents, etc., confiscated. Riggs is on trial here today before Justice Dodge, and whether Mr. Burr will be sent for depends on the outcome of the present suit.

PORTER HELPS SEARCH.

Railroad Contractor Gives Up Hope of Finding Bruhn's Body. The Eugene Guard says: "J. H. Porter of Porter Bros. contractors, returned to Eugene from the Siuslaw, after an unsuccessful search for the body of Dan Bruhn, general superintendent of the Porter Bros. Construction Co., who was thrown from a barge on January 21 and beheaded. The river was dragged from one mile above Mapleton to Florence, every means having been used to find the body. Mr. Porter is doubtful regarding the possibility of finding the body. It is his idea that the body lodged in some of the holes or snags in the bottom of the river."

BEACH TELLS CRIME STORY

Accused Millionaire Broker Tells of Assault on Wife at Today's Trial.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) AIKEN, S. C., Feb. 6.—Frederick O. Beach took the witness stand in his own defense today in the case in which he is charged with assaulting his wife with murderous intent. He related the circumstances of the experiences on the night of February 26, 1912, when he with his wife and guest heard a scream near their home. Later his wife went to put the dogs in the kennel. Shortly afterward he heard her scream and went to investigate. He thought the first scream had been from quarreling negroes and that when his wife screamed, he went to the rescue. A negro fled from the scene and he found his wife wounded and gave her some attention. Then he got his revolver and went in search of the assailant, and to telephone for doctors. Returning, he found the door closed, and before it was opened, he announced to those inside, "It's me, Beach, let me in." This is the statement that has been used against him by the prosecution, other witnesses giving it a different apparent meaning. Mrs. Beach may be called to the stand.

PATENT VALVE IS SMASHED

Unknown Miscreants Make Attack on Bradshaw and Kimball.

Today one of the most dastardly tricks that has been perpetrated in Marshfield in a long time was discovered today at the shops of the Bradshaw-Kimball Company on North Front street. A patent rotary valve, which had just been completed, was jerked from the exhibition engine and pounded to pieces. As to who did it and what their motive was is a mystery to Mr. Bradshaw and Mr. Kimball. The possibility of gasoline engine makers who feared the revolution that the engine would make in the industry has been suggested as an explanation. The valve was patented some time ago and is a big improvement on the present type of engines, making practically a noiseless engine. A patent, not as good as the one that Mr. Bradshaw has perfected, recently sold for $150,000. It is believed that the deed was perpetrated last night, although it might have occurred the night before. The party who did it evidently knew the vital part, because he pulled the valve out and must have put it on an anvil and hit it with a hammer, smashing it to pieces. It will take at least sixty days in which to replace the broken rotary valve. Mr. Bradshaw had recently received some fine offers for the patent and was planning to exhibit this engine now.
